Steve Wood—oak and hickory
$1.25 per load at I. L. Hamlin & Co

Sunday evening there was a very interesting meeting at the Baptist church consisting of a song service which has been taking the place of the regular service, Rev. Emory in charge. Reciting texts bearing upon hymns sung and incidents where certain old hymns had been the means of doing much good, and short sketches of the writers special inspiration. The music is assisted by violins.

Blackjack oak stove wood $1.25 per load at I. L. Hamlin & Co.

We are pleased to know that we have such an important institution as a school of Elocution and Physical culture, in our town, as announced elsewhere in the FREE PRESS. Miss Breneman comes to us well recommended and has, we believe, a thorough understanding of the arts taught. She favored the Literary club with one of her readings Thursday evening much to the delight of every one present, her voice being clear and distinct. and her manner very pleasing indeed.

THE COSMOPOLITAN LITERARY CLUB

Meets every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at K. of P. Hall, over Patch & Williams' store.

Visitors desiring admission apply to Miss Ethel Brown, Secretary, or at the Free Press Office.

The Cosmopolitan Literary Club.

Those in attendance at the club meeting Thursday evening spent a most delightful time and had the pleasure of hearing some splendid recitations, and readings, and a well written history of the life of Dickens, prepared by Miss Minnie Smith, the evening being devoted to him and his works.

Some business matters were also attended to, the time and place of meeting both being changed; owing to the fact that the K. of P. hall did not have a piano, the club decided to meet hereafter at the King's Daughter's Hall—for the next two weeks on Thursday, and thereafter on Tuesday evenings, the hour being 7-30.

The Chairman of the Program Committee wishes it understood that for next Thursday evening, November 2nd there will be a miscellaneous program, consisting of music, recitations and readings.

Vote of Thanks for Mrs. Abbott.
