

SWIMMING Page 9

Back in the pool

The Tar Heel men's and women's swimming and diving teams opened their seasons with a tough meet against top 20 Georgia this weekend. UNC's Chrissy Miller (left) posted the second fastest 200-yard butterfly time in school history.

SPORTS

National Football League Scores

inguinal i octorii monduo cocioc
Carolina9	Pittsburgh 20	Dallas 29	Buffalo at Philadelphia 20	Atlanta 17	Miami 10	N. England (I
Indianapolis 16	St. Louis 31	Kansas City 7	Monday's game
Washington 31	Baltimore 37	Denver 34	Chicago at Minnesota
J'ville 21	San Francisco 10	N.Y. Jets 31
Cincinnati 28	Houston 9	Arizona21
N.Y. Giants 35	Tampa Bay 7	San Diego 13
Detroit 7	Green Ray 13	Seattle 32

Monday, October 28, 1996

Tar Heels hammer Houston with air assault

UNC's quarterbacks threw for 350 yards and 5 touchdowns Saturday.

> BY JOSEPH ROLISON SPORTSATURDAY EDITOR

HOUSTON - When all else fails, take to the air.

On Saturday, No. 9 North Carolina's rushingattack ran into a brick wall against a Houston. Houston defense that had been run over all season. So the Tar Heels set aside the running game and aired it out. And by the time North Carolina quarterback Chris Keldorf and his cohorts were done pick-ing apart the Houston secondary, the Tar Heels had throttled the Cougars 42-14 in front of a meager crowd of 16,850 at the "(Keldorf) was incredible," UNC coach Mack Brown said. "You'd like to think it was a 'zone,' ... but a lot of things had to happen (offensively) tonight.

"Nothing came easy—Houston made us work, and there were no cheap ones." True, the Cougars didn't fold early to the Tar Heels (6-1). The UNC defense allowed 27 more yards than its average, while Houston gave up only 129 yards on the ground. Again, UNC's special teams faltered, as kicker Josh McGee had one field goal try blocked and another glanced off the left crossbar.

But it was the other numbers — Keldorf's 322 yards and four TDs in the air and Leon Johnson's 221 all-purpose yards — that helped UNC pull away from the Cougars (44). Johnson broke the Tar Heels' touchdown record by scoring his 43rd TD on a one-yard run with 8:28 left in the first half.

Johnson also broke UNC's career all-

SEE FOOTBALL, PAGE 11

Bly, Johnson, Keldorf add names to UNC record books

HOUSTON — Judging from the atmosphere, one wouldn't have guessed North Carolina's 42-14 win over Houston was very historic.

Only 16,850 fans came to the Astrodome for the game, and many had left by the time the Tar Heels put in their second string. And the matchup itself wasn't monumental - the ninth-ranked team in the country vs. a mediocre foe.

But UNC overcame apathy and averted a possible letdown, thanks in large part to record-smashing efforts by three Tar Heels — quarterback Chris Keldorf, tailback Leon Johnson and cornerback Dre' Bly.

"Each week, it seems like Leon starts to break some new records," UNC coach Mack Brown said. "Now Chris is starting to break them, and Dre's around the ball all the

First, there was Keldorf, the calm, collected OB who seemingly could do no wrong. After throwing for the second-highest game total in UNC history vs. Mary-land, the junior ripped apart Houston's defense for 322 yards and four touchdowns.

His yardage on Saturday represents the third-highest passing total in a game

His effort against the Cougars marked

LEON JOHNSON

broke UNC's touchdown and all-purpose yardage

the first time a Tar Heel has ever thrown for 300-plus yards in consecutive games. And Keldorf hasn't thrown an interception in three games — an amazing stat compared to last year, when he fired 15 interceptions at Palomar (Calif.) Junior

But more importantly, Keldorf's accomplishments came at a time when the Tar Heels needed it most. LJ and the other UNC runners couldn't buy a substantial gain.

"Basically, (Keldorf) gets a lot of probasically, (kettorly gets a fot of pro-tection up front, and he's throwing the ball very fast past people," Houston coach Kim Helton said. "He deserves any credit he gets... and he doesn't throw many bad balls."

Just ask Johnson, who grabbed four balls from Keldorf for 36 yards. LJ could only manage 74 tough yards on the ground against a defense that hadn't stopped the run all year.

But Johnson had his turn with the Cougar 'D' in other areas, especially in the kick-return department. Brown had Johnson return punts instead of Bly on three occasions, and LJ racked up 82 yards on those runbacks.

Add in his 39 yards on kickoff returns, and Johnson's 231 all-purpose yards Sat-urday moved him to the top of the UNC all-purpose list and third in ACC history. broke Don McCauley's record of 5,014 yards, set in 1970.

Johnson's returns also met an imme-diate need by setting the Tar Heel offense up in prime field position.

"I feel proud for myself, the team, the offensive line and the coaching staff," Johnson said. "When you set a goal for yourself that you accomplish, you can't

SEE RECORDS, PAGE 11

Tar Heel forward Temoc Suarez (left) attempts to keep the ball inbounds during UNC's 3-2 overtime loss to N.C. State on Saturday. UNC has now dropped three of its last five matches.

Men's soccer succumbs to State, drops another overtime contest

BY M. LEE TAFT ASSISTANT SPORTSATURDAY EDITOR

Despite having a one-man advantage for most of the game and despite outshooting its opponent 26-9, the North Carolina men's soccerteam couldn't hold off N.C. State, losing 3-2 in overtime on

The loss epitomizes what has become

Tar Heels, marking the third game in which UNC has surrendered a one-goal lead to eventually lose or tie its opponent. After rattling off six straight games without a loss, UNC has now dropped three of its last five matches.

"If you take the goals away we are a pretty good team," UNC coach Elmar Bolowich said. "But unfortunately the goal-scoring and defending is a big part of soccer, and that's where we come up

In the waning moments of the match NCSU turned a Tar Heel defensive error into the game-winning goal. The UNC defenders got con-fused deep in their own box, and Carson White slipped a shot past UNC goalie Dimitry Drouin, giving the Wolfpack the game.

"There's just no way that, especially with 10 men on the that we field. should let anyone score on us," Drouin said. "If we score two goals, I

CAREY TALLEY notted the score at

The Wolfpack (7-5-2, 1-3-2 in the ACC) struck first during the 14th minute when Oronde Ash played a corner kick into the box. Jaman Tripoli found the ball in the air and headed it past Drouin goal just before halftime when Carey Talley blasted a ball toward the NCSU net, beating keeper Kyle Campbell. But before the ball could cross the goal line, Wolfpack defender Ian Hooper blocked the ball with his hands, keeping the ball out of the net. Hooper was given a red card and ejected from the game, forcing NCSU to play one man down for the rest

On the ensuing penalty kick at the UNC fails to finish ... again rebuild for the future.'

BY MIKE SUNDHEIM STAFF WRITER

Another game, same old problems. In Saturday's 3-2 overtime loss to N.C. State at Fetzer Field, the North Carolina men's soccer team showed that it has yet to cure the ills that have plagued it all season. The Tar Heels dominated for nearly the entire match, but an inability to finish on various scoring opportuni-ties haunted UNC's play once again. They outshot the Wolfpack 26-9, but still couldn't find the back of the net as

"I don't feel either sorry for myself, nor do I feel sorry for our team," UNC coach Elmar Bolowich said. "That was something we deserved. It's just the fact that we can't get it done and we have to accept that and we have to

UNC's only scores for the day came on a penalty kick by junior midfielder Carey Talley and a score by freshman Greg Danielson, which came on his only shot of the day. Talley and Temoc Suarez combined to take 17 shots, but Talley's penalty kick was the only one that found the net. As a team, North Carolina outshot the Wolfpack 26-9.

"We can't finish," Suarez said. "I don't know how many times we're going to have to go through it. If we can't put the ball in the net, we're not going to win games.

Even the return of senior forward Victor Suarez with just under 10 minutes remaining could not spark the Tar Heel attack. Victor Suarez returned to

SEE FINISHING, PAGE 11

into the back of the net.
UNC (7-5-1, 1-2-1) responded with a

42:00 mark, Talley again beat Campbell,

Preseason ACC Basketball Picks

Last Year Team

N.C. State

Maryland

257

127

100

12-4

7-9

6-10

but this time it counted, tying the game at

After relentlessly blasting shots at the Wolfpack goal, UNC finally made use of its one-man advantage and took the lead midway through the second half when freshman Greg Danielson put away a pass from Mercer Reynolds on a play set up by Joe DiSalvo.

The Tar Heels seemingly had the game in check from this point, switching to a conservative defensive style to prevent

State from scoring.

But the Wolfpack tied the game on a play on which UNC's defense again had problems. On a long throw-in, Ash re-ceived the ball in the box and blasted a

SEE MEN'S SOCCER, PAGE 11

SPORTS SCHEDULE

Wednesday Field Hockey at Duke, Durham, 4 p.m. Men's Soccer vs. Radford, Fetzer Field, 7 p.m. Women's Soccer vs. Maryland, Fetzer

Thursday Yelleyball vs. N.C. State, Carmichael Auditorium, 7 p.m.

Field, 3 p.m.

Friday Swimming & Diving in Tar Heel Invitational, Koury Natatorium, en's Tennis in Rolex Southeast Championship, Cone-Kenfield Tennis Center, all day

Saturday en'e Cross Country at ACC Championships, College Park, Md., 10 a.m.

's Cross Country at ACC npionships, College Park, Md.,

Fencing at Temple Collegiate Open, Philadelphia, PA, all day Field Hockey vs. James Madison, Navy Field, 1 p.m. Football vs. N.C. State, Kenan Stadium, noon

formen's Soccer at N.C. State, Raleigh, 1 p.m.
wimming & Diving vs. Minnesota, Koury Natatorium, TBA
formen's Tennis in Rolex Southeast Championship, Cone-Kenfield Tennis
Center, all day

Sunday

Fencing at Temple Collegiate Open, Philadelphia, PA, all day Field Hockey vs. Radford, Navy Field, Men's Soccer vs. Wake Forest, Fetzer Field, 2 p.m.

omen's Tennis in Rolex Southeast Championship, Cone-Kenfield Tennis Center, all day

Wake, UNC take top 2 spots in ACC media balloting

BY ALEC MORRISON ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

GREENSBORO — Wake Forest men's basketball coach Dave Odom says his team can't improve upon last season. The ACC media say the Demon Dea-

ACC writers picked Wake to finish first and North Carolina second Sunday in the league's annual preseason poll at the 1996-97 edition of Operation Basketball. The Demon Deacons received 65 of a possible 84 UNC women voted first-place votes preseason favorite See Page 9 in the balloting and 718 points overall. The Tar Heels received three first-place votes and 610 total points.

to be better is that we won the league (last year)," Odom said. "You can't get better than winning the league.
"Our job this year is made more difficult because I think the league is maybe as good as it's been in a long while. I think we're gonna have to fight like crazy to stay in the upper echelon of it.'

think we should win the game.

ACC Player of the Year in 1995-96, the Demon Deacons have as strong a frontcourt as any in the league, and if guard Tony Rutland recovers on time

610 10-6 Duke Georgia Tech 339

Wake Forest Maryland 243 8-8 But the majority opinion among coaches and writers was that Wake remains the team to beat in the ACC. With from a knee injury, Wake has the potential for a tough backcourt as well. the return of center Tim Duncan, the Most of the league's coaches agreed the ACC is as talent-laden as ever, and it showed in preseason voting. Clemson finished third in the balloting with 14 first-place votes and 578 points overall, just edging Duke, which was fourth with two first-place votes and 556 points over-

Virginia, Georgia Tech, Florida State, Maryland and N.C. State rounded out the fifth through ninth positions, respec-

SEE ACC MEN, PAGE 11