

Men's Lax Looks to Rebound Vs. Duke

BY REUBEN SACK
STAFF WRITER

Despite recording its first loss of the year to Princeton on Sunday, North Carolina's men's lacrosse team is good enough to beat any team in the nation, coach Dave Klarmann said.

"I think we can beat every team we play," Klarmann said. "I think we can beat Princeton if we play them again. I think we can beat Duke. I'm not saying we will, but that goes for every team on our schedule."

The 5-1 Tar Heels will have the opportunity to put Klarmann's theory to the test at Fetzer Field at 7 p.m. Tuesday when they face the No. 10 Blue Devils.

"It is an intense rivalry, and of course any Carolina-Duke game is very emotional," senior Jude Collins said.

"It is going to be exciting, any game against a big, ranked school is."

Before Sunday's loss to the Tigers, the No. 4 Tar Heels had reeled off five consecutive wins to start the season.

It was the first time a UNC lacrosse team had accomplished that since 1993, when they began the year with nine wins on their way to NCAA title game.

JUDE COLLINS said games against the Blue Devils are always emotional.

"I don't think our confidence is hurt (by the Princeton loss)," Collins said. "We have lost before. It's not like Carolina is 50-0 over the past four years."

Klarmann said his players' self-esteem did not concern him.

"Duke knocks that confidence out of you every time," Klarmann said. "I don't worry about that confidence. I let them worry about that ... I don't get involved with them emotionally. I don't get involved with them on that level. That is not my job."

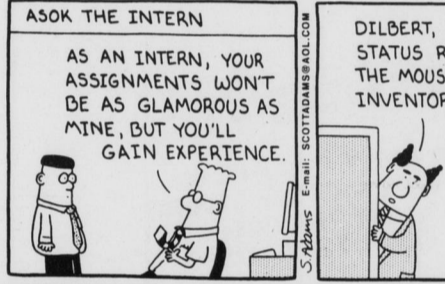

"My needs are simple — I want them to win."

The Blue Devils beat No. 18 Navy on Saturday 15-6 to improve their record to 3-3.

Japan's Ito Lands 4 Triples, Leads Qualifiers at Worlds

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

EDMONTON, Alberta — Midori Ito is back, promising to get better before the end of the week.

Ito won her qualifying group Monday at the World Figure Skating Championships, even though she stepped out of her trademark triple axel and two-footed a triple salchow.

In her first international event as an Olympic-eligible skater since the 1992 Games, the Japanese star impressed the seven judges, finishing first with all of them.

"I'm not 100 percent satisfied," Ito said through an interpreter. "But it was good to be on the rink and to get a feeling of being at worlds. From that aspect, it was very helpful."

"But as far as the skating, I'm still not satisfied."

Ito did well enough, landing four triples and showing some of the verve and athletic skills that helped her win the 1989 world title and a silver medal at Albertville. She just wasn't overwhelming, which probably isn't fair to expect after so few major competitions since she turned professional after the '92 Olympics.

Tara Lipinski, who is half Ito's age, was second in the group, from which 12 skaters advanced. Tomia Kwiatkowski, the other American woman who had to qualify — Michelle Kwan already was in the main draw after finishing fourth at the 1995 worlds — was fourth in her sector.
