DON'T WIND YOUR WATCH

At night, Morning is the proper time. The watch will then run more accurately and break fewer mainsprings. The mechanism is also better prepared to withstand the counteracting influences of the motion of the body during the day. If your mainspring should break from any cause, let me replace it for you. I use only the very best springs and guarantee them indefinitely. My charge will be satisfactory.

R. E. Geyer has returned from a brief visit to New York where he visited his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Geyer. We are pleased to note that his mother, who has been very sick, is much better.

Littleton Female College is being completely renovated including inside painting, rewhitening the walls, &c., preparatory to the largest opening in its history. This institution has made a notable record among North Carolina schools and its patronage is rapidly extending to sections beyond the borders of the State. Concerning the institution Dr. A. Betts says: "I have seen something of schools for a long time. I have looked into some that I call ideal schools. I have never seen a better place for girls than Littleton Female College."

Those enjoying the picnic at Thagards last Friday were Miss Anna Junge, Miss Bowes and Misses Lillie Huffines, Helen Woodard, Catherine Swett, Prudence Giles, Florence and Reba Brown, Messrs. Louie Couch, Henry Weber, Jas. Saunders Warren Ferguson, Edward Thayer, Geo. Chatfield, Wm Shedd, George Woodard, Theodore Heizmann, James Woodard and J. W. Bowes. The moonlight ride home was the best number on the program and was greatly enjoyed.

Results in a Game of Prisoner's Base.

The young men were not busy Wednesday night, and therefore decided to have a game of prisoner's base out near the band stand.

CASUALTIES:

Louie Couch—Ran over S. A. L. fence and knocked off seven pickets.

Carey Blue—Collar-bone broken.

R. Chatfield—Knocked the steps off the band stand.

Carson Blue—Lost 9-10 of his shirt torn to shreds.

I. C. Edgerton—Knee-cap out of joint.

Henry Weber—Arm skinned, and six yards of cloth used to bandage it.

Expenser J. T. Dillehay—Lost his tobacco and quit the game till a subscription could be raised for another plug.

G. Jones—Knocked his knee out of place and bruised his leg.

Two reporters will be on hand at the next game, three doctors, an ambulance and six mounted policemen.

Rumors of a railroad merger by which the S. A. L. secures the L. & N. and A. C. L. have been flying thick and fast for the past few days.

Miss Love and Misses McDuffie, of Columbus, Ga., Miss Clark, of Aberdeen and Miss Page, of Hoffman, were the guests of Mrs. Dr. Ferguson last Monday.
