VOL. LXV J. W. NOELL, EDITOR ROXBORO, NORTH CAROLINA THURSDAY, MAY 2, 1946 $2.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE NUMBER 43

New Dairy Plant Nearing Completion

Roxboro's new Elko dairy plant, owned by L. Jack Martin and J. D. Crutchfield and located on Highway 501 near the Virginia highway intersection, is nearing completion, and the formal opening will probably be held within three or four weeks.

The new plant, recently declared by a State inspector to be one of the most modern plants in North Carolina, is already being used, although a boiler room, supply room, and dressing room are still in process of construction. All equipment has been obtained except some needed in the sales room.

Mr. Martin and Mr. Crutchfield, whose total investment in the dairy represents about $35,000 or more, are taking steps to insure a Grade A milk supply in Person county. They are financing the construction of several Grade A barns for farmers. One such barn is already under construction, and several more are being planned.

Baxter Duncan, John Winstead, Jr., Wilbur Lawes, and several other men are cooperating in the effort to make this section of the State produce all the Grade A milk which is needed for local consumption.

Mr. Martin said today that Elko spends about $6,000 per month for its milk supply. He and Mr. Crutchfield, he said, are anxious to spend as much of that money as possible in Person County.

When completed, the dairy will manufacture and retail ice cream and milk shakes, selling them over the counter. The sales room will be kept open each night until 11 o'clock. Plenty of parking space will be available for customers.

A contest will be held soon in an effort to find a name for the plant's ice cream, with cash prizes to be awarded. Further details will be announced.

The new plant, equipped with the most modern fixtures, has a capacity of 1,000 gallons of milk per day. At present it is producing about 550 gallons daily. The ice cream freezer is capable of freezing 5 gallons every 15 minutes. The ice cream hardener has a capacity of 200 gallons per day.

The raw milk is brought by conveyor to the receiving room, where it is tested for flavor, quality, and butterfat. From the receiving room it goes by pipe to the filter, consisting of seven cotton pads and then to the automatic pasteurizing machines, where the milk is heated slowly so as to preserve the natural flavor. Pasteurizing temperature is 145 degrees.

Next the milk is piped to the aerator, or cooler, where it is instantly cooled down to 34 degrees. Then it goes to the bottling machine, which can turn out 36 bottles per minute. The bottled milk is then sent to the refrigeration room, where it is kept at a temperature of 34 degrees until it is loaded on trucks for distribution.

A soaker-type bottle washing machine cleans the bottles with caustic soda.

Services At Baptist Church
 Owing to the absence of the pastor, Rev. Ralph McLean, teacher of Bible at Meredith college, Raleigh, will preach at the Roxboro First Baptist church on Sunday morning, May 5th at 11 a. m. There will be no evening service, as the congregation will worship with the Methodist congregation at the revival services which are in progress at this time.

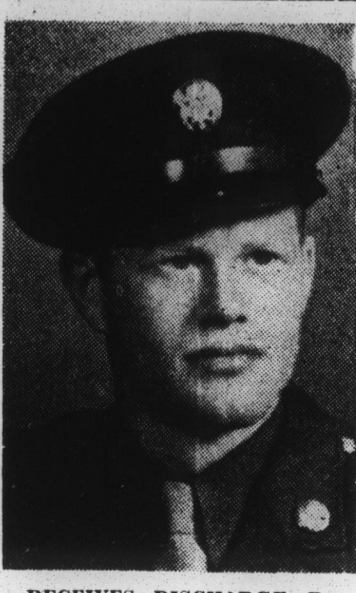

On the second Sunday, May 12th, Rev. W. E. Goode, of Scotland Neck will preach at the 11 o'clock service, and Rev. Joe B. Currin will preach at the evening hour, 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. Goode will be remembered by many of the congregation as he was the pastor here for several years in the 20's. Few pastors have been loved by everyone more than was Mr. Goode, and we predict a full house to hear him on this occasion.

The public is cordially invited to all of these services.

Attending Baptist Meeting
 Rev. and Mrs. J. Boyce Brooks left Tuesday morning for Miami to attend the Southern Baptist Convention. At the close of the session they will go by plane to Cuba where they will spend several days visiting mission work and sight seeing.

Mr. Brooks expects to be away for about two weeks, but his pulpit will be supplied by some visiting brother for each service in his absence.

RECEIVES DISCHARGE—Ben Houston, Jr., who arrived this afternoon to be with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Houston. Ben was discharged at Fort Bragg today, having been in the service two and a half years, two years of which were spent in England, France, Belgium and Germany. Before induction, he was a sophomore at Duke University.

Beulah Mission Study Institute Is Well Attended

The third annual Mission Study institute of the Beulah Association of W. M. U. was held Friday at Clement church. Nearly 100 representatives from the various Missionary societies and auxiliaries gathered with lunch, note books and receptive minds to take advantage of the workshop of methods in better mission teaching. Every detail had been carefully worked out by Miss Ella Thompson, Associational Mission study chairman.

Inspirational speakers had been secured who brought messages that gripped hearts and gave motive and power to the methods. The Rev. L. B. Olive of Raleigh and China urged all to be more concerned and active in soul-winning at home; then he pictured the present urgent need for more missionaries in every foreign country and the great honor and blessing that comes to parents whose children are called to this task. The Rev. F. D. Hemphill, superintendent of Baptist city mission work in Charlotte, who is assisting the Rev. J. N. Bowman and the Cavel Church in a revival, spoke efficiently of the results and further possibilities of rural and city evangelism, making practical suggestions for W. M. U. members.

Mrs. L. E. M. Freeman of Raleigh effectively presented the need of racial justice, using the book "Of One" by T. B. Maston. A large group of adult leaders followed her sympathetically as she added many of her practical experiences in this Christian venture of evaluating human beings as individuals rather than as races. It was felt that the impressions made in this one class could have far-reaching results in the territory of the Beulah Association.

Other teachers capably presented methods for teaching books on Africa to G. A. R. A. and Sunbeam counselors. Mrs. S. O. Garrett taught "So This is Africa" to intermediate leaders; Mrs. J. Boyce Brooks, "Topsy Turvy Twins" for junior leaders; and Mrs. Dick Woody, "Little Black Sunday" for Sunbeam Leaders. In the class for men the inspirational speakers were assisted by the Rev. J. Boyce Brooks, W. T. Baucom, J. N. Bowman and L. V. Coggins. In addition to the posters prepared by the teachers for their particular classes, Miss Thompson had on display many different books on Africa, curios, posters and maps. Of particular interest was the drill on pronunciation of African mission-station names using a large poster.

Mrs. Elmo Reynolds led the worship period, stressing God's worldwide kingdom plans. Mrs. J. F. Funderburk and Mrs. R. W. Hovis had charge of the music. Mrs. R. L. Wilburn called the roll of churches. Mrs. Ryland Wilburn welcomed all and made announcements concerning lunch. In the open forum it was decided to hold the next institute on some Saturday in January in order to facilitate the attendance of those engaged in school work. The subject to be used will be Japan. Mrs. J. F. Funderburk and Mrs. L. V. Coggins announced two annual meetings in the near future—Associational W. M. U. meeting, Friday, June 7, at Shiloh Church (Caswell County) with Miss Katie Murray of China as guest speaker; and the auxiliary rally for this year to include all members and leaders of Sunbeams, G. A. R. A's and Y. W. A's as before the war. This meeting will be held either the last of May or June 28.

The afternoon session closed with a vote of thanks to the Clement church for their hospitality which included beautifully arranged flowers in every class room, an abundance of extra food and iced tea for the lunch and arrangements for taking care of the little children present. This also included appreciation to Miss Ella Thompson and all those who had cooperated with her in making the meeting possible and such a success.

Long Memorial Revival Will Begin Sunday

Revival services begin at Long Memorial Methodist church next Sunday morning. The pastor, the Rev. B. H. Houston, will preach at 11:00 o'clock on the subject "Preparing for a Revival." The Rev. C. P. Womack of Jonesboro will preach at the evening service, which begins at 8 o'clock.

Services will be held each day at 8 to 8:30 in the morning and 8 in the evening. The early morning service of thirty minutes each day is expected to be one of the finest and most fruitful of all the services, according to the pastor. It is placed at this hour of the day to enable school children, high school students, business men and housewives to attend. He urges everyone to put this half hour of meditation and worship at the beginning of each day.

In preparation for this next week of special evangelistic services at the church each day, intensive work of evangelistic visiting has been carried on this week. There were five teams, each composed of a minister and a layman, who have carried on this important work. Splendid results have accompanied this endeavor and more than 25 have given their names for membership. A permanent plan of visitation is being arranged which will mean much toward building up the church and reaching nonmembers.

The public is cordially invited to all of the above services.

The 1946 softball season will get underway here Monday night, with the opening game to be preceded by a special memorial service in honor of former Person County softball and baseball players who were killed in action during World War II.

Three Are Hurt In Auto Accident

An automobile accident at Longhurst about 7:30 last night, in which a 1929 Ford coach left the road on a curve and ran into a telephone pole, resulted in head injuries to the driver, James Harris, 25, of Roxboro, and less extensive injuries to his brother, Wilford, 15, and W. T. Knight, 16, of Roxboro, were riding with him.

All three were given treatment at Community hospital here, but were later released. Their condition was not considered serious.

"We used the atomic bomb in the pride of our strength and are now clothed in the weakness common to all men."

On Saturday night, the Scouts "roughed it" by sleeping in pup tents, in spite of the cold weather.

The Person Scouts returned to Roxboro about mid-afternoon Sunday.
