"Most everyone else stays inside (the Tin Can) or else on the outdoor track, where there's a lot of bodies around cheering for each other. (Distance) takes a lot of discipline, and I'm so happy that they're doing such a good job at it." UNC was successful in the sprints as well. Freshman Edward Neufville captured first in the men's 400-meter dash with a time of 52.23. Dominic Demeritte won the 200-meter dash with a time of 23.40. Sophomore Joanne Smith and freshman Reagan McDonald took second and fifth in the women's 200-meter dash, respectively. Sophomore Melanie Seller and junior Heather Weldon also took second and fifth in the 400-meter dash. In the field, the UNC women won first and second in the high jump. Jennifer Dixon took first with a leap of 1.68 meters, and Tonya Ulery won second.

Former Clemson Coach, 86, Laid to Rest

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS CLEMSON, S.C. — Clemson's Frank Howard was buried Sunday next to the stadium he loved, high above the field that bears his name. Howard, who became the school's winningest coach during his 30 seasons, died Friday at age 86 of congestive heart failure after months of declining health. Almost 1,500 friends, family, ex-players and fans turned out to pay their respects to Howard.

South Carolina athletic director Mike McGee. The members of the 1948 team, Howard's first undefeated club at 11-0, served as pallbearers. Howard won eight conference championships and 163 games from 1940-69. He was credited with turning Clemson from a small agricultural school into a national football force. Frank Howard Field sits inside Clemson's Memorial Stadium. Following the ceremony in Jervey Gym, the crowd in dark suits, dresses and heels, climbed to Cemetery Hill, about eye level with Memorial Stadium's upper deck, for Howard's interment.
