

Memorial Honors Dental Researcher

Speakers related personal memories of dental fellow Fusayoshi Matsukawa at a memorial service Friday.

By ARMAN ANVARI
Staff Writer

More than 100 family members, friends and colleagues crowded the John M. Reeves All Faiths Chapel at UNC Hospitals on Friday to pay final respects to Fusayoshi Matsukawa.

Nicknamed "Yoshi," the UNC Dental Fellow died Nov. 6 from significant head injuries after being hit by a car Thursday on Manning Drive.

The memorial began with a non-denominational Christian service and finished with several speakers giving their personal recollections of Matsukawa's life and accomplishments. "It was a brief but very good service," said Professor Mitsuo Yamachi of the Dental Research Center. "Each speaker spoke from his own point of view about Yoshi's life."

School of Dentistry Dean John Stamm spoke first during the memorial service, focusing on Matsukawa's accomplishments as a scholar and his relationship with others at UNC.

"I focused on the idea that although Yoshi was at the beginning of his career, in a sense none of us ever finish our work," Stamm said. "I also tried to emphasize to the family that Yoshi obviously had a real gift for touching people and making friends and that was reflected by the phenomenal attendance at this service."

"Not only am I talking about the largeness of the audience but also the diversity of the people there. They were from all sorts of countries, backgrounds, young and old. That struck me very much, and I'm sure it struck the family even more deeply."

Most of the service was conducted in Japanese, including the scripture readings and hymns that were sung.

While most of the attendees were Japanese friends and family of Matsukawa's, many of his colleagues from the dental school attended to pay their respects.

"Before his death, there was a very sad feeling around the whole dental school because we knew his accident was very serious," said Cynthia Suggs, histology technician. "When we came back to work Monday, word was out that he had died. It was expected because of the severity of his accident, but we were still saddened."

In the wake of Matsukawa's death, many who attended the service continued to reflect on his character and kindness. "(Yoshi) was generous and kind," Suggs said. "He went back to Japan in May, and when he came back he had a little gift for me. It was not necessary, but

"Before his death, there was a very sad feeling around the ... school because we knew his accident was very serious."

CYNTHIA SUGGS
Histology Technician

it was just a kind thing to do.

Stamm said the service was complicated by the large foreign audience present and by the fact that many attendees had to fly in from other countries to pay their respects. But he said it was handled well by organizers.

"The service was 80 percent Japanese and 20 percent English, but it was very dignified," he said. "I think it made the family, especially the young widow, Yumi Matsukawa, feel better to see what kind of service was held to honor his memory."

"I've never been prouder of UNC-Chapel Hill. It was a wonderful service, and in an amazing way it responded to the needs of a grieving family."

The University Editor can be reached at udesk@unc.edu.

Campus Calendar

Today

5 p.m. - Advocates for Children and Teens and the Sonja H. Stone Cultural Center will host a dinner discussion, "Is color the difference between 'just another statistic' and 'a national crisis'?"

The discussion of attention given to suburbia versus inner-city violence will take place in the BCC.

6:45 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. - A new temple for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will be opening in Raleigh next month. Come hear about what this means to Latter-day Saints and the community at large in Union 206.

7 p.m. - The Carolina Photography Association will hold its meeting in 103 Bingham Hall. Anyone interested in photography is welcome to attend.

7 p.m. - The Residence Hall Association will sponsor a "Resident Assistant Information Session - Get a Clue to What RAs Do" in the first-floor lounge of Hinton James Residence Hall.

7:30 p.m. - The Dialectic and Philanthropic Societies will debate "An Eye for an Eye" on the third floor of New West. Guests are welcome.

8 p.m. - UNC Young Democrats will hold its weekly meeting in 108 Bingham Hall to discuss candidate platforms and positions in national and state elections.

Tuesday

6 p.m. - The UNC Journal of Social Science and History will hold its weekly meeting in Union 108. All students interested in being on the staff are welcome. The undergraduate journal also needs paper submissions. Submit class papers and theses to mitgon@email.unc.edu with attach. word.doc or contact Mital Gondha at 914-2408.

6:15 p.m. - The N.C. Student Legislature will hold its meeting in 420 Hamilton Hall. All students interested in politics are encouraged to attend.

7 p.m. to 10 p.m. - The Carolina Indian Circle will hold its Second Annual Political Prisoners Benefit Show in the Union Cabaret.

There will be musicians and speakers in an open-microphone format. Admission is free.

7 p.m. - The Carolina Socialist Forum will have its regular meeting in 117 Hanes Art Center.

7 p.m. - The Sixth Annual Sonja H. Stone Memorial Lecture will feature Dr. Sonia Sanchez in Carroll Hall.

A book signing and reception will follow in the Ackland Art Museum.

Wednesday

12:30 p.m. - Patricia Owens, former associate U.S. Commissioner of Disability for the Social Security Administration, will speak on "The

This Week in Tar Heel History ...

50 Years Ago:

This week in 1949, a UNC student was rescued after being lost for five days in the Atlantic Ocean aboard a homemade sailboat.

25 Years Ago:

This week in 1974, 12 UNC-system presidents met to create the Union of N.C. Student Body Presidents, a legislating body for the 16 N.C. public schools.

10 Years Ago:

This week in 1989, the Restaurants Sharing V (5) plus V (5) Percent (RSVP) program began. The program involved 49 local restaurants, which donated 10 percent of their earnings to the Inter-Faith Council Community Kitchen and the Family Services Pantry.

Union 205.

Items of Interest

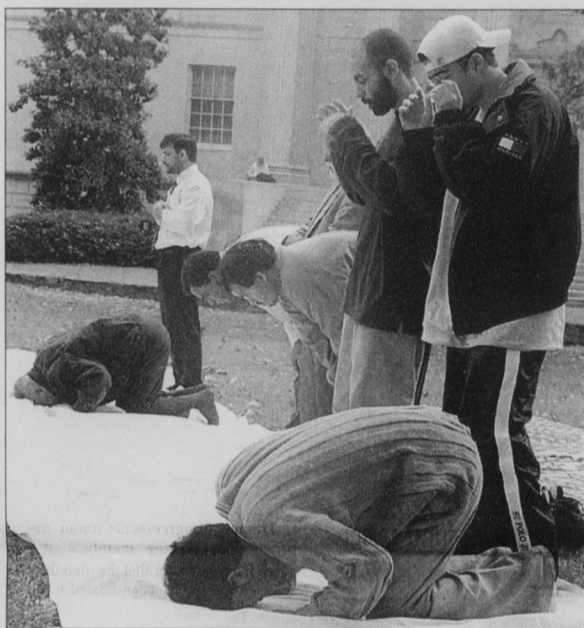

The Student Environmental Action Coalition will be celebrating America Recycles Day in the Pit today.

Come check out their table to learn more information on recycling, play fun games and be rewarded for using a reusable container.

Advocates for Children and Teens are sponsoring Stop the Violence Week.

Join us in the Pit today to remember youth killed by violence and to make an outward commitment to protecting youth.

POLK PLACE PRAYER

DTH/ELAN DASSANI

Members of the Muslim Student Organization pray in front of Wilson Library as part of Muslim Awareness Week. They organize a regular prayer every Friday in the first-floor chapel of UNC Hospitals.

ASG Bill Seeks to Deter Future Tuition Hikes

The UNC Association of Student Governments said raising tuition would restrict access to education.

By JONATHAN MOSELEY
Staff Writer

GREENSBORO - Delegates representing nearly every UNC-system school passed a resolution Saturday that discourages tuition increases at state-supported universities.

The statement was in response to recent student-opposed proposals to raise tuition at UNC-Chapel Hill and N.C. State University.

UNC Association of Student Governments delegates said the move magnified differences between the two research universities and the rest of the system, making the schools less accessible.

"This problem (of tuition increases) is something that is going to be discussed at every (UNC) campus," said ASG President Jeff Nieman.

The Legislative Affairs Committee hashed out the details of a bill expressing disagreement with the recent decision made to raise tuition at UNC-CH, N.C. State and all other state universities.

The resolution came on the heels of a UNC-CH Board of Trustees proposal to raise tuition $1,500 for all students at the University, primarily to increase faculty salaries.

N.C. State officials followed suit last week with discussions to raise tuition for their students to improve student services on campus.

The committee agreed without debate that tuition increases would be harmful to students and widen the gap between wealthy and low-income students.

"We have counties in this state that do not have a single student at Chapel Hill simply because they're poorer," said UNC-CH Student Congress Speaker Mark Kleinschmidt.

"We cannot have that." After more than an hour of committee deliberation and deliberation, the finished proposal was presented to the entire ASG delegation.

The resolution stated, "Under this proposed tuition increase, the total cost of attendance at UNC-CH would be about $13,000, almost twice that of a sister university within the University of North Carolina (system) ..."

"It would not be in the best interest of North Carolina for its residents to select an institution based on cost, rather than other factors."

After the unanimous vote in favor of the resolution, N.C. State Student Body President Raj Merchandani addressed the ASG.

"We really believe (the bill) was important to pass today," he said.

"It has the potential to affect thousands of students."

The ASG plans to send its resolution to every student body president in the UNC system Monday.

They hope the move will encourage student leaders across the system to fight the tuition increase proposals.

The discussion ended in hopeful anticipation of affecting the final UNC tuition decision.

Nieman said the Legislative Affairs Committee planned to further develop its resolution before presenting it at the UNC Board of Governors meeting in February.

There, the BOG will finalize its recommendations for addressing low faculty salaries, which it will submit to the N.C. General Assembly in May.

The State & National Editor can be reached at stntdesk@unc.edu.

STUDENT TRAVEL

Planning Trips for Generations X, Y, and Z.

(800) 777-0112

STA TRAVEL
We've Been There.

www.statravel.com

Tutor for Credit

The UNC Peer Tutoring Program needs tutors for the spring 2000 semester. If you have a 3.0 gpa and would like to tutor one of the courses listed, please pick up an application form at either the Carolina Union or 103 Phillips Annex. If selected, you can receive 3 hours P/F credit for the semester. Tutoring will take place either Tuesday or Wednesday evenings from 6-9 pm in Dey Hall.

3-4 tutors are needed each night for • Math 10, 16-18, 22, 30, 31, 32, 33 • Statistics 11, 23	2-3 tutors are needed each night for • Physics 20, 24, 25 • Chemistry 11, 21, 41, 61, 62 • Economics 10, 100, 130 • Business 24, 71 • Spanish 1-4	1-2 tutors are needed each night for • French 1-4 • Biology 11, 50, 53	One tutor is needed on at least one night for • German 1-4 • Italian 1-4 • Portuguese 1-4 • Other Languages • Anthropology 10 • Geology 11 • Astronomy 31 • Philosophy 20, 21, 22 • Political Science 41
--	---	---	--

Applications are available at the Carolina Union and at 103 Phillips Annex. All applications are due November 23 by 5pm. Questions? Call the UNC Learning Center at 962-3782.

An affiliate of American Club Systems

AC FITNESS

A Total Health & Fitness Club

911 Emergency Fitness Sale

Get Started Now For $9.11 3 Days Only!

Mon., Nov. 8th - Tues. Nov. 9th & Wed., Nov. 10th 5am-10pm

- Best Equipment In Town
- Free Aerobic Classes
- Free One On One Training
- Tanning
- Professional Staff
- Super Clean Facility
- Kids Care

CALL NOW! 960-9910
503 W. Main Street
Carrboro, NC
acfitness.citysearch.com

Must be 18 yrs. of age or older, local resident and first time guest. Certain restrictions apply.

Reach Out to Your Community. And Reach For Your Goals.

You possess the skills, the talent, the innovative drive and the commitment to hard work that make any career an extraordinary one. What you need is an employer who will offer you the opportunities to achieve goals beyond the limits of your own expectations.

The University of North Carolina Hospitals, a 678-bed academic medical center on the campus of UNC-Chapel Hill, is currently recruiting students for the following positions:

STUDENTS, ARE YOU INTERESTED IN A HEALTH CARE CAREER? EARN UP TO $13.00/hr!

If you are looking for permanent, reliable, part-time employment, UNC Hospitals may have just the right option for you. This is especially a great opportunity if you are considering a health care career and wanting to enhance your resume.

We have several part-time positions available for Health Unit Coordinators. These positions range from 8 to 20 hours per week and all require the ability to work on a day and/or evening shift every other week-end. Our Health Unit Coordinators work on our inpatient units and in our Emergency department, performing a wide variety of clerical functions. Excellent communication skills, familiarity with computers and an ability to juggle several tasks at once in a fast-paced environment are essential in this job. Applicants must have a high school diploma, a minimum of 1 year of clerical experience, or 1 year of college experience to qualify.

This program has been specially created to accommodate Spring semester college schedules. You must be able to attend all of the orientation and training as follows:

January 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 10 and 11	8:00am-4:30pm
January 13 and 14	5:30pm-10:30pm

Reach out to: www.med.unc.edu/hospshr/ to view a complete list of our job opportunities and download an application

UNC Hospitals Employment Office
James T. Hedrick Building
211 Friday Center Drive
Suite 1097
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 966-5224
FAX: (919) 966-6918

EOE

UNC HEALTH CARE

THE TAR HEEL ACTION RECREATION & SPORTS CLUB (TARS)
INVITES YOU TO PARTICIPATE IN A DISCUSSION ENTITLED
"Addressing Concerns, Meeting Needs And Providing Accommodations And Services For Disabled Students In Triangle Universities."

4-5:30PM, Monday, Nov. 15, Student Union room 224

PANEL PARTICIPANTS:

Diane Alexander PROGRAM DIRECTOR FOR STUDENTS WITH SPECIAL NEEDS - Duke University	James Fuller DIRECTOR OF SERVICES FOR DISABLED STUDENTS - North Carolina Central University	James Kessler DIRECTOR - DEPARTMENT OF DISABILITY SERVICES - The University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill
--	---	---

Please contact Eileen Oto (929-9645) or Judy Carrasco (419-1335) for additional information.

America Recycles Day 1999

Monday, November 15

Buy Recycled for Them

For information on buying recycled go to "resources" at www.americarecyclesday.org

Orange Community Recycling 968-2788
UNC Waste Reduction & Recycling 962-1442