UNC's 3 Heads Better Than Hoyas' 1

BY IACSON LOWE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — When it was all over, North Carolina proved that a backcourt by committee beats a one-man team every time.

None of the three had an outstanding game, but UNC's Jeff McInnis, Donald Williams and Dante Calabria all contributed greatly to the Tar Heels 74-64 NCAA regional semifinal victory over Georgetown Thursday night at the Birmingham-

Jefferson Civic Center.

Meanwhile, Allen Iverson, the Big East Freshman of the Year, was trying in vain to keep his team's upset hopes alive. He finished with a game-high 24 points, but he took 20 attempts from the field, and not one of those fell in the first half.

That's where McInnis, the first member of the triumphant triumvirate, comes in.

"We just wanted Jeff to stay in front of him, make (Iverson) shoot the jump shot because he's not a great jump shooter, he's a great scorer," Calabria said. "We knew if we made him shoot jumpers, then when it

MEN'S BASKETBALL

FROM PAGE 1 Thompson. "We couldn't use any junk defenses, we couldn't collapse down on them, because they were hitting their 3s."

Georgetown struggled back, thanks to the inside work of Othella Harrington— he was 6 of 13 with 14 points in the first half— and a stretch where the Hoyas held the Tar Heels scoreless for 4:27 in the second natt.

"He got a couple of shots off and made a couple of baskets, and the momentum swing was going Georgetown's way," UNC center Rasheed Wallace said.

In the second half, the Tar Heels' defense focused on Harrington and limited

him to four points.

Wallace got going inside in the second

UNC vs. Georgetown
Score Box

FG .458, FT .619. 3-point gos villiams 4-9, Calabria 2-4, Landr worked in the first half. The Hoyas

Tar Heel point guard JEFF McINNIS was and managed only three points from instrumental in

"I took the challenge to go out and guard Iverson and to break their press," McInnis said. "He's a great, quick guard, and his team is looking to get it to him every time. He was going, we were trying to get a stop, and I didn't want to get in a one-on-one battle with him, so my team helped a lot, and I think we did a good job of that."

However, in the second half, the fresh-man phenom took over, as he has done so many times this year. He hit his first bucket half and did the same sort of damage that hari and did the same sort of damage that Harrington had done for Georgetown. Wallace ended the game with 22 points — 20 of them in the second half. But it wasn't just Wallace's scoring. It was the way he scored, too. His dunks off North Carolina misses hurt the Hoyas. He also hurt Georgetown when he caught the ball in the post, where he couldn't miss in the final 20 minutes.

Wallace was 9 of 9 from the field in the

"In the second half, in key situations of the game, he made some thunderous dunks that excited the fans, and I think it took the fans out of the game as we were coming back," Hoya guard John Jacques said.

As the Tar Heels moved inside in the second half, the Hoyas looked for the outside shot when the UNC defense collapsed on the Georgetown big men.

That strategy played right into North Carolina's hands. The Hoyas are an abysmal outside shooting team, hitting only 28.8 percent from 3-point land.

"I think we set out to expose their lack of outside shooting," said UNC head coach Dean Smith. "That's easier to play that way. I think it was hard for Harrington with three or four hanging around him."

The Tar Heels' defensive emphasis gave

"I thought the second half, probably, was the best offensive half he's had in the tournament," Thompson said.

But Iverson had another advantage in the second half. UNC point guard Jeff McInnis pulled his groin slightly, which hindered him in guarding Iverson.

"Jeff McInnis, I thought, did an excellent job on Iverson in the first half," Smith said. "He really had a groin pull, and we shouldn't have probably played him in the second half but did."

McInnis is expected to play Saturday when the Tar Heels take on the Wildcats.

The winner of that game will head to the Final Four in Seattle next weekend.

North Carolina came into the game 19-0 this season when it hit the magical mark of 50 percent from the field. But it was just helped themselves on the offensive boards

— they outrebounded UNC on the offensive glass 23 to 16.

The Tar Heels only shot 45.8 percent vs. the Hoyas, but it was enough to counter Georgetown's 33.3 percent. The Hoyas

Georgetown's star freshman guard Allen Iverson more room to operate. He did some damage both from the outside and in the open court. Iverson scored 21 of his 24 points in the second half.

Literally.

second half.

three minutes into the second half and scored 13 of Georgetown's next 17. It was too little, too late though, because the other members of UNC's trio had done their job members of UNC's trio nau done then jou in the first half.

Calabria finished the first half with eight points on 3-of-3 shooting. Williams added 13 in the first 20 minutes, and the duo's sharpshooting keyed UNC's 23-7 run to begin the game.

"I think when we did come out pretty hot, it gave us a lot of confidence that we could come out and win the game," Calabria said. "We knew they were going to come out and pressure the ball, but to come out and get a lot of points right offthe bat was a big plus for us."

Defeating Georgetown's vicious fullcourt press was where UNC's backcourt was at its best. The Hoyas forced 21 turnovers a game on the season, but North Overs a game on the season, but North Carolina finished Thursday with only 12. "They press 40 minutes," McInnis said. "We did a great job of beating it. In the first half, Coach (Dean Smith) told us when we beat it, don't just stop, keep on going through and try to score, and that's what Three heads are also better than one in the scoring department. McInnis was unable to hit a 3-pointer in five attempts, but Calabria and Williams picked up the slack, mailing a combined 6 of 13.

"We hit a lot of 3 right in the beginning, and in the second half, they chose to come out and make sure that we didn't get the open 3s," Calabria said. "When you leave Rasheed (Wallace) in there one-on-one, he's capable of of dominating the game." Indeed he did. While Iverson was scrambling inside the paint looking for his own shot in the second half, UNC's backcourt was distributing and dishing to the big man

The 6-foot-10 sophomore tallied 20 of his team-high 22 in the second stanza. The trio didn't score as much, but they gave the ball up seven times in the last 20 minutes for Tar Heel baskets.

"Earlier, I think we were getting shots we wanted and getting good looks," Will-iams said. "In the second half, we started moving the ball better and made Georgetown work to get it."

> Men's NCAA Schedule East Regional

Today: Wake Forest vs. Oklahoma State, 7:40 p.m.; Tulsa vs. Massachusetts, 30

nday: Regional championship, 2:40 p.m.

Midwest Regional

Kansas vs. Virginia, 30 minutes after nday: Regional championship, 5 p.m.

West Regional

vs. Maryland/UConn winner, 3:40 p.m

Southeast Regional

Saturday: Regional championship, UNC vs. Arizona St./Kentucky winner, 6 p.m.

Saturday: Regional championship, UCLA

Today: Memphis vs. Arkansas, 8 p.m.;

No. 1 Kentucky (27-4)

nference: Southeastern (14-2) Head Coach: Rick Pitino (282-116 overall, 149-42, 6th year at UK) How they got to Birmingham: beat No. 16 Mount St. Mary's 113-67; beat No.

9 Tulane 82-60. 9 fulane 82-60.

Starters: G, Tony Delk, 5-1, Jr., 16.3
ppg, 1.5 steals per game; G, Jeff Sheppard, 6-4, So., 8.6 ppg, 6.5 rpg;
C, Andre Riddick, 6-9, Sr., 4.6 ppg,
3.7 ppg; F, Rodrick Rhodes, 6-7, Jr., 13.0 ppg, 3.6 apg; F, Walter McCarty, 6-9, Jr., 10.4 ppg, 5.7

rpg Key Reserves: C, Mark Pope, 6-10, Jr

8.6 ppg, 6.5 rpg; F Jared Prickett, 6-9, Jr., 6.9 ppg, 4.8 rpg; G Anthony Epps, 6-2, So., 6.8 ppg, 4.1 apg What They're Saying: "We've watched a heck of a lot of film," Pope said. "We focus so much on the opponent and taking away their strengths. We must be slow learners, so we have to watch a lot of film." ... "I haven't had to worry one day about what the fans or alumni think," Pitino said about rebuilding the program after probation. "It's been a fun building process. This year, I've had the most fun. It feels like I've been coaching for three

No. 5 Arizona State (24-8)

Conference: Pacific-10 Head Coach: Bill Frieder (302-158, 111-71, 6th year) How they got to Birmingham: beat No. 12 Ball State 81-66; beat No. 13 Manhattan 64-54.

Starters: G, Marcell Capers, 6-2, Sr., 5.8 ppg, 7.1 apg; G, Isaac Burton, 6-5, Sr., 14.4 ppg, 2.0 spg; C, Mario Bennett, 6-9, Jr., 18.8 ppg, 8.2 rpg; F, Ron Riley, 6-5, Jr., 15.9 ppg, 5.2 ppg; F, Quincy Brewer, 6-5, So., 6.7 ppg, 5-4 rpg

ppg, 5.4 rpg
Key Reserves: G, Jeremy Veal, 6-3, Fr., 7.3 ppg, 1.3 rpg; C, James Bacon, 6-

9, Sr., 5.3 ppg, 4.3 rpg What They're Saying: "It's good to be alive," an elated Bennett said "My alive, an elated Bennett said ... "My players have done a great, great job," Frieder said. They give great effort every day, they come to play, they're very coachable. Probably the most important, for the first time in four years, we didn't have any off-court injuries." ... "If my barber's there with one of our credentials, can lost a barrytt while [im talking to (the can I get a haircut while I'm talking to (the media)?" an overworked Frieder asked NCAA media moderator Norm Reilly. "Is that legal? If we win one more gar expect that in the next round."

A crowd of over 200 people rushed the floor in Fetzer Gym Monday after New Breed won the Men's Comp Independent IM Basketball championship. New Breed captain Freddy Jones tipped the ball in at the buzzer to defeat the Outkasts.

The winners of the other divisions were Hickory Huskers (Grad/Fac), Booti Call (Women's Comp), School Bus Drivers (Men's Point), Kappa Sig (Frat), Red Rum (Men's Intermediate), Queens X (Women's Rec), The Crew (Co-Rec Comp), and DDS 96 (Co-Rec Rec).

Entries for the Co-Rec Kickball Tour-nament open Monday. The tournament is on Carmichael Fields April 1 at noon.

Club Sports

Over Spring Break, the UNC Crew Club won the gold medal in Varsity Light-weight competition at the President's Cup Regatta in Tampa, Fla.

The club captured three first-place fin-ishes last weekend at the Crawford Bay Crew Classic in Portsmouth, Va. The men's varsity, women's heavyweight and women's lightweight each finished first in their respective classes.

Maribeth Schorn and David Knight of the Tae Kwon Do Club each received gold medals at the 11th annual state champion-ships in Wilmington. Schorn won the gold in both sparring and in forms. Knight won the gold in forms and silver in sparring.

The event was a qualifier for the na-tional championships, to be held in Houswith a last-minute goal by Randy Vogel to break a 3-3 tie. Neil Harding, Russel Stone and Brian Aimes each scored.

The Baseball Club remained undefeated with a sweep of UNC-Greensboro and William & Mary this weekend. UNC-Grouped two games to the club, 12-5 and 4-3. The club's record now stands at 7-0.

The Men's Lacrosse Club split games this weekend, defeating Elon College 12-10 and falling to UNC-Wilmington in the last minute, 7-6. Dan Doyle scored four goals in the win over Elon, and Ryan Hipp added a hat trick.

The club played Duke Thursday and hosts Appalachian State Sunday.

With victories over Tennessee and South Florida, the Women's Rugby Club placed second in the Mardi Gras International Rugby Tournament in New Orleans. The was shut out 8-0 in the final game club was snut out o-0 in the innat game against Michigan.

Catholic University defeated the Men's Rugby Club 21-20 in Washington, D.C. UNC could have tied the game after score.

UNC could have tied the game after scoring in the last minute, but missed a kick.
The Outing Club sponsored a hiking trip to Linville gorge last weekend.
The Men's Volleyball Club played its final home game of the season against Duke Wednesday night. Saturday, the club travels to Virginia to compete in the EIVA Championships at James Madison.
COMPILED BY REUBEN SACK

UCLA Grinds Mississippi State; Wolfpack Women Fall to UGa.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

OAKLAND, Calif. — Ed O'Bannon swished rainbow jumpers from the edges of the court, Tyus Edney spun acrobatically through the middle, and UCLA's mugging defense put the final touches on an 86-67 romp Thursday night over out-all 80-97 foling Intrinsialy might over out-classed Mississippi State.

O'Bannon's 21 points led the No. 1 Bruins (28-2) to their 16th straight victory and put them into the NCAA West Re-gional final Saturday — one win away from their first Final Four appearance since 1980

Georgia 98, N.C. State 79

DESMOINES, Iowa—Georgia moved to within one victory of its first final four trip in 10 years, beating N.C State 98-79 in the NCAA Midwest Regional semifinals Thursday night behind the second-half scoring of the NCAA Midwest Regional semifinals and the second semificaction of the NCAA Midwest Regional semifinals. ing of La'Keshia Frett and Tracy

Frett scored 18 of her 28 points in the second half, and Henderson had 17 of her 21 in the final period as the 12th-ranked Lady Bulldogs (27-4) advanced to Satur-day night's regional championship game.

Virginia 63, Louisiana Tech 62

STORRS, Conn. - Tora Suber's layup with 3.7 seconds remaining lifted Virginia over Louisiana Tech on Thursday night in the semifinals of the NCAA East Regional.

The third-seeded Cavaliers will play top-seed Connecticut Saturday for a berth in the final four.

Suber's basket capped an uphill struggle for UVa., which trailed much of the game.

Texas Tech 67, Washington 52

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Tabitha Truesdale scored 18 points as Texas Tech dominated Washington on both ends of the court for a 67-52 victory Thursday in the NCAA Mideast Regional semifinals. The second-seeded Lady Raiders (33-3) will play No. 1 seed Tennessee Saturday night in the regional final.

Tennessee 87, W. Kentucky 65

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Dana Johnson scored 25 points Thursday night and top-seeded Tennessee dominated the boards to beat Western Kentucky 87-65 in the NCAA Mideast Regional semifinal.

Women's NCAA Schedule Saturday's Regional Finals East Regional Connecticut vs. Virginia, 11 a.m. Mideast Regional Tennessee vs. Texas Tech, 7:30 p.m.

Midwest Regional
Georgia vs. Colorado/George Washington

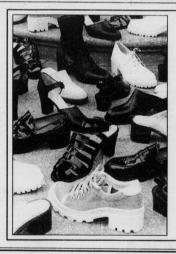

winner, 9 p.m.

West Regional

Purdue vs. North Carolina/Stanford winner, Midnight

Connecticut 87, Alabama 56

STORRS, Conn. - Jen Rizzotti matched her season high with 24 points, half en route to a 87-56 thrashing of Ala-

Women Bear the Weight of the World.

They shouldn't have to do it in ordinary shoes.

452 W. FRANKLIN ST., • CHAPEL HILL 933-4007 MON-SAT 10-6 • SUN 12-5

THE Daily Crossword by Harvey L. Chew

63 Common code 64 Palmy havens

65 — majesty 66 Twofold 67 Giggle 68 Gaelic

69 Aleutian isle

2 In a group of 3 Horowitz's instrument

4 Fan
5 Abandon on an

DOWN 1 Chute or graph

Calvin and Hobbes

WOULD YOU CARE FOR

UM, OK.

THANK YOU.

ACROSS
1 Dad
5 Ancient kingdom
9 Louisiana native
14 Surrounded by 15 "Hawkeye"
16 Come up
17 Wander
18 Actual 19 Accuses
20 Pass
23 Time zone
letters
- setter letters
24 — setter
(hunting dog)
25 Painter Bonheur
27 One: Ger.
28 Pellets
32 Recreation
35 Raised platform
36 Give out

35 Raised platform
36 Give out
36 Give out
37 Tired old horse
38 Mall visitor
41 Pitcher's stat.
42 Verdi work
44 Double curve
45 White heron
47 Ready
49 Patriotic org.
50 "— creature was..."
51 Abhor
54 — Luis Obispo
56 Sinclair Lewis novel
60 Public square
62 Upon the

FRIENDS, ONE SHOULD TRY NOT TO LOOK QUITE AS SEEDY AS CERTAIN UNNAMED PARTIES WELL? WHAT HAVE YOU HABITUALLY DO. WHO'S ENTERTAINING?

WHEN ONE ENTERTAINS FEMALE

8 Fancy dance 9 Gorge 10 Coach Parseghian 11 Cy Young award winner 12 Employs 13 Aerie

21 Makes revisions

28 Yawned 29 Mature

33 Brace

A M E R R O M E D O U B T

Monday's Puzzle solved:

30 Ireland 31 M.D.'s "right

A SPOTTED TIE IS JUST THE

34 "Liquor is quicker" poet 35 Venetian magistrate

39 Of sixty minutes
40 Vaquero's item

46 Part of the goal — down 51

(reprimand) 52 Swagger

Windward Islands 53 Pick up the tab 54 "Out, damned—" 55 Wings 57 Insectivore 48 Comfortable 49 Undergraduate's

58 At any time 59 Asian river 61 Waltz ending healthy Eat, Drink and Be Healthy With a Nutritious Meal at THE HEALTHY

Low Prices & Large Portions

count fat grams &

calories, all your nutritional information is printed on your receipt!

And, there's no need to

Fresh Food Selections (hot & cold)

Fat-Free & Low-Fat Alternatives Rotisserie Chicken

Fresh Fruit Smoothies Fat-Free Cookies, Muffins & Brownies

Fast & Easy Service (no tipping necessary)

WE NOW DELIVER!

107 N. COLUMBIA ST. CHAPEL HILL OPEN: 10am - 9pm

BUY ONE SMOOTHIE & GET ONE HALF PRICE! COUPON VALID UNTIL 4/15/95