LET US NOT FORGET

The war is over, and most of the young men and women who took part in it have come home. And all of us are glad that this is so.

Let us not, however, forget that there are still men and women wearing American uniforms in the far corners of the earth.

Let us not forget that there are many, many thousands of young men who have not come home, and who never will come home. They are the ones who made victory possible by giving their lives.

Let us not forget that there are many, many thousands of young men who will spend the rest of their lives in wheel chairs, on crutches, or in hospitals because "Tomorrow the World" was the theme-song of the fascists and because the Japanese dreamed of world domination.

And let us not forget that it is the Red Cross which is still "the greatest mother of them all," ministering to the needs of our youth in camps and hospitals throughout America and in the lands across the sea.

A dollar contributed to the Red Cross is a dollar given to the greatest constructive organization in the world. It is a dollar invested in youth. It is your way of saying that you are with American servicemen wherever they are located and whatever their duties may be.

According to latest reports, the Red Cross drive here has not even reached the half-way mark yet. Give today!

FOLGER DECIDES TO QUIT

Surprise greeted the sudden announcement in Washington last week by Representative John H. Folger that he will not be a candidate for reelection to the House "if other persons file for the post." Mr. Folger, who has been a member of Congress since 1941, has already paid his filing fee, but at this writing his statement that he will not run if opposed still stands even though Thurmond Chatham of Winston-Salem and Elkin has announced his candidacy.

Friends of Mr. Folger throughout the Fifth District—and they are many—regret that he will not be a candidate for reelection. He has made an enviable record as an able and liberal Congressman. Should he stand by his announcement not to run again, his successor, whoever he may be, will indeed have a hard time filling the post as acceptably as Mr. Folger has done.

DR. L. E. SPIKES

The selection of Dr. L. E. Spikes as the new president of Eastern Carolina Teachers College was, in the opinion of this paper, an excellent one. Dr. Spikes is well qualified to fill the position and more than that he will fill it in a way that all concerned will be proud of.

A very careful checking of all records will prove in no uncertain way that this man has done his job well on each and every occasion, and that goes from his college days until now. His record of things accomplished is a clean sheet. But—more than that, or as much anyway, Dr. Spikes has always been a clean upright citizen.

Of course he has not yet accepted the position but it is understood that he will and we can see a new era for the Greenville college.

NOTE TO CORRESPONDENTS

The Courier-Times regrets that, because of limitations of space, it is not always possible for us to publish everything we would like to publish. In Thursday's paper, for example, contributions of several correspondents had to be left out simply because there was no room for them. We wish to assure these correspondents that their contributions will be carried as soon as possible, and we solicit the continued cooperation of all in our endeavor to publish all worthwhile news as quickly, accurately, and fully as we can.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

CANNOT BE ANTI TO ANY NATION.

The UNO cannot succeed if it is to be an anti-Russian organization. It cannot succeed if it is to be an instrument for preserving the British Empire with all its injustices.

Fewer Churchill speeches and more demonstrations that UNO is not established to destroy communism or protect any nation in the pursuit of imperialistic courses are needs of the hour in the fight for peace.

DIPLOMATS ARE HUMAN

Anderson (S. C.) Independent. The little people—the mothers, the sons, the fathers, the daughters—can only wait and place their faith in the diplomats.

It is a great pity that the millions who want peace in Russia, Britain, the United States, China and all other nations still find themselves at the mercy of policy-makers who, despite a flock of good intentions, are fallible humans after all.

ROMANCE IN BRICK

Morganton News-Herald. Reports say that the nation is on the verge of the greatest vacationing impulse it has ever experienced.

Relief from restraint is a good thing, but let's hope there is one old-fashioned American traveler they keep at home: the wandering correspondent with the rose-colored glasses who sees nostalgic beauty in ancient piles of brick.

The trouble with that type is that he only reads the surface. If he stayed long enough he would change his time: he would hear the rats whisking through the chapters of antiquity.

TURN DOWN BUNDLES

The News and Observer. The people will applaud the action of the House in turning down "Bundles for Congressmen" in the shape of a bill to pension themselves when they reached the age of 55. If it carried retirement of those who are not wise legislators that would have improved the measure. But nobody wants to retire the able men whose experience has increased their usefulness.

Now, if Congressmen will deny to themselves and those in executive or military positions the increases asked we may look for a balanced budget. The next bill to kill p.d.q. is the one to retire Army and Navy officers on big pay at 60.

WANTED: A STRIKE CURE

South Boston News. In spite of the fact that for the past four years strikes hampered the war effort and are absolutely disrupting reconversion efforts and the full production which alone can save this country from inflation, no formula has been evolved and enacted into law which would avert strikes or minimize them.

It is not too much to say that the future peace and security of the United States depends upon the enactment of some legislation, fair to both sides, which would keep essential industries and essential services going by averting strikes. It seems to us that compulsory arbitration before a mediation board chosen from labor, management and the general public should have authority to settle the issues that cause strikes. A continuation of the present policies can only end in economic disaster for all of us.
