Women's Golf in Fourth

The North Carolina women's golf team remained in fourth place Monday after the second round of the Duke Spring Invitational at the Duke Golf Club in Durham. UNC compiled a second-round team score of 316 during the second of three days of competition. The Tar Heels' overall score of 622 leaves them 28 shots behind first-place Duke. Wake Forest is currently second, followed by Tennessee. Tar Heel Kelly McCall remained the highest UNC golfer on the leaderboard after shooting a 77 on Monday. McCall is currently tied for sixth with a 149. Rachel Poston, currently 12th in the field, led UNC's individual efforts with a 2-over par 75 in drizzly and damp conditions. Poston holds a two-day total of 152. Duke's Kathi Poppmeier moved into first place in the individual competition with a second-round 67. Her two-day total of 141 leaves her one stroke ahead of Wake's Laura Philo, currently in second, and Demon Deacon Alexandra Armas, currently in third with a two-day total of 144. Other UNC golfers in the competition include Patricia White, who is tied for 29th with a 160, and Megan Morgan, who is tied for 47th with a 167. White shot a second-round 79 on Monday, while Morgan posted an 85. The tournament concludes its team and individual competitions today.

UNC Basketball Recruit Garners Parade Plaudits

Point guard Ed Cota, a 6-foot-1 high school senior from Oakdale, Conn., who has committed to attend North Carolina in the fall, was named to Parade magazine's All-America High School Boys Basketball Team on Thursday. Cota was one of 40 athletes from 25 states named to the All-America team and will join three former Parade All-Americans currently competing for the Tar Heels. Current Tar Heel juniors Jeff McInnis and Serge Zwickler and North Carolina freshman Vince Carter were all named to the Parade team during their high school careers.

Lax Begins Rivalry Vs. Blue Devils

Five years ago, Jenny Slingluff and Kerstin Kimel battled each other on a women's lacrosse field for an NCAA championship. It was 1991. Slingluff, Virginia's most potent offensive weapon, was marked by Kimel, Maryland's best defensive stopper. Slingluff's Cavs won that day; Kimel's Terps took revenge the next year for the same title. The women have been ACC rivals, competitive champions and friends. Tonight, they meet again — this time as first-year coaches. When North Carolina (8-1) and Duke (2-7) meet at Fetzer Field, the rivalry that began in their college years will continue, but this time in competitive shades of blue. "I think Kerstin and I both respect each other a lot," Slingluff said. "I know that both she and I want to see a clean, crisp game, and I think we will. And I think we have both adopted the Carolina-Duke rivalry, so we both want to win." The Tar Heels have turned in a better-than-expected beginning to UNC's first-year program. North Carolina rides a seven-game winning streak into tonight's matchup, while the Blue Devils, another first-year team, broke a three-game losing skid when they beat Stanford on Saturday. "Duke doesn't have a great record right now, but they have a good team and a lot of talent," Slingluff said. Amy Mumick and Meghan McLaughlin lead the Blue Devils with a combined 28 goals and eight assists. Natalie Lamarque has started all but one game in goal, com-

Wildcats Outlast Orangemen to Win NCAA Title

Kentucky's depth eventually wore down Syracuse to give Coach Rick Pitino his first national championship.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — Kentucky has its first national championship in 18 years, the one it was supposed to win all season. The Wildcats got it with a 76-67 victory over Syracuse on Monday night, a loss that earned the Orangemen the respect few gave them going in. The sixth national title in school history, second only to UCLA's 11, came through the scoring of senior Tony Delk and freshman Ron Mercer. And, of course, the famed pressure defense and the ability to use college basketball's deepest roster. Syracuse, a 14-point underdog, has the most NCAA tournament victories without a title. A 36th NCAA win would have meant a first national championship. Now, this Syracuse team joins the one-point losers to Indiana in the 1987 championship game in sustaining the most bitter defeats in school history. Delk, voted the outstanding player, finished with 24 points and tied the championship game record with seven 3-pointers. The Wildcats finished with 12 3s, critical in cracking Syracuse's 2-3 zone. Kentucky tied the title game record for 3s by a team. Mercer came up with a career-high 20 points, all but six of the points the deep Kentucky bench provided. More importantly, the extra bodies enabled the Wildcats to keep up the defensive pressure; Syracuse finished with 24 turnovers, 19 more than it had in the semifinal win over Mississippi State. John Wallace, the Syracuse senior who returned to school rather than enter the NBA last year, finished with 29 points and 10 rebounds. But he left the game in tears when he fouled out with 1:06 to play and Kentucky leading 72-67. The blowout that most people expected looked like a distinct possibility when Delk's four-point play with 11:12 left gave the Wildcats a 59-46 lead, their largest of the game and one point less than the spread.

But the Orangemen came up with a 12-3 run, and Wallace's three-point play got them within 62-58 with 7:58 left. Wallace made two free throws with 4:46 left to make it 64-62; Syracuse was there long after it had been expected to fold up and go away. In fact, Kentucky called a timeout with 5:24 to play because its players looked exhausted. Delk missed a 3-pointer, but Walter McCarty tipped it in, and after Jason Cipolla missed a driving jumper for Syracuse, Derek Anderson got the backbreaker of the 12 3-pointers with 3:52 left. The Orangemen were able to get within five points one more time, but soon Kentucky had its title and coach Rick Pitino was able to cut down the nets. Lazarus Sims, the Syracuse point guard expected to have trouble against the pressure, finished with six points, seven assists and seven turnovers. He missed a couple of minutes in the second half after he injured his left wrist in a collision. The Orangemen turned the ball over on each of the three possessions he missed. Syracuse couldn't have asked for more from the zone in the first half as Kentucky struggled with its shooting from everywhere. With the exception of Delk's three 3-pointers in the opening eight minutes, the Wildcats were missing layups, drives, short jumpers and long ones. A 3-pointer by Wallace with three minutes left in the half tied it 28-28, then Mercer and Delk combined for all the points in a 12-2 run over the next 1:49. Mercer, considered the best high school player in the country last season, started the spurt with a three-point play, and his second 3-pointer of the game was sandwiched by two 3s from Delk.

pling 61 saves for a .445 save percentage. Freshman Erin McGinnis leads UNC's attack. She's hit almost 54 percent of her shots, tallying 30 goals and 17 assists. Lori Pasquantonio (21 goals, 13 assists) and Amy Fine (12 goals, nine assists) — two transfers — and Sharon Moore (19 goals, three assists) and Sarah Dacey (16 goals, seven assists) — who also play on other UNC teams — round out UNC's potent attack. "I think we were fortunate that we got great athletes from the women's soccer and field hockey programs, and two transfers have really helped us," Slingluff said. "It was really hard to predict what the season would hold for us... and we've had ups and downs."

Irvin Indicted for Possession, Could Face 20-Year Jail Term

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
DALLAS — Michael Irvin, the Dallas Cowboys' all-time leading receiver and one of the NFL's most popular players, was indicted on two counts of drug possession Monday. He faces up to 20 years in prison if convicted. Irvin and two female companions were indicted by a grand jury less than a month after police found them in a motel room littered with cocaine and marijuana. The indictment charges Irvin with felony possession of at least four grams of cocaine and misdemeanor possession of marijuana. Irvin, former teammate Alfredo Roberts and the two women, described by police as topless dancers, were found in an Irving, Texas, motel room March 4 with drugs and paraphernalia. Jail officials said Irvin was arrested shortly after the indictments were returned, then released on $5,500 bond. He was seen entering the grand jury courtroom about 1:30 p.m. Monday and was seen leaving the Lew Sterrett Justice Center with Roberts about 3 p.m. Just 10 weeks earlier, Irvin helped the Cowboys to their third Super Bowl championship in four years. Telephone messages left with Irvin's attorney, Kevin Clancy, were not returned. No trial date has been set for the case. There was no decision on whether to indict Roberts, a 31-year-old business associate of Irvin, said a spokeswoman with the district attorney's office. Irvin and one of the women, 22-year-old Angela Renee Beck, face punishment of two to 20 years and a fine of $10,000 if convicted on the cocaine charge. The misdemeanor charge is punishable by up to 180 days in county jail and/or a $2,000 fine.

Umpire Collapses, Dies of Heart Attack

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CINCINNATI — Umpire John McSherry, who planned to see doctors the next day about an irregular heart beat, collapsed on the field seven pitches into Cincinnati's opener Monday and died at a hospital about an hour later. The devastated Reds and Montreal Expos postponed the game about an hour after McSherry collapsed. It will be replayed in its entirety Tuesday. University Hospital said McSherry died of "sudden cardiac death," a condition in which the heart beats out of control.

McSherry, 51, was listed at 328 pounds and had a history of medical problems. He had told the other umpires that he was going to be treated Tuesday for arrhythmia, or abnormal heart beat. McSherry, the crew chief and home plate umpire, turned away two minutes into the top of the first inning and headed for the tunnel behind the plate that leads to the umpires' dressing room. He fell face-first when he reached the warning track. He was declared dead at 3:04 p.m. at University Hospital. A spokeswoman said McSherry's heart had stopped beating.

TEACHING ASSISTANTSHIPS IN WMST 50

The Curriculum in Women's Studies is filling one teaching assistantship for WMST 50, the introductory Women's Studies course, for Spring 1997. The stipend is $3400. Duties include responsibility for two discussion sections (of approximately 25 students each) and participation in other aspects of the course (accounting for about 2.5 additional hours per week). Graduate students pursuing their Ph.D. are eligible for these positions; persons with a broad background in Women's Studies are encouraged to apply. Applicants must have teaching experience. Strong preference will be given to applicants who can fill the position in 2 consecutive academic years (i.e. Spring 1997 and Spring 1998).

Teaching assistants are expected to attend lectures which meet Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30-3:15. Discussion sections will meet on Tuesday and Thursday 10 times during the semester. Sections will be scheduled at 12:30-1:45, 2:30-3:15, and 3:30-4:45.

Interested graduate students should submit the following:
-letter of application (include a daytime phone #)
-vita
-one letter of recommendation from a member of the UNC-CH faculty that evaluates teaching ability and progress towards a degree (or two separate letters, if necessary).
