MISS DAVIS QUITS HEALTH POSITION HERE

Miss Evelyn Davis, senior staff nurse of the District Health department, has resigned her position here to accept a post as nursing supervisor with the city health department of Danville, Va., it was announced today.

Miss Davis, who has been with the Orange-Person-Chatham health department since 1940, has been located in Roxboro since March of 1943 except for a few months which she spent at Chapel Hill. Her home originally was in Graham, Alabama county.

She will leave Roxboro on March 23 for a short vacation prior to assuming her new duties at Danville, which will begin on April 1st.

No successor to Miss Davis has as yet been selected.

Although no official announcement has been made, it is expected that, for the time being at least, the present staff will continue to function as it is. Only white nurse left is Mrs. Sarah Allen. The colored nurse is Catherine Woods Lawson.

Miss Davis, in announcing her resignation, expressed her appreciation for the splendid cooperation which the people of the county have given her, and stated that her stay in Roxboro has been very enjoyable.

PTA Membership Drive Sponsored At Roxboro High

A Parent-Teacher association membership drive at Roxboro high school is being sponsored through the school, it has been announced by Mrs. Charlie Stewart, chairman of the membership committee, who revealed that each home room with a minimum parent attendance of 75 per cent as members will be given a half-holiday from school work as a prize. A previous report, which was incorrect, stated that the room with the largest attendance of parents at each meeting would be given a half-holiday.

The Roxboro high PTA, only recently reorganized after a wartime period of inactivity, is headed by Mrs. H. M. Beam as president. Much interest has been shown in the organization by patrons of the school, and it is expected that the current membership drive will be very successful.

Spare Stamps To Be Used For Canning Sugar

No Formal Application Is Needed, OPA Director Tells Housewives.

Raleigh.—This year's home canners will not have to fill out application forms for canning sugar, OPA State Director Theodore S. Johnson reminded North Carolina housewives today. OPA District Officials, which now handle sugar rationing, are not equipped to process the millions of requests that would result if users were required to make formal application for canning sugar, as was formerly the case, he said.

Canning sugar this season will be obtained through use of spare stamps contained either in Ration Book Four or on the sugar ration sheet now being issued in lieu of a complete ration book, according to the OPA announcement.

First spare stamp to be used especially for canning sugar is No. 9, which becomes valid Monday, March 11, for five pounds and remains good through October 31, Johnson pointed out. This and another stamp to be validated sometime in June or July will provide this year's allocation for home canning sugar, he said.

"Our national sugar supply is still extremely tight, with no signs of immediate improvement," Johnson said. "It is still uncertain how much of the Cuban sugar crop will be available to us; and this, along with the requirements of war-stricken areas, makes it impossible to be very optimistic about the outlook on sugar," he explained.

Those who customarily sell home-canned fruit butters, jams, jellies and other foods, however, may file an application with the State OPA office for the necessary canning sugar, Johnson said. The amount granted will be either the amount requested, or the total used by the family for this purpose in 1945, whichever amount is smaller, Johnson said, adding that the previous limitation of a total issuance of 250 pounds to a family unit will still apply. A record of the amount and kind of foods put up with this sugar must be kept by persons doing home canning for sale, he said.

The use of spare stamps for canning sugar makes no change in the regular consumer sugar rations, which remain at five pounds for each four-month period. The next regular stamp becomes valid on May 1, Johnson pointed out.

"The critical state of our supply makes it necessary for every housewife to budget her use of sugar carefully," Johnson said, and appealed to homemakers to see that their canning sugar is used only for the purposes for which it is intended.

Regular appropriations were not made for this purpose, the Legislature having authorized the use of funds from the contingency and emergency fund when necessary.

Scout Banquet Will Be In April

Along The Way

Burleigh Clayton always raises a good garden and his two neighbors, Jack Strum and Clyde Bowen always have none. However they are ever on hand to praise Burleigh and hang around his garden like a couple of hawks watching a chicken. Of course these two neighbors would not steal. Far from that they just hang around watering at the mouth when those fine vegetables start coming in.

Jack and Clyde are already trying to get Burleigh to start his garden early in order that "WE" can beat the other fellows. Always its "WE" when garden time comes and neither of the two would bend to pull a weed out of the garden unless they had an idea that the vegetables would soon be coming in. Then it would be a hard matter to get them to pull weeds.

Symphony Concerts Eagerly Awaited

Roxboro and Person County music-lovers today were awaiting with considerable interest the appearance here Friday, March 15th, of the 21-piece of the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra, which will present two concerts here on that date.

Interested citizens who do not yet have their tickets were reminded today that the price of the tickets will be advanced when they go on sale at the door Friday night.

First appearance of the Orchestra will be at 1:30 in the afternoon, in a program exclusively for school children, who may attend free. W. Wallace Woods, chairman of the music committee of Roxboro Rotary club, the sponsoring organization, today pointed out that purchasers of tickets may use these same tickets to see full performance

It was only about a year and a half ago that the people decided they wanted a church there. They hope to go on now with the prayers, support and cooperation of the people.

Bob Whitten Named To Serve As Veterans' Service Officer

Commissioners Name Roxboro Youth In Special Meeting Today.

Robert Whitten, of Roxboro, World War II veteran, was this morning selected as Veterans' Service officer by the county commissioners who debated the merits of nine candidates at some length. Whitten has been in service with the army since January of 1943 and served with the air force in Africa and Italy. He received his discharge in October of last year. Prior to his army service he attended school at the university of North Carolina.

Other candidates for the position were Thomas Bowles, Donald J. Dorey, Oscar C. Hull, Samuel C. Tillman, Reade Gentry, Norden B. Schloss, William A. Wilson, Jr. and L. M. Carlton, Jr.

This position calls for a salary of $200.00 per month and an office will be opened in the basement of the court house. $300.00 will be allowed on the opening for office equipment and supplies. The office however will not be open until April 1st, stated the county commissioners today.

Holder of this same position until today's appointment had been Dr. O. G. Davis, who had held the job on a part time basis. Dr. Davis, a veteran of the first World War, was not a candidate for the full-time position.

Commissioners present today at the meeting were J. A. Long, chairman, W. H. Gentry and John Hester.

Much interest had been shown in the appointment of a Veterans' Service officer here. At a previous meeting last week the Commissioners considered the qualifications of several applicants but postponed definite action because of the absence of Mr. Hester, who was ill.

After the business matters were cleared up the club had the pleasure of hearing Dr. John C. Glenn of Duke Memorial Methodist church. He was introduced by Rotarian Dan Lane. Dr. Glenn used as a basis for his address the Sermon on the Mount, and indeed in and truth it was one of the outstanding addresses the club has had the pleasure of listening to in many moons. He told his audience that he was not going to preach to them, but just wanted to talk heart to heart with them.

Dr. John Fitzgerald, president, who was a little late, presided. Attendance for the past two meetings has been very good, showing quite a pick up from recent meetings.

Dr. Glenn Is Rotary Speaker

The Rotary club at its meeting Thursday night accepted an invitation from Mrs. T. C. Wagstaff of the Social Agency Council for a joint meeting of the civic clubs on April 5th to hear an address by Dr. Harold D. Meyer, chairman of the Recreation Commission of North Carolina. It is possible that the date may be changed, but it will be in the neighborhood of the above mentioned date.

After the business matters were cleared up the club had the pleasure of hearing Dr. John C. Glenn of Duke Memorial Methodist church. He was introduced by Rotarian Dan Lane. Dr. Glenn used as a basis for his address the Sermon on the Mount, and indeed in and truth it was one of the outstanding addresses the club has had the pleasure of listening to in many moons. All Tobacco Acreage To Be Measured

To further strengthen compliance with the Marketing Quota program, all acreage of flue-cured tobacco grown on all farms in 1946 will be measured by AAA committeemen of others working under the supervision of committeemen, it was announced today by C. T. Hall, chairman, Person County AAA Committee.

Due to the manpower shortage, the AAA found it necessary to discontinue measurement of all flue-cured acreages during the war, and this will be the first year since 1942 when all acreage will be measured.

The system of reporting their individual acreage by farmers, themselves, and subsequent spot-checking was the best means of acreage determination during the war. However, a return to measurement of all acreages is essential in order to make the marketing-quota program effective.

Flue-cured producers of Person County have been notified of 1946 acreage allotments for their farms. The county's total acreage allotment for 1946 will amount to approximately 17,125 acres.

Clyde Satterfield Is Presumed Dead

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Satterfield of Route 1, Timberlake, have received a letter from the War Department notifying them that their son, Staff Sergeant Luther G. Satterfield of the Army Air Forces, is now presumed dead "since no information has been received which would support a presumption of his continued survival."

Sgt. Satterfield was reported missing in action in the Pacific on June 23, 1944. He was an aerial gunner on a B-24 Liberator plane which departed Los Negros Island on that date on a combat strike mission to bomb shipping off Yap Island. As the formation of planes came from the bomb run, Satterfield's plane was seen with one of its engines smoking. At about the same time the plane was attacked by enemy planes and fell behind, losing altitude. It fell into the water and quickly disappeared. Battle conditions prevented immediate search, and no trace of any of the crew members has been found since that time.

Young Satterfield, who would have been 21 last October, was a graduate of Mt. Tabor high school, class of 1940. He entered the Army in March 1943, and after basic training in Florida he attended a mechanic's school in Mississippi. He received his wings in Texas.

Sgt. Satterfield was last home at Christmas 1943. He went overseas the following April, and was reported missing in action just two months later. He was based on the Admiralty Islands.

He was a brother of Miss Marie Satterfield of Roxboro, an employee of Western Union. Other children of the family are Geraldine and Clyde Woody Satterfield, both of the home.
