Russian Battleship Knaiz Potemkine Scuttled By Its Rebel Crew

SCENE IN HARBOR OF ROUMANIA

Mutinous Crew Opened the Vessel's Seacocks Before Leaving, and Ship Went to the Ocean's Bottom.

The Russian battleship Knaiz Potemkine, which has been in the hands of a mutinous crew, that terrorized the people of Odessa by demonstrations in that harbor, and successfully standing off the whole Russian fleet was reported as being given up. This report was unfounded, however, as is indicated by the following dispatches:

Turned on Seacocks. Kustenji, Roumania, By Cable.—The announcement that the battleship Knaiz Potemkine sailed with Rear Admiral Kruger's squadron turns out to be incorrect.

Before leaving the Knaiz Potemkine the mutineers opened the seacocks and flooded her hold. She is now lying at the bottom, but it is expected will be refloated in time to leave for Sevastopol soon.

TORPEDO BOAT CREW TAKEN. Sevastopol, By Cable.—The Russian torpedo boat No. 27, which declined to surrender to the Roumanian Government with the Knaiz Potemkine, declaring that she had not mutinied, but had been forced to follow the mutinous battleship, has arrived here. The members of her crew were arrested and placed on board the transport Prout.

Tuesday was observed on board the fleet as a day of mourning for the officers and sailors slain during the mutiny on board the Knaiz Potemkine. There will be requiems on all the ships.

May Embarrass Roumania.

St. Petersburg, By Cable.—Rear-Admiral Pisarevski reports to the Admiralty that the engine room of the Knaiz Potemkine is full of water and it is presumed that the mutineers turned on the seacocks before leaving her.

Negotiations between Russia and Roumania on the question of the surrender of the Knaiz Potemkine are in progress.

Foreign Minister Lamsdorff and M. Rosseti-Solesco, the Roumanian Minister at St. Petersburg, held a conference on the subject, but no decision was reached. Russia is disposed to insist on the surrender of the men, not as political prisoners, to which Roumania would object, but as criminals guilty of murder and theft. There were several hundred thousand rubles on board the battleship, which the crew divided when they left the ship. The Roumanian Government is somewhat embarrassed by the fact that it promised the mutineers if they surrendered that they would be treated as deserters.

St. Petersburg, By Cable.—Although 10 days have elapsed since Russia informed President Roosevelt of her willingness to conclude an armistice pending the result of the Washington conference, Japan, so far as known to the Russian Government, has not replied to the President's communication.

When the question of an armistice was first broached by the President, it is understood that Japan indicated that she would decline to agree to a suspension of hostilities until the plenipotentiaries met. Russia agreed in principle to this as the basis for negotiation. Since then the Russian Government feels it has given ample proof of its desire to conclude peace and it is possible it may go a step farther. But the impression here is that now that the Japanese have made a descent on the island of Sakhalin they are determined to get the island firmly in their grasp before the negotiations begin. This is an easy task, as the small Russian force on the island is in no position to contest its occupation.

In addition to marines and infantry the Japanese landed artillery and cavalry. The latter is moving rapidly north. The presumption here is that the Russian troops will clear out without fighting, crossing to Alexandrovsk on the mainland.

The Novosti says it considers Sakhalin a second Alaska, worth $10,000,000,000. It is possible, however, that Japan might agree to suspend the hostilities in Manchuria, although the latest reports from the front create a strong suspicion that Field Marshal Oyama is at last advancing for a decisive blow.

Besides the peace plenipotentiaries there will be five delegates with the Russian peace mission, including three secretaries, Prince Koudacheff, ex-Secretary of the Russian Legation at Tokio under Baron Rosen; M. Planchon, who formerly was attached to the Chancellery of Visoy of the Far East, and M. Naboukoff, of the Foreign Office.

China, in the request which she preferred to Russia and Japan to be represented at the Washington conference, practically served on them notice that unless that privilege is accorded her she will refuse to be bound by the treaty so far as regards Chinese territory within the limits of the proposed armistice to the Japanese proposition, but Japan declined to agree to it.

Japanese Loan in New York. New York, Special.—Of the $150,000,000 of the Imperial Japanese Government 4 1/2 per cent. bonds, second series, $50,000,000 have been taken by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the National City Bank and the National Bank of Commerce, all of New York. These bonds are similar to the previous issue of $150,000,000 and are secured both as to principal and interest by a charge upon the annual net revenues of the Japanese Government tobacco monopoly, subject only to the charge in favor of the prior loan of $150,000,000.

To Help Negro School. Boston, Special.—At a meeting of the Industrial Union of America, West Indies and Canada, held in this city, the council voted to put the industrial school in Southern Pines, N. C., under the direction of churches of several different denominations and to assist the principal, Rev. James M. Henderson, in raising an endowment of $500,000.

The object of the school is to educate orphan and indigent negro children of the South and to give them a thorough training in domestic and mechanical studies.

Norfolk, Va., Special.—The naval tug Hercules has blown up the wreck of the schooner Clara E. Bergen, off the Carolina coast. The Bergen was run down by a steamer several weeks ago, and since that time has been drifting almost submerged in the path of coastwise shipping. On account of the dangerous nature of the derelict the Navy Department sent the Hercules out to destroy it.
