

Faculty-Alumni Debates to Explore Key Issues

BY JENNIFER AYRES
STAFF WRITER

Some of UNC's most famous alumni and distinguished professors will join forces to discuss some of today's most difficult issues in the Bicentennial Observance's Faculty/Alumni Exchanges Monday and Tuesday.

"The exchanges will provide thoughtful examination of difficult issues," said Steve Tepper, executive director of the Bicentennial Observance Office. "We hope that it will be a time that we ask ourselves hard questions and try to come up with some answers."

The faculty and alumni exchanges will focus on issues such as the media, race relations, education, and public health.

"We hope that students will come and provide some of the more thought-provoking questions," Tepper said.

Audiences will have to choose between the scheduled lectures on Monday and Tuesday—four will be held simultaneously on Monday from 3 p.m. to 4:15 p.m. Another five are scheduled for Tuesday from 3:30 p.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Three of the Monday sessions will be held in Alumni Hall in the George Watts Hill Alumni Center, located across from Teague Residence Hall. Monday's exchanges are:

■ "Care, Cure, Cost: The University and the Health of the Public," moderated by Kerry Kilpatrick, chairman of the Department of Health Policy and Administration, focus on health care in America, to be held in the alumni center. Part of the discussion will be devoted to addressing President Clinton's proposed health-care plan.

"We will focus on the questions around how we deliver the health care we need and want, under the circumstances, with the cost we want," said Stuart Bonard, dean of the UNC Medical School, one of the panelists for the discussion.

■ "Environment, Development, and Democracy," a panel that will discuss the conflicts between economic growth and environmental quality.

Richard N. Andrews, professor of environmental sciences and engineering, will serve as moderator of the panel, to be held in the Wilson Library Assembly Room.

■ "Media-Made America?" which will question the media's influence on society. Professor Jane Brown of the School of Journalism and Mass Communication will moderate the exchange in the alumni center.

■ "Freedom, Free Expression, and Free Debate," moderated by Chuck Stone, Walter Spearman professor in the journalism school.

The exchange in the alumni center will focus on the extent to which free expression exists today, Stone said.

The group will discuss whether political correctness denies or enhances freedom of expression, he said.

The discussions Tuesday are:

■ "Growing Apart or Growing Together?" a discussion about the advantages and disadvantages of multicultural curricula in universities.

Julia Wood, a professor of speech communication, will serve as moderator for the exchange in Great Hall.

■ "Science, Technology, and Cultural Change" moderated by Mary Ellen Jones, Kenan professor of biochemistry.

The exchange, which will be held in the Wilson Library Assembly Room, will center on technological advances, such as virtual reality and genetic engineering, and how they can become a part of everyday life.

"People want to know how to keep up with the rate of technology and how to integrate it into our lives," Jones said.

EDWARDS

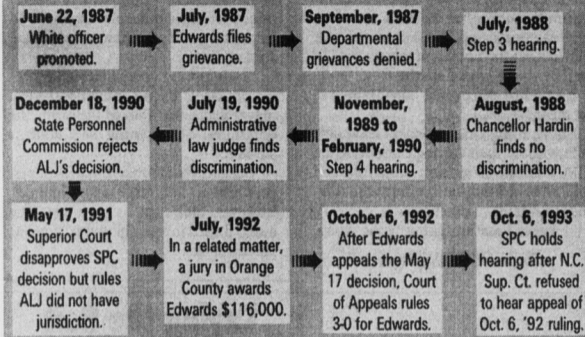

FROM PAGE 1

The superior court held a trial on the Edwards case in June and July of 1992. The court denied the SPC's treatment of the facts, but it upheld the SPC ruling that the Office of Administrative Law did not have jurisdiction in the case.

The jury in the superior court case awarded Edwards $116,000 in compensatory and punitive damages, but the University appealed to the N.C. Court of Appeals.

After a Court of Appeals ruling in Edwards' favor, the University petitioned the N.C. Supreme Court to hear the case. The supreme court denied the petition and remanded the case back to the SPC, where arguments were heard Wednesday.

Six-Year History of Keith Edwards' Grievance

Campus Calendar

THURSDAY
NOON: The BCC will present Eduardo Din, an architect, scholar and researcher from Cameroon, in workshops part I and II: "Africa as a Tool for Learning: How to use the Great Past to Empower a Better Tomorrow" in the BCC.
5 p.m. KASA will meet in Union 226.
The Rainforest Action Group will meet on the second floor of the Campus Y.
5:45 p.m. N.C. Hillel invites students to celebrate Simhat Torah at Hillel to carpool to the party.
6 p.m. Amnesty International will meet in the North Dining Room of Lenoir Hall.
University Career Services will sponsor a presentation by Provident Life and Accident Insurance Company in the North Dining Room of Lenoir Hall.
Brothers, a discussion group for and about African-American male students, will meet in the first-floor lounge of Hinton-James Residence Hall.
7 p.m. POWER, formerly the Women's Forum, will meet in 108 Bingham Hall.

University Career Services will sponsor a presentation by Sprint-Carolina Telephone in the Carolina Inn.
University Career Services will sponsor a presentation by Morgan Stanley in the Carolina Room of the Carolina Inn.
University Career Services will sponsor a presentation by Toyota Motor Sales in the North Parlor of the Carolina Inn.
Sangam will present AIDS in South Asia symposium in 100 Hamilton Hall.
7:30 p.m. The Office of the Student Body President will meet in 206 Dey Hall.
8 p.m. Charlemos, the weekly discussion group of the Spanish House, will meet in the second-floor lounge of Carmichael Residence Hall.
Chimera will meet in 307 Dey Hall.
ITEMS OF INTEREST
University Career Services will have applications available for the Foreign Service Officer

Exam in 211 Hanes Hall. Application deadline is Friday. Test date is Nov. 13.
University Career Services will hold an International Careers Conference Oct. 30 at the Hill Alumni Center. The program costs $15. Come by UCS, 211 Hanes Hall, for program information and registration form. Deadline Thursday.
University Career Services will sponsor the Job Hunters' Network to talk about job searching. Will meet at 3 p.m. Wednesdays, beginning today, in 307 Hanes Hall.
The Yackety Yack will be taking yearbook portraits until Oct. 15 in Union 213.
The Elections Board will have petitions available for Student Congress district 19. Applications may be picked up outside the Elections Board Office in Suite C and are due at 5 p.m. Oct. 11.
SHS Student Psychological Services will start a confidential support group for gay, lesbian and bisexual students meeting at 1 p.m. Mondays starting Oct. 11.

Bicentennial Schedule of Events

- SUNDAY, OCT. 10
2 p.m. Symposium. "The Arts, the Humanities, the University and Public Culture." Location: Hanes Art Center Auditorium
- MONDAY, OCT. 11
2-3 p.m. Opening Lecture. "A Tribute to Freedom." Li Lu, deputy leader of the Tiananmen Square demonstrations. Location: Great Hall.
3-4:15 p.m. Faculty/Alumni Exchanges
1. "Care, Cure, Cost: The University and the Health of the Public." Moderator: Kerry Kilpatrick, chairman, health policy and administration. Location: Alumni Hall, Section I, George Watts Hill Alumni Center.
2. "Environment, Development and Democracy." Moderator: Richard N. Andrews, professor, environmental sciences and engineering. Location: Wilson Library Assembly Room.
3. "Media Made America?" Moderator: Jane Brown, professor, journalism and mass communication. Location: Alumni Hall, Section II, George Watts Hill Alumni Center.
4. "Freedom, Free Expression and Debate." Moderator: Chuck Stone, Walter Spearman professor, journalism and mass communication. Location: Section III, Hill Alumni Center
4:30-5:30 p.m. Performing and Cultural Arts Events
1. "A Salute to American Musical Theatre" Terry Rhodes and Stafford Win, professors of music. Location: Person Recital Hall
2. "Carolina Songs" Clef Hangers, student a cappella group. Location: Hanes Art Center Auditorium
3. Step Show Black Greek Council. Location: Great Hall
8-10 p.m. A Bicentennial Concert Premieres. "The University of North Carolina Bicentennial Commemorative Suite," written by Richard Adler (Class of 1943). Performed by the N.C. Symphony and the Carolina Choir and Chamber Singers. Location: Memorial Hall
- UNIVERSITY DAY
TUESDAY, OCT. 12
10-11:15 a.m. Old East Rededication. Location: McCorkle Place (Rain: Memorial Hall)
11:30 a.m. - Noon Bicentennial Speakers
1. Elizabeth Gibson "Don't We Already Have Too Many Lawyers?" Location: 105 Gardner
2. Sue Estroff "The Human Faces and Voices of Medicine: Teaching Humanities and Social Sciences to Tomorrow's Doctors" Location: 101 Greenlaw
3. Frank Wilson "Thomas Wolfe's Chapel Hill" Location: 431 Greenlaw
- 4. Kenneth Reckford "The Trial of Socrates: Do Professors Corrupt Students?" Location: 111 Murphy
5. Soyini Madison "The Woman That I Am: The Literature and Culture of Contemporary Woman of Color" Location: 103 Bingham
6. Thad Beyle "From Yellow Dogs to Jessecrats: A Review of North Carolina Politics" Location: 08 Gardner
7. Rollie Tillman "From Rags to Riches: Secrets of the Great American Entrepreneurs" Location: 02 Carroll
8. William Powell "The History of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill" Location: Wilson Library Assembly Room
9. James Ketch "The Joy of Jazz" Location: Person Recital Hall
11:30 a.m. Special Meeting of the N.C. General Assembly. Location: Gerrard Hall
Noon - 2 p.m. Picnic in Polk Place. "Dawn of Justice" Program, co-sponsored by Campus Y. Location: Polk Place (Rain: Fetzer Gym)
1-1:45 p.m. Anniversary Lecture "The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the U.S. Presidency" William Leuchtenburg, William Rand Kenan professor, history. Location: Gerrard Hall
2-3 p.m. Davie Poplar Ceremony. Location: McCorkle Place (Rain: Memorial Hall)
3:30-4:45 p.m. Faculty/Alumni Exchanges
1. "Growing Apart or Growing Together?" Moderator: Julia Wood, professor, speech communication. Location: Great Hall
2. "Science, Technology and Cultural Change." Moderator: Mary Ellen Jones, Kenan professor, biochemistry. Location: Wilson Library Assembly Room
3. "Faith, Reason and American Values" Moderator: Warren Nord, director, Program in Humanities & Human Values. Location: Gerrard Hall
4. "Forging New Global Alliances: Competition, Cooperation, Survival" Moderator: John Kasarda, director, Institute of Private Enterprise, Kenan-Flagler Business School. Location: Carroll Hall
5. "Education: Preparing for the 21st Century." Moderator: Donald Stedman, dean, School of Education. Location: Union Film Auditorium.
5:30 p.m. Kenan Stadium gates open.
6 p.m. Pre-convocation concert by the N.C. Symphony. Location: Kenan Stadium
7-8:30 p.m. Kenan Stadium Convocation - presidential address.

Vote for Homecoming Queen Today in the Pit

Students can vote for the 1993 Homecoming Queen from 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. today in the Pit.

The Homecoming Court members are: Michelle Bozovich, a fifth-year pharmacy student from Greensboro; Jevonna Brooks-Fox, a senior speech communication major from Cary; Caroline Carver, a third year pre-dental student from Fayetteville; Maleikka Hardy, a senior political science major from Charlotte; Michelle LeGrand, a senior biology and philosophy major from Houston; and Tammy Virag, a graduate nursing student from Cary.

Each student must bring a semester registration card and a picture ID to vote.

LAST TWO DAYS

It's a Tradition - Make it your own!

SAVE UP TO $100

BIGGEST SALE OF THE YEAR!

superior styling

finest quality

lifetime warranty

fast delivery

ARTCARVED
College Jewelry

October 7 & 8
9 am-3 pm

Thursday-Friday
$20 Deposit

UNC Student Stores

Special Payment Plans Available

STALLONE SNIPES

THE 21ST
CENTURY'S
MOST DANGEROUS
COP

THE 21ST
CENTURY'S
MOST RUTHLESS CRIMINAL

DEMOLITION MAN

THE FUTURE ISN'T BIG ENOUGH FOR THE BOTH OF THEM

WARNER BROS. PRESENTS
 A SILVER PICTURES PRODUCTION SYLVESTER STALLONE WESLEY SNIPES "DEMOLITION MAN" SANDRA BULLOCK NIGEL HAWTHORNE
 PRODUCED BY DAVID L. SNYDER DIRECTED BY PHILIPPOUS ALEX THOMSON MUSIC BY ELLIOT GOLDENTHAL COSTUME DESIGNER JAMES HERBERT
 EXECUTIVE PRODUCERS STEVEN BRATTER AND FAYE SCHWARZ EDITOR PETER M. LENKOV AND ROBERT RENEAU
 EXECUTIVE PRODUCERS DANIEL WATERS AND ROBERT RENEAU
 PRODUCED BY JOEL SILVER MICHAEL LEVY AND HOWARD KAZANJIAN
 DIRECTED BY MARCO BRAMBILLA

THE BATTLE BEGINS OCTOBER 8