

Cavel Methodists Plan For New Church S. S. Building

Sunday School Plans Announced Yesterday At Dedication of Church.

Dedication of Ca-Vel Community Methodist Church, an event long delayed because of the illness of Bishop W. W. Peele, of Richmond, Va., occurred yesterday morning at eleven o'clock, with Dr. J. M. Ormond, of Duke University Divinity School faculty, Durham, as speaker.

Leaders in the dedication ceremony conducted by the Rev. Dr. Ormond were Willie Lawrence Clayton, chairman of the board of trustees for the church and Jim Spake, treasurer. Pastor of the church is the Rev. Alvin C. Young, who presided and introduced the speaker.

Announced yesterday were plans to begin a campaign for building a second unit, of which Jack Satterfield is chairman, have set as their goal the raising of $4,000 for this purpose to be contributed within the next conference year.

Members of the Society of Christian Service, with Mrs. Luther Whitte as chairman, are seeking to raise $500 for the new unit within the year.

Dr. Ormond, who in his address drove sharply home the responsibilities of church members in preserving peace in what he characterized as the "Atomic Bomb Age," said that dedication of Ca-Vel Community Methodist Church gave him particular pleasure because the new church here is one of 542 rural Methodist churches constructed in the Carolinas with the aid of the Duke Endowment, an agency with which he is connected.

The atomic bomb, according to Dr. Ormond, is a power planted by God in the universe, but what happens now depends on what we do with this newly discovered power.

The speaker said further that the United States, now regarded as the most powerful nation, can become the most hated, or the most loved nation in the world, depending on what use is made of power.

Immediately after the completion of the dedication ritual dinner was served on the grounds, with the invocation by the Rev. Dr. Ormond. Food was placed on long tables on the rear lawn of the church.

Other pastors of Cavel Methodist church have been four young men, the Rev. T. Marvin Vick, Jr., now a chaplain in the United States army, Rev. R. W. Rainwater, Jr., also now a chaplain, Rev. W. T. Medlin, Jr., and Rev. J. R. Joly. The church was formed during the stay of the Rev. Mr. Vick and first meetings were held in a school house jointly used for the same purpose by Baptists.

Present District Superintendent is Dr. H. C. Smith, of Durham, who spoke here Friday at beginning of dedication services. In addition to Mr. Satterfield, chairman, other members of the Board of Stewards are, Espey Jones, Ray Johnson, Fank Williams, Jack Clayton, Jake Lane, John O'Brian, R. M. Powell, and James Spake. The Board also serves as the building committee. Trustees, in addition to Chairman Willie L. Clayton, are Thomas Curles and Mr. Spake.

The present church, of brick, with paneled walls, has been completed for some time, but the dedication was postponed because of the continued illness of the Rev. Dr. Peele, of Richmond, presiding bishop.

Report To Come On Pearl Harbor

Washington.—President Truman expects to receive soon from the Secretaries of War and Navy some recommendations regarding what should be done about the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Until then, he told an inquiring reporter at his news conference, he would not answer a question whether he favored the immediate and public trial of Army and Navy officers in command there at the time the Dec. 7, 1941 Japanese attack.

Scout Meeting

Person Scout District, postponed from last week, will meet this Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. All members are requested to attend the session, which will be in Roxboro Chamber of Commerce offices and is expected to be the last meeting attended by E. Pierce Bruce, of Reidsville, Cherokee Council executive, who recently resigned and will go to Georgia next month.

Public Schools To Start Work Early Wednesday Morning

Ralph McDonald Again Head Of Polio Campaign

Chapel Hill, Basil O'Connor, chairman of the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation, has appointed Dr. Ralph McDonald of Winston-Salem State chairman of the annual polio campaign for the fourth successive year, it was announced here today at State campaign headquarters.

In accepting the appointment, Dr. McDonald said plans for the campaign already are being mapped and that county quotas will be announced during the Fall.

He pointed out that contributions from North Carolina citizens last year set a new all-time high with a total of $501,700 as compared to $178,000 the previous year.

The people of North Carolina have always done their full part in the fight against infantile paralysis, and the need at this time is greater than ever before," Dr. McDonald said.

"We in North Carolina have benefited so far from the resources of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis that our 1946 drive will reflect our gratitude as well as our interest in helping others."

Person Man In Guard Of Honor For Many Leaders

First Lt. W. Cary Pulliam, Jr., a Co of Company M, 137th Infantry, 35th Division, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pulliam, of Olive Hill, who is expected home soon, shared with Company M in Guard of Honor duty during President Harry S. Truman's visit to Europe, it was reported today.

In the inspection party, in addition to President Truman, were Gen. George C. Marshall, Gen. Sumnerwell, Secretary of State James Byrnes, Secretary of War Henry Stimson and Gen. Eisenhower. Lt. Pulliam, an alumnus of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, has seen overseas service in both the Pacific and European theatres of war and is a veteran of three campaigns in Europe, where he was stationed in December, 1944.

Rev. Mr. Lane To Be At Olive Hill

The Rev. Daniel Lane, of Roxboro, Methodist minister for Concord, Oak Grove, Lee's Chapel and Warren's Grove churches, will be speaker at opening exercises at Olive Hill school Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, according to Mrs. Emory Wisnstead, principal. The school will open at 8:30 o'clock.

Blaze Destroys Negro Residence

Fire of undetermined origin this afternoon completely destroyed a four to five room Gallows Hill house said to have been owned by Lee Bradsher and occupied by James (Fathead) Smith, both Negroes. Smith an employe of Bumpass Service Center was on his way home to dinner at time the blaze started. The house was smoking when he got there. Alarm was answered by the Roxboro fire department.

A second cooperative shipment of lambs brought 100 Alleghany County farmers $11,019.44. Only about 45 percent of all American farms are dependent upon mechanical power alone.

More Meat

Eight thousand more pounds of meat may be available here this month, according to Victor Yarborough, a Person slaughtering, who said today that he has received from Washington an official permit to increase his slaughtering to that extent.

The if and when of more meat, however, appears to be dependent on the availability of local animals to slaughter, and there is still a definite shortage of meats here, both in local markets and in restaurants.

Cherry Appeals To Draft Boards To Stay On Job

Raleigh.—Governor Cherry said Saturday all trained Selective Service officials should remain at their posts until properly discharged, regardless of whether their personal opinion is against a continuance of the draft.

"We all," he said, "have the inherent American privilege to have our personal opinion and through proper channels we have the right to question the necessity for a continuance of the Selective Service under present conditions."

"However, it would seem proper and fitting that the trained Selective Service officials should continue in their respective positions until honorably discharged by the proper order of those in authority."

He added, "That is the procedure required of the members of the armed forces, and I sincerely hope it will be the present policy of the faithful and patriotic personnel of the North Carolina Selective Service System."

The Governor presumably referred to the Person County Draft Board, which resigned en masse last week in protest against the further induction of men into the armed forces.

Club Cuts Short Program Out Of Honor To Pass

Formal program of Roxboro Rotary club was omitted at the Thursday meeting because of the death of William Y. Pass, for many years a member of the club, who died early Thursday morning in Watts hospital after an illness lasting ten days.

Planned for this Thursday is a Rotary Information session, also at the Hotel Roxboro, with Dr. C. Sylvester Green, editor of the Durham Morning Herald and a past district governor of Rotary International, as one of the chief speakers. The session will begin at five o'clock in the afternoon and continue until eight o'clock that night. Program chairman is Floyd Peaden.

Selective Service Board Not Meeting

The new Person Selective Service Board composed of Dr. O. G. Davis, D. M. Cash and Haywood Bailey, has not yet had a meeting and will not have one until final approval of the selection of the Board comes from State headquarters, it was reported today. However, it is expected that when a meeting will be held the twenty-five boys supposed to have gone to Fort Bragg last Tuesday for pre-induction will have a new date assigned to them for leaving.

Passes Sentence On Wrong Man

Dallas, Texas.—It was the right court, the right charge was before the judge, and the sentence he pronounced was permissible within the law. Everything was in order, except.

The judge was passing a 99-year sentence on Normal Frazier Kitterman, 24, for assault instead of William Andrew Frazier, who was tried on the charge.

Kitterman thought the 99-year term was a little steep for the minor offense he had committed. When he asked the judge about it, the mistake was noticed and Kitterman was sent back to jail, while Frazier got the sentence and left for state prison.

L. E. McCormick Dies At Watts This Morning

Rites For Native Of Kentucky Will Be Held Here Tomorrow.

Louis Edward McCormick, 45, a native of Owensboro, Ky., but a resident of Roxboro since 1919, when he came here to become connected with Roxboro Cotton mills, died this morning at eight o'clock at Watts hospital, Durham, where he had been a patient since last Tuesday. He was ill for ten weeks. Death was attributed to complications.

He was a member of the Roman Catholic Church but rites will be held at Providence Baptist church, near Roxboro, Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock, by the Rev. J. N. Bowman, with interment in the church cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Maude Campbell McCormick, a daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Siffles, both of the home, North Main street, two brothers, James P. of Owensboro, Ky., and Paul, of Breeman, Ky., and a sister, Mrs. Irene Shelton, of Owensboro, Ky.

British Make New Usage Of Radar In Battle

An RAF Bomber Base, England.—The British Air Ministry today made known the workings of a highly effective form of radar called "oboe," which led bombers to targets in Germany on beams sent out from ground stations in England, and even told bombardiers when to release bombs.

These stations, it was disclosed, were able to "watch" planes along the entire route, in fog, storm or darkness, and were a major factor in blasting Adolf Hitler's war plants.

If the Krupp Armament works at Essen, Germany, was the target, a radar beam 17 feet wide would be aimed at the city from a ground station near Dover (that is believed to be one reason for so much German cross-Channel shelling of Dover). The beam would hit Essen right over the Krupp works. Just like an imaginary wire rope hanging in the sky with tips extending many miles outside the city on two sides.

Bombers would take off and make a beeline for Essen. Wherever they intercepted the beam automatic signals would start flashing and coded dots and dashes begin coming over the earphones. All a pilot has to do was turn squarely onto the beam and follow it to the target.

When he reached a certain point, so many seconds from the assigned target, he received a coded "release bombs" signal from the ground operator back in England.

When the pilot returned he could see his bomb run recorded in black and white on a graph made by an electrical instrument similar to weather graphing machines.

Sugar Stamp 38 Now Usable For Five Pounds

Washington.—Sugar Stamp 38 ration book form will become valid Sept. 1. Office of Price Administration announced yesterday.

It will be good for five pounds of sugar until December 31, 1945.

The current sugar stamp, No. 36, becomes invalid Aug. 31.

OPA is continuing the current ration rate of five pounds of sugar every four months because of a shortage of supplies. No improvement for civilians is expected this year. Stocks are lower now than they have been for 10 years.

Veterans' Groups Seek Aid For Families Of Lightning Victims By Raising Funds

Three Greek Math Experts Used For Girl's Art Theme

Miss Mary Lee Wade, of Roxboro, a 1944 graduate of Roxboro high school, has done many things since that May day on which she received her diploma. For a time she was an assistant at Person County Public library and has more recently been taking a beauty shop operator's course, but she finds time, too, for the expression of artistic talent, black and white drawing, executed with charcoal.

And one of the proudest possessions of some of the examples of Miss Wade's art work is one of her former teachers, Mrs. Clyde Crowell, of the mathematics department at Roxboro high school. Mrs. Cole naturally likes Miss Wade's work, but more particularly because the young artist has chosen to draw portraits of three of the world's most famous mathematicians, Eratosthenes, Pythagoras and Euclid, all Greeks of the pre-Christian centuries.

Largest of the drawings is that of Eratosthenes, who in 230 B. C. measured the circumference of the earth. Miss Wade's drawing depicts the mathematician in the act of making his great calculations. The other portraits are smaller, facial close-ups.

Miss Wade, daughter of Police Officer and Mrs. Charles Wade, does her drawing as a hobby and has had little, if any formal training. Her lines are clear, however, and not muddy or confused. Another artist in the family is Clyde Wade, a brother, known here as a pianist.

Miss Wade, about eighteen years of age, just wanted to do those drawings for Mrs. Cole for the fun of it, and Mrs. Cole says they are to be hung in her classroom—an inspiration to future students of art and mathematics.

The drawings are on display at Carolina Power and Light Company now.

Maynard B. Guill Out Of Navy

Petty Officer and Mrs. Maynard B. Guill, have arrived from San Diego, Calif., and are spending several days here with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie F. Guill, the Navy man's parents. Petty Officer Guill, who received a medical discharge on July 28, spent two weeks with his brother, Cpl. Leslie F. Guill, Jr., of 1203 N. E. 8th Street, Amarillo, Texas.

Petty Officer Maynard Guill has been in the service six years. After staying a month in Roxboro he and Mrs. Guill will go to Maine to visit his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reynolds.

Also Help

Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Lewell T. Huff post, is also interested in collecting funds to assist the Snow family, according to the Adjutant J. A. Jordan, who will receive funds at White's Barber shop. Many of the pallbearers at the two funerals yesterday were said to have been members of Lewell T. Huff post.

In Pacific

One of the returned war veterans here who has his old job is J. W. Walker, Jr., of Reams avenue, a Gunner's Mate, who received his discharge from the Navy on June 16, and has since then been at Collins and Aikman, Plant E, where he is an electrician.

Walker was with Collins and Aikman for some time before he entered the Navy on March 27, 1944, but his present civilian job is a promotion, earned, as he says, through additional skill and knowledge gained while he was with the Navy. Walker is an alumnus of Bethel Hill high school. He declines to relate details of experiences while in service, but admits he had plenty, and is more than glad to be back at his old job, at home.

Rites For Mrs. Willie Snow Planned For Friday. Others Buried Yesterday.

Planned for Friday of this week, with time and place as yet unannounced, are funeral services for Mrs. Willie Snow, 24, of near McGhee's Mill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Roberson, of Longhurst, one of three women of the Snow family killed late Thursday afternoon when lightning struck a tobacco barn in which the women were seated after taking refuge from a sudden storm.

Rites for Mrs. Willie Snow are being delayed, pending arrival of her sister, Mrs. Helen Covington, of Glendale, California.

Also killed outright were Mrs. Melvin Snow, 17, and Miss Leslie Mae Snow, sisters-in-law of Mrs. Willie Snow. The tragedy occurred on the J. A. Long farm near McGhee's Mill, Cunningham township. Rites for Mrs. Melvin Snow and Miss Leslie Snow were held yesterday afternoon in a double funeral at Longhurst Baptist church, with the Rev. J. N. Bowman officiating. Interment for both women was in Providence Baptist church cemetery.

Deaths occurred when the three women, together with another sister-in-law, their mother-in-law, Mrs. James Snow, and an infant child of the Willie Snow family were seated on two metal and stone flues along which lightning entered and ran.

Two survivors of the tragedy, Mrs. Arnold Snow and Mrs. Jim Snow, both of whom were knocked unconscious, are reported to be slightly improved. The only person in the barn not injured was an infant of the Willie Snows.

Funds to aid the stricken families are being sought here by Lester Blackwell post of the American Legion, according to Comdr. Joe Y. Blanks. Both Melvin and Arnold Snow are recently returned veterans with long overseas service records.

Commander Blanks had a conference Saturday with Gordon C. Hunter and C. A. Neal, of Lester Blackwell Post, and it was agreed that funds may be left at the Fern Security office in the Post Office building, at Peoples Bank and at the Courier-Times office.

Mrs. Melvin Snow was Miss Constance Tuck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Tuck of Halifax County, Va., who survive. Also surviving are her husband, eight sisters and five brothers.

Miss Leslie Snow was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Snow of McGhee's Mill, both of whom survive. Also surviving are seven brothers, Willie, Melvin and Arnold, whose wives were killed or injured, and James Franklin and Johnny, all of the home, and "Sonny," of Longhurst; three sisters, Mrs. Beatrice Hamlett, of Leasburg; Miss Mildred Snow, of the home and Mrs. Betty Jones, of South Boston, Va.

Surviving brothers and sisters of Mrs. Melvin Snow are Ernest Tuck, Clarksville, Va., Pete of Burlington, Joe of Roxboro, Charles and Jeter, Gladys Moberley and Norma Lee, both of Scottsburg, Va.; Eliza Hubbard, Newport News, Va.; Robert Price, Georgetown, S. C.; Irene Grogan and Mary Tuck, both of Spray, and Miss Ola Tuck, Richmond, Va.

Parents of Mrs. Willie Snow are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Roberson of Longhurst, who survive, as do her sister, Mrs. Helen Covington, of Glendale, Calif., and a grandmother, Mrs. Nannie P. Roberson of Longhurst, and two children Larry and Jones, both of the home.

The storm struck about 4:30 Thursday afternoon. Several men of the family escaped injury when they took refuge under a tree instead of going to the barn.
