Thursday, February 10, 2000

Gunfire Causes Anger, Concern

A Carrboro woman troubled by mysterious gunfire in her neighborhood has brought the issue to the attention of Jackie Allen of 123 Pine St. wrote a letter to the Board of Aldermen and then presented her concerns before board members Tuesday night.

In a letter to the board, Allen described how she saw her neighbor shoot a semiautomatic rifle from his back steps. She explained her worry that the gunshots, which she said were aimed at squirrels or the sky, could cause accidental harm.

"More disturbing is the fact that he was firing live ammunition upwards where it could easily stray from the intended target," she stated in the letter. "Given how densely populated Carrboro is, discharging any firearm within town limits puts people at risk.

Carrboro town ordinance forbids the discharging of firearms within the town's

"No person may discharge any pistol, rifle, shotgun or other gun or any air pistol, slingshot or any like instrument used

Carrboro police Capt. Joel Booker said he had talked to Allen and answered her requests for information about the repeated shootings. He said offenders could not be arrested, however, unless an officer was in their presence during the act and actually saw them shooting the gun. "We want to do everything we can to help Mrs. Allen," he said. "But for a misdemeanor like that, an officer has to be in their presence to be able to arrest anyone and bring them before the magistrate to schedule a court date."

In her letter, Allen challenged the board to strengthen gun laws.

"I urge you to please pass an ordinance requiring some jail time, even for to eject a pellet or projectile within the town limits," states the ordinance.

Punishment for violating the law is a fine of $25 to $500, depending upon the discretion of the judge, plus $86 for stray bullets hitting someone. Allen's complaint has led the board to take measures in researching the problem and a solution.

Alderman Mark Dorosin said the board was considering ways they could take her concerns "Given how densely populated

Carrboro is, discharging puts people at risk."

JACKIE ALLEN

ings into account.
"At the meeting, we asked a any firearm within town limits town attorney to research and create a memo to give us options on what we could do to strengthen about the shoot-ordinance." Allen stated in her letter that she hoped the board would do something about the shootings.

"Mandatory jail time never killed anyone. Stray bullets have."

The City Editor can be reached

THE GRAVEYARD SHIFT

Workers do major construction under Rosemary Street late Wednesday night. The Chapel Hill thoroughfare between Hillsborough and Henderson streets was ablaze with high-power lights and crowded with several employees as Orange County Water and Sewer Authority workers installed a new water line.

Feminist Pushes for More Campus Activism

Eleanor Smeal, president of the Feminist Majority Foundation, encouraged students to get involved.

By GEOFF WESSEL

A national feminist activist aimed to heighten student awareness of issues such as gender violence and the gap

GO AWAY!

And spend summer 2000 abroad in

Florence, Staly

Applications are due

by February 15, 2000

For further information please contact the UNC-CH Study Abroad Office in 12 Caldwell Hall (919) 962-7001

abroad@unc.edu

http://study-abroad.unc.edu

NO LATE APPLICATIONS WILL BE ACCEPTED

between men's and women's average salaries Wednesday.

Eleanor Smeal, president and co-founder of the Feminist Majority Foundation, spoke at the School of Social Work as part of her 48-campus tour of U.S. colleges. Smeal's speech, "Forging Feminism and Fighting the Backlash," brought up a wide range of feminist goals and other aspects of the modern feminist move-

Smeal, a former president of the the main goal of her speaking tour was to encourage interest in the upcoming Feminist Expo 2000, to be held in Baltimore, Md., this March.

"Get involved," Smeal urged the audience. "We need you desperately. For this to be a world of social justice and not a world of hate, more people have to great involved." have to get involved."

She stressed that the feminist move ment was not over.

"We did not win in the 20th century," she said. "There were some steps forward, but we still need a movement.

"There is no area that I find is secure Every place I work there is a backlash." Smeal compared the anti-feminist backlash of the religious right in America to the Taliban militia in "... We still need a movement. There is no area that I find is secure - every place I work there is a backlash."

ELEANOR SMEAL

Afghanistan, which confines women to their homes and deprives them of many human rights such as education.

She said the main goals of her non-profit organization were to end the Afghanistan gender apartheid and to protect women's access to birth control

The FMF is also committed to getting

U.S. ratification of the U.N. Convention to Eliminate Discrimination Against Women, a document that only five other countries have not yet signed.

Smeal spoke about the injustice of society's marginalization of minorities and the poor as well as women. She mentioned the fight against sweatshops, saying that most did not realize factories were also divided on gender lines, with female workers separated and earning even lower wages.

Senior psychology major David Chapman, one of a handful of men in the audience of about 100, said he wa surprised by the impact the speech had

"I hadn't expected to be this inspired," Chapman said. "We should-n't really consider it just a women's movement anymore, but instead a movement towards justice in general. The religious, political and economic issues she talked about affect us all."

Smeal said men would be more active if they knew more about the

"Equality is when everybody gets behind it," Smeal said. "Women and men should work together to eliminate

outhwick

The University Editor can be reached

Campus Calendar

Students United for a Responsible Global Environment will be collecting donations of food, clothing and medical supplies for Iraqi citizens under U.N. sanctions. The public is invited to bring donation

5:30 p.m. - The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will hold its general body meeting in Union 210. Those interested in joining are welcome to attend.
6:15 p.m. – The UNC Journal of Social Science and History will be having photos taken for the Yackety Yack in Union 108. Those students who are a part of the staff and would like their photo taken are welcome.

7 p.m. - GROWISE will hold a benefit dinner in the Great Hall of the Student Union. The proceeds generated by food, prizes and swing dance lessons will go toward women's will go toward women's education. Tickets are $5 in the Pit and $6 at the door. The public is welcome. 7:30 p.m. – The Campaign to End the Death Penalty will hold a meeting in 357 Hamilton Hall. All those interested in joining are welcome

For the Record

The Feb. 9 article "Diversity Tops Forum Talk," should have stated that student body president candidate Brad Matthews only said, "Minorities are underrepresented on our campus."

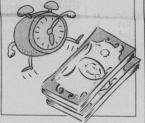

The Daily Tar Heel regrets the error.

We have a cure for

Cabin Fever!

Money

- FAFSA and Profile forms must be received by MARCH 1
- THE EARLIER, THE BETTER--If you qualify for Need Based Scholarships, filing your FAFSA and Profile forms early can have a positive affect on the amount of aid you receive and
- · You can submit FAFSA and Profile forms on-line.

FAFSA:

www.ed.gov/prog_info/SFA/FAFSA www.profileonline.cbreston.org

HAVE YOU FILED YET?

Please call or stop by the Office of Scholarships & Student Aid for Forms and Financial Aid Information

Office of Scholarships & Student Aid

- of each year you wish to be considered for Financial Aid
- when you receive it.

3rd Floor Pettigrew Hall 962-8396

Make College Easier! Improve Your Grades! Get Real World Advice!

Land A Great Job!

The General Alumni Association in conjunction with the Orientation Office & University Career Services invites you to

"Major in Success"

90 career-building minutes with the dynamic Patrick Combs Thursday, February 10, 6:30pm, Manning Hall, Room 209

Patrick is 30 years old and earned $80,000 his first year out of college.

PARTICIPANTS RECEIVE A FREE COPY OF PATRICK'S BEST SELLER, "Major in Success."

"My advice is simple stuff. It's not rocket science. If you don't feed the career part of your brain while you're here at school, it won't get fed at all" - Patrick Combs

Patrick Combs is the author of Major in Success: Make College Easier, Beat the System and Get a Very Cool Job, a nationally famous speaker and television personality. His presentation will focus on how to ensure success during and after college. Patrick is industrious and energetic. He is one of the best speakers you will ever see. He appears regularly as a guest reporter on the national television shows, Real TV and Hard Copy.

Questions? Call the sponsors! General Alumni Association at 962-3582 Orientation Office at 962-8521 University Career Services at 962-6507

Offered in support of the "Alternative Programs" initiative, Division of Student Affairs

GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

How Would You Score?

Open to the Public

$5 OFF CART FEE

Student & Staff Weekday Specials

$22 with cart/$11 walking*

WITH PURCHASE OF 18 HOLE GREEN FEE VALID ANY DAY WITH COLLEGE ID

www.southwickgolf.com CALL FOR TEE TIMES 942-0783

3136 SOUTHWICK DRIVE • GRAHAM, NC 27253

LSAT GMAT GRE MCAT DAT

Take a Test Drive and find out!

GRE Saturday Feb. 19th GMAT Saturday Feb. 19th 1pm LSAT Sunday Feb. 13th 1pm MCAT Sunday Feb. 20th 1pm

> Or take it online from February_15-29 at kaptestdrive.com!

