STATE & NATIONAL

U.S. Scholars Call Yeltsin's Actions Necessary

BY JONATHAN BARKER STAFF WRITER

Observers in the West defended Russian President Boris Yeltsin's Monday raid on Russia's Parliament building but warned that Yeltsin needed to move quickly towards democratic elections.

Yeltsin did what any government official would have to do," said Joel Schwartz, a UNC political sci-ence professor. "If you have a mob that is shooting and kill-PLUE

ing

people, then you | Analysis have to use whatever force is necessary to restore order."

Schwartz said he thought reports of death tolls in the hundreds were inaccurate and were being perpetuated by anti-Yeltsin supporters who wanted Yeltsin's actions to be seen as inhumane and excessive.

In a recorded statement, the U.S. State Department declared one American dead

To Plead

Penis Case

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON — The Virginia

oman who cut off her husband's penis will try to prove in court she was tempo rarily insane at the time, her lawyer said. Attorney James Lowe said Lorena Bobbitt was repeatedly beaten and raped by her husband, John Wayne Bobbitt. After he attacked her in their Manassas. Va.

apartment on June 23, she was seized by an 'irresistible impulse" that caused her to reach for a knife and cut him, Lowe said in an interview in the November issue of Vanity Fair magazine. She faces trial Nov. 29 on a charge of malicious wounding. Lowe said he would argue that people who had been repeatedly abused or beaten often have an altered mental state. Lorena Bobbitt told police she mutilated her husband after he raped her when he came home drunk from a night out with John Bobbitt has been charged with marital sexual assault and his trial is set for

Nov. 8. He denies the charge. Both Bobbitts

Autor to 20 years in prison if convicted. Lorena Robbitt told the magazine she was appalled that some women had hailed her as a feminist heroine for striking back against alleged abuse. "Nobody knows what I went through," she said. "Nobody knows anything about me." She said that after her husband assaulted her, she went to the kitchen to get a glass of was scared.... I was physically hurt... The first thing I saw was a knife, when I turned. I grabbed that knife and, um, I went to the droom, and he was there, I guess, and he

She said she wished she had never done kind of, like, moved or something. I don't know. And I took the sheets off, and I cut him."

it, but couldn't say for sure if she felt re-morse, or if she thought he deserved it.

James Sehn, a urologist who helped perform the nine-hour operation to reat-tach Bobbitt's penis, said, "He has a working organ. It's very possible he's already had sex, and I wouldn't be surprised."

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS NAIROBI, Kenya — No president wants to preside over the deaths of Ameri-can boys in strange, faraway places, but a pullout of U.S. troops could sound the death knell for U.N. military and humani-tarian onerations in Somalia

There is little doubt that the 4,700 American soldiers in Somalia are the glue that holds together the 28,000-strong U.N.

tarian operations in Somalia

"It was just so many things together. I a friend.

and five Americans injured in the violence, warning against travel to the still-volatile country

Dennis Papazian, director of the Michi-gan-based Center for Study of Russia, the Caucasus and Central Asia, said Yeltsin had the potential for historic failure or istoric success.

"If he has greatness in him, then he may pull this off. If he has fatal flaws as many suspect he does, he may make topical re-forms only," he said. "I hope and expect that he will follow a moderate road, have elections, and go on with democratic re

"His actions were unfortunate, but the situation deteriorated and he finally did what he had to do," Papazian said.

Many scholars across the country agreed with Schwartz that Yeltsin was forced to violent actions by hard-line lawmakers sestered in the Parliament building.

"I think that for two weeks Yeltsin was cautious and tried to avoid the use of force so I think it's a mistake to suggest that Yeltsin was trigger-happy," said Russell Bova, a political science professor at Dickinson College in Pennsylvania. Schwartz said Yeltsin now had huge decisions to make concerning treatment of his former vice president and Parliament speaker. "Yeltsin has to decide what to do with Alexander) Rutskoi and (Ruslan) Khasbulatov, how to treat them, whether or nothe should bring them to trial or not," he said. "It is a very delicate political balance.

Many scholars expressed concern that because of his past autocratic inclinations, Yeltsin could end reforms or institute slower reforms while retaining his base of power. "Yeltsin is acting undemocratically to bring about democracy, and there is al-ways the fear that someday he may act undemocratically to end democracy," Papazian said. "He cannot make Russia democratic by making it autocratic." Bova said he thought Yeltsin could very well upgrade his current, though necessary, dictatorial policies to cover the entire Russian political system. "Having instituted censorship within the media, the question now is, become autocratic and initiate a dictator ship?" Bova said. He also questioned the price Yeltsin had to pay to get the backing of the military. Papazian said that despite the apparent rad to the origin the origin of Duration end to the crisis, the future of Russian reform was very much up in the air. Yeltsin's new plan of action should be quite clear, he said. "Yeltsin next needs to create a constitution which is decently established, hold parliamentary elections in December as he promised that are free and democratic, then encourage the Parliament to pass laws on banking and taxes, things that they have never had in Russia," Papazian said. Bova said Yeltsin would have to build a stable foundation for Russia's future.

"He's won the battle but the long-term effects on Russian democracy remain to be

Of Computer Revolution BY MELISSA ROCHE STAFF WRITER

GRE Testing to Be Part

Next month, the Educational Testing Service will debut a new version of the Graduate Records Examination (GRE), which uses a new computer feedback method of standardized testing.

method of standardized testing. The new Computer-Adaptive Test ver-sion of the GRE, which will be offered beginning Nov. 1 at Sylvan Learning Centers across the nation, has been preceded by the Computer-Based Testing Program, a computer version of the written GRE test, said Kevin Gonzalez, an ETS spokes-

The GRE is a standardized test administered to graduate school applicants.

'The Computer-Based Test is meant to be a transitional step between the tradibe a transitional step between the tradi-tional pencil-and-paper test and the new Computer-Adaptive Test," he said. The Computer-Based Testing Program has been offered at Sylvan Learning Centers since last fall, said Ron Hester, director of the Sylvan Learning Center in Raleigh.

Sylvan Learning Centers and the Edu-cational Testing Service have signed a contract granting the Sylvan Learning Centers the sole right to administer the computer-ized version of the GRE, Gonzalez said.

The new Computer-Adaptive Test will contain a smaller amount of questions and will only present the test taker with ques-tions at the level of difficulty on which he is functioning, he said.

"The first question will be of medium difficulty," he said. "If you answer a question incorrectly, the next question will de-crease in difficulty. If you answer a question correctly, the next question will in-crease in difficulty." The test taker will receive more points for answering more difficult questions and fewer points for answering less difficult questions, Gonzalez said.

"The ETS wants only high scorers to get the hard questions," Krebs said. "They don't want low scoring students to gues and get the hard-scoring questions correct just by chance."

Gonzalez said he believed that the writ-

Gonzalez said he believed that the writ-ten administration of the GRE would be phased out completely by 1997 and re-placed by the Computer-Adaptive Test. The cost of the computer test is $93, compared to the $48 charge for the written examination. The current GRE test con-sists of 185 questions of varying difficul-ties. Gonzales said ties Gonzalez said

Patty Krebs, area director of Princeton Review, a national program that prepares students for standardized tests, said the new testing system would use computers to adjust the test to each individual student's level of competence.

She said this would ensure students would not have to spend time on questions that were too easy or too difficult for them. Krebs said she thought the Computer-Based Test would be awkward to take.

"The Computer-Based Test is a clumsy rersion of the written test," Krebs said. 'You have to scroll the texts back and forth to look at the reading and then at the

But Hester said he had heard few complaints from students who had taken the computer version of the GRE in Raleigh.

"Out of maybe 400 students who have taken the Computer-Based Test, only two students have said they didn't like it,' Hester said.

For the past two or three months, the center has included an extra experimental section on the test which resembles the new Computer-Adaptive Test, Hester said. To entice students to take the experimental section seriously, the students were allowed to claim the score of the experimental section if it was better than the score they received on the traditional test-ing, said Hester.

A lot of people have expressed interest in the Computer-Adaptive Program and are excited about the new system," he said.

Va. Woman Citizens of Northern Bosnia Racked By Lack of U.N. Aid, Severe Shelling Insanity in munition, but food and other civilian sup-

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina

It's been 100 days since tens of thousands of Muslims trapped between Serb and Croat guns in the nearly forgotten north have As Bosnia plunges into its second win-ter of war, U.N. officials are warning of disaster for at least 150,000 Muslims in the towns of Maglaj and Tesanj.

The reports that make it to the outside tell of near-starvation and ever fierce shelling from Serb and Croat artillery. "These two towns are basically a black hole for us," said Ray Wilkinson, spokes-not too us, san kay winkinshi, spokes-man in Sarajevo for the U.N. High Com-missioner for Refugees. Radio reports that shelling of the two towns had been intensifying for the past week are unconfirmed. But the situation clearly is grim.

A Bosnian army official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said shelling had been continuous for a month in what appeared to be a standoff. He said Muslim-led government forces have adequate am-

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK — After 1 1/2 years of denials — to his wife, to Howard Stern and Phil Donahue, to the producers of his made-for-TV movie — Joey Buttafuoco finally admitted it Tuesday: He slept with Amy

He admitted it happened at a motel. He admitted knowing she was just 16 years old. And he admitted it all in court, where he pleaded guilty to third-degree rape and set himself up for a six-month jail term. "On July 2, 1991, I had sexual relations with Amy Fisher at the Freeport Motel," Buttafuoco declared in a clear voice before a packed courtroom, acknowledging the affair for the first time. He appeared with-out his wife, Mary Jo, who is said to be standing by her man despite his confes-

Joey Buttafuoco's plea was one of the final frames of the saga that began May 19, 1992, when Fisher shot Mary Jo Buttafuoco in the head to clear the way for her affair with Joey Buttafuoco. Fisher is serving five-to-15 years for the shooting.

The "Joey and Amy" story captured the public's imagination like few others. There

About 1,300 other U.S. soldiers, bolstered recently by 400 elite Rangers, make up the Quick Reaction Force, designed originally to provide rapid relief for other national units that might find themselves

Boutros-Ghali has shrunk from Clinton administration suggestions that it might withdraw U.S. troops. He said a pullout would mean the abandonment of southern

Mogadishu to fugitive warlord Mohamed

And that, Boutros-Ghali said, would "condemn the people of Somalia to the resumption of civil war and all the horrors that would result." Somalia was torn by

U.N. Secretary-General Boutros

Fisher.

sion.

plies are scarce. "It's potentially the worst-off region of Bosnia," Wilkinson said. "If eastern Bosnia is critical, the Maglaj pocket has the poten-

"We have no specifics, but the condi-tions must be terrible. They must have very little food, virtually no medicines and prob-blu no ehelter." ably no shelter."

Sylvana Foa of UNHCR headquarters in Geneva said Tuesday marked the 100th day since an aid convoy has reached the towns. The last one turned back after it came under fire and two Danish drivers were killed

No aid officials are in the towns, which now rely on nighttime U.N. airdrops. About 110 tons were dropped last week, but much of it is believed to have drifted over enemy lines, out of reach of civilians.

Wilkinson said there were reports that four people had died of food poisoning, after eating wild mushrooms.

Buttafuoco Admits to Having Sex with Fisher as an instant book and three made-for-

TV movies. The Buttafuocos were guests

To movies. The Buildhoos were guests on the "Donahue" show, where Joey Buildhocowas vilified. Jokes proliferated: David Letterman drew laughs by simply saying "Buttafuoco," while Madonna tore

Buttafuoco's picture up on "Saturday Night

Live." "Let me tell you something. I don't cheat on my wife. No. Oh, no. Oh, no," Buttafuoco told radio host Stern last year.

Buttafuoco, who will be sentenced Nov.

15, had nothing to say after the 20-minute hearing before Nassau County Court Judge

Jack Mackston. Under a plea bargain, Buttafuoco's sentence will be no more than six months in jail, five years' probation and If he gets the maximum, Buttafuoco could be released after four months. "It was a difficult and hard day. I thought he handled it well," said Buttafuoco's at-torney, Dominic Barbara. "Joey Buttafuoco is prepared to do whatever he has to do for his children and his family."

What he wouldn't do, prosecutors said, was participate in a blood test and a physi-

9701 a $5,000 fine.

cal examination.

war among Aidid

and other warlords before U.N. intervention, and relief workers depend on

U.N. military pro-

troops took over from the U.S.-led force in May, one of

When U.N.

tection.

U.S. Troops Bound to Stay in Somalia to Hold Up U.N. Forces

The towns are the only Bosnian govern-ment holdouts in northern Bosnia, where

Serbs are consolidating a supply corridor connecting their occupied territories in western Bosnia and neighboring Croatia to Serbia proper. Bosnian Croats, who initially fought with the government against Serb forces, recently split and have cooperated with the Serbs in some areas. Lt. Col. Bill Aikman, a spokesman for U.N. peacekeepers in Sarajevo, said last week that some 40,000 people were trapped in Maglaj and more than 100,000 were holed up in nearby Tesanj. Wilkinson said it was possible that 200,000 people could be pinned down by shelling in the towns and surrounding areas, about 40 miles northwest of Sarajevo. If no convoys get through within a month, U.N. aid officials say they will any more aid is allowed to reach Maglaj. Wilkinson said such linkage "is out of the question" under UNHCR policies.

have to try dropping winter tents by air. Serb authorities in the northern Serb stronghold of Banja Luka demand that they be guaranteed more supplies before

Assistant District Attorney Fred Klein

thought the blood test would confirm Fisher's story that Buttafuoco gave her herpes; the physical exam would confirm her detailed description of Joey's physical attributes, including (but not exclusively) a

The plea to the most serious count of a 19-count indictment resolves the whole

Fisher's lawyer, Philip Catapano, said of the plea that "at least the world will know Amy Fisher was not lying." Although Buttafuoco denied it, Fisher charged they had an affair that included trysts in four motels, Buttafuoco's auto body shop on New York's Long Island and aboard his boat, "Double Trouble."

Fisher, now 19, was only 16 when the affair began, which is below the legal age of

There still might be an explosive finale.

Fisher, as the victim in the crime, has a right to speak at the sentencing — and she just might do that, said Matthew Rosenblum, another of her attorneys. "Amy Fisher," he said in understatement, "has a tendency to want to speak."

is a highly mobile light-infantry unit, equipped with a squadron of helicopters. The Rangers brought at least a dozen of their own helicopters with them when they arrived in August. While the QRF remains under U.S. and not U.N., command, its role has changed in recent months. Instead of being a reserve force, it is being used more and more as an operational unit. That, perhaps, reflects a lack of faith by some commanders in other U.N. armed consent in New York state.

mole on his inner thigh.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS TBILISI, Georgia — Georgian leader Eduard Shevardnadze imposed a curfew Tuesday in the capital and in regions torn by fighting between government troops and rebels loyal to the former president.

The overnight curfew was announced after widespread fighting between the rival armies was reported in western Georgia and several opponents of Shevardnadze were arrested.

"We need tough measures to combat terrorists and those forces attempting to overthrow the state," said Dzhaba Isoeliani, the military commander of Shevardnadze's Emergency Defense Council.

Shevardnadze, using special powers granted by Parliament, ordered the arrest of several prominent supporters of ousted President Zviad Gamsakhurdia.

David Mumuladze, a spokesman for Georgia's intelligence service, said a number of people had been arrested for "the lead the procession of different groups into Kenan Stadium.

BICENTENNIAL FROM PAGE 1

The main procession will be led by Mark Henderson, a 1951 UNC graduate, as he completes his re-enactment of Hinton

James' 155-mile walk from Wilmington. The final event of the day will be the president's speech.

Tepper said his office was waiting for confirmation of final details of the president's arrival. The Bicentennial Of-fice is working around the clock to accommodate Clinton's schedule, Tepper said. "No matter how well you plan for the president, there will be certain things you have to change," Tepper said. Hopefully, Clinton's itinerary will ac-

SCHOOL FROM PAGE 3

all students. "Socioeconomic biases both in policy and practice are felt by both

Juliana Datoashvili, a spokeswoman for Gamsakhurdia, called the arrests illegal The Defense Ministry said five govern-

Georgian Leader Imposes

Curfews, Orders Arrests

ment soldiers were killed and dozens wounded in skirmishes in western Geor-gia. Rebels are seeking control of strategic positions between the seaport of Poti and Kutaisi, the country's second-largest city. Gamsakhurdia loyalists captured Poti violation of emergency laws, the posses sion of firearms and sedition."

on Saturday and are trying to move east-ward toward Tbilisi, the capital.

Gamsakhurdia, Georgia's first demo-cratically elected president since it split from the Soviet Union in 1991, was overthrown in a military coup in January 1992. Returning from exile two weeks ago, he quickly amassed an army in his native stronghold of Mingrelia in northwestern Georgia and began trying to oust Shevardnadze.

commodate the scheduled time for his convocation address, Tepper said. If it does not, other dignitaries participating in the convocation will have to change their schedule. "The White House is aware of that, and we hope they will be sensitive to it "hearing" it," he said.

Tepper said that without the generous donations of time from volunteers and campus departments, the celebration would have been impossible. About 600 volun-teers, mostly students and some staff and local residents, have helped with the celebration.

Tepper said the work at the Bicenten-nial Office, located in the Alumni House, nai Office, located in the Alumni House, never stopped. He encouraged anyone in-terested in helping to drop by. "Someone is here 20 hours a day and generally in a good mood."

lic. This has got to change. "We need to remove programs that take away from academic time." Candidate Grainger Barrett was in Auspeacekeeping force from 33 nations. Without the 3,000 U.S. troops perform-ing logistics work under U.N. command, it would be impractical or impossible for many nations to send troops to Somalia. Their units depend on the U.S. contingent for water, food and transportation in trouble.

How To Be On Your Way To An "A." What Class Notes Can Do For You!

ah Aidio

1. Help to put lecture material in a better perspective. 2. Give the student the opportunity to learn how a quality student notetaker formulates and develops usable class notes.

3. Help the student in his or her notetaking for other courses, for which class notes are not available from the notetaking service.

4. Eliminate problems of not understanding or not hearing the instructor lords, who inherited BOUTROS-GHALL a huge arsenal of does not want the U.S. weapons after the to withdraw troops fall of dictator from Somalia. Mohammed Siad their mandates was U.N. Secretary-General

Barre in January 1991. The weapons were supplied by the Soviet Union and later the United States during the Cold War.

The U.S. Quick Reaction Force, known locally as the QRF, is one of the most essential parts of the U.N. military effort. It

With almost half of the U.N. force pinned down in positions in southern Mogadishu by militiamen loyal to Aidid, the QRF's helicopters have played an increasingly important — and visible — role. They are almost constantly in the sky low over southern Mogadishu where they patrol mean streets on which the United Nations has become increasingly loathe to send its soldiers on foot - surrendering them, in effect, to Aidid.

INTERNATIONAL CAREERS CONFERENCE Saturday, October 30 8:30AM-4:30PM

Hill Alumni Center - UNC-Chapel Hill

Sponsored by United Nations Association Local Chapters, Duke, NCSU, TUSS, and UNC-CH

Contact University Career Services, 211 Hanes Hall, for program and registration information. Fee $15.00. Registration Deadline: October 7 parents and students," she said. "Our community is now suffering from our neglect.

Candidate Billy Bevill said he always had supported the public schools. Bevill recently removed his children from the system, explaining that the schools were teaching a value-based education instead of the basics.

"I believe the critical issue is the level of communication with the board and citizens," he said. "There is never a time when the board collectively answers to the pub-1091/2 E. Franklin St.

tralia and therefore could not attend forum. Esther Tate spoke in his place.

In her opening statement, Tate said Barrett believed every parent had a stake in the success of every child.

"We must pursue academic success and excellence together as a community, or we will fall apart separately," she said. "He's deeply concerned for the success of African-American students.

"We must extend a lifting hand to en-sure all our children have a part in academic excellence."

You Make The Difference!

Hemophiliacs need a special clotting agent found in blood plasma. Now, you can donate your plasma to help a child like Harold. (In return, we'll compensate you for your time and help.) CALL TODAY AND FIND OUT MORE!!!!

SERA-TEC BIOLOGICALS