Clearing Up The Streams

By J. R. ADAIR, Soil Conservationist

The speaking contest tomorrow night at the Central Grade School in Roxboro by high school students in Person County on the subject of "Soil Building Practices" promises to be good. Not only farmers but people in other walks of life will profit in hearing these boys and girls from a half dozen different schools speak on this important subject of soil conservation for which The Peoples Bank of Roxboro is giving substantial sums for prizes in War Bonds.

Civic Clubs Projects On U. S. 501 Progressing
The good weather recently was welcomed and taken advantage of by farmers. Plowing and seeding of pastures, meadow strips and establishing other conservation practices are being carried on by conservation farmers throughout the county. Progress in projects of soil conservation being sponsored by the Roxboro Civic Clubs along U. S. 501 from the Virginia line to Roxboro is noted in traveling this highway.

Strip Cropping—Exchange Club
The following farmers on this highway who have already begun plowing of strips in establishing a system of rotation of crops to conserve soil and moisture and for greater profit in farming are listed below:
W. R. Wade on C. A. Wrenn's farm; Berkely Shotwell on Sheriff M. T. Clayton's farm; R. T. Henderson, tenant on the J. A. Long Estate of which G. M. Crowder is operator; Hubert Shotwell; George W. Clayton, colored tenant on Miss Addie Mae Merritt's farm; and William Wilkerson, colored tenant on one of John H. Merritt farms.

Woodland Improvement—Kiwanis Club
The following farmers who have made improvements in their woodland along this highway are: W. R. Day on his mother's farm, Mrs. Lillian Day; Bryd Owen, colored tenant on Bruce Woody's farm; W. T. Bland, colored tenant on one of John H. Merritt's farms; and also colored landowner W. H. Clay on his own farm.

Pasture Improvement—Rotary Club
Pasture improvement where new pastures have already been seeded is noted along this highway adjacent to B. W. Gentry's home site. Others have started improvements that are quite noticeable. Pat Woody will also present an interesting project in pasture improvement on his mother's farm, Mrs. G. E. Woody. R. M. O'Brian, Jr. recently cleared some pines for saw timber and is establishing a permanent pasture on the same ground. He has completed building a wooden fence around this pasture area for his saddle horses. He is also painting the fence white. This project of pasture improvement when completed should be quite attractive as well as beneficial to the landowner.

Homestead Beautification—Business And Professional Women Club

TAXICAB APPLICANTS
At regular meeting, March 13, 1946, the Town Commissioners received applications for taxicab certificates of "convenience and necessity" from Frank A. Holt, Lacy Clay, Harry Lockhart and M. T. Dixon. These applications will be considered at Town Commissioners meeting on April 10, 1946.

Although there are no noticeable improvements made on this project, it is interesting to know that a number of farmers have made requests to have some pictures made of their dwelling and grounds before making improvements. Pictures of the "before" improvements were made Tuesday by personnel of the Dan River Soil Conservation District for the following farmers: Mrs. G. E. Woody, W. R. Wade, Robert Shotwell, Berkely Shotwell and S. P. Gentry. Request for a "before" has also been made by Hubert Yarborough. Others are expected to be made improvements in this project during the year. When improvements have been made an "after" picture will be made of project.

STUDENTS EAT
Several tons of food and recreation equipment have recently been made available to more than 2,000 Krumming students through distribution of American Red Cross supplies to the China Student Relief Association which offers supplementary diets to students at five of the city's universities.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardul is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try Cardul. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Sermon for Sunday, April 24, 1946
PONTIUS PILATE THE MAN OF POLITICAL EXPEDIENCE

Text—Matthew: 27-28

By the Rev. J. H. Shore

Pontius Pilate was the governor of Judea when Jesus Christ was condemned and crucified.

He governed the province under the king who ruled the country. The scribes and the Sadducees, the religious leaders of the people in Judea had been seeking to arouse the people to cry for the crucifixion of Jesus Christ.

They had lost the spirit of the law of Moses and were offended at the teaching and the preaching of Jesus.

They were looking for a Messiah who would come and conquer the Romans and set up for themselves a national government. Jesus had said that He came not to destroy but to fulfill the moral law, and that His kingdom was not of this world. They were to render unto Caesar and to God the things that belonged to God.

Pilate told the scribes and the pharisees that he could find nothing worthy of death in Jesus Christ. Pilate was the representative politician of the centuries, and we have seen his character repeated through the years. He possessed some good impulses and wanted to do the right thing, when it did not interfere with his political position. He knew it was envy that made the scribes and pharisees clamor for the blood of Jesus Christ.

"every man has his price" in this world.

The final argument of the scribes and pharisees with Pilate, was that "if he released Jesus, He was not the friend of Caesar." He felt that he must at all hazards, keep the friendship of those who had made him governor of Judea. He answered his own question, "what shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ?" by saying "take Him and crucify Him."

Politicians, like Pilate have been crucifying Jesus Christ, on the altar of political expedience through the years and are still doing it. The world in our times is a valley of disjointed dry bones, and God is asking the question, "son of man, can these bones live?"

There is only one thing that will make these dry bones live and that is, the breath of the spirit of God must be breathed into the lives of men and men must come together under the universal brotherhood of man, based upon the universal fatherhood of God.

We often hear men say "everybody is doing it" but it is clearly thundered from the Word of God "thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil".

There must be the stamina of a moral conviction that is willing to stand alone with Jesus Christ before Pilate.

Let our prayer continually be O God, breathe thine own life into the spiritual nostrils of men, that the kingdom of God may come and holiness prevail over human society as the waters cover the sea.

They go on the theory that
