University Center for International Studies
Funding Opportunity for Graduate Students

UCIS is reopening its Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) competition for academic year 2000/01. We invite applications from graduate students interested in studying a less commonly taught language. In particular, we encourage proposals for the study of Arabic, Kiswahili and Indonesian/Malay (which will be offered for the first time at UNC beginning Fall 2000). We will also consider applications for the study of other less commonly taught languages offered at UNC, including Chinese, Japanese and Vietnamese (or Korean, which is offered at Duke). The stipend is $11,000 plus full tuition/fees/health insurance. Applicants must be US citizens or permanent residents. Please submit the following materials to Dr. Niklaus Steiner, CB# 5145, 223 East Franklin Street, by March 10: 1) a 3-4 page proposal, including a description of your research interests; 2) graduate transcripts; 3) 2 letters of recommendation from UNC faculty; 4) a CV; 5) a letter from a language instructor attesting to language capability (not required if applicant has no prior knowledge of the language); and 6) a completed application form (available at <http://www.unc.edu/depts/ucis/funding/flas.htm>).
