

DIDGERI-DOO WHAT?

Recent UNC graduate Jay Marlow plays the didgeridoo in the Pit on Tuesday. Marlow picked up his didgeridoo skills while living in Australia for six months.

DTH/BRENT CLARK

The University and Towns IN BRIEF

Foreign Service Exam Deadline Approaching

Students and faculty interested in a career in diplomacy can register for the upcoming Foreign Service Written Examination. The exam will be given Saturday, Nov. 4, at Wake Tech. The registration deadline is Oct. 6.

More information on the Foreign Service Written Examination and registration forms are available online at the Department of State's Web site at <http://www.state.gov/www/careers/index.html>. Anyone who wants further information about the exam or U.S. State Department internships and

Campus Calendar

Today

8 a.m. - The Century Project, by artist Frank Cordelle, is a series of nude photographs of women, accompanied by highly personal and moving statements by women whose lives span 100 years. The project, displayed in Union 205 and 206, is free and open to all.

10 a.m. - AD-STOMP, a petition-signing and demonstration against advertisers' exploitation of women's bodies, will be held in the Pit. The event is sponsored by the Advocates for the Empowerment of Women of All Color, a division of the Campus Y. Everyone is invited to come out with magazines and offensive advertisements in support of National Love Your Body Day.

4 p.m. - Jane Kaufman will hold an information session for first-year students and sophomores interested in career opportunities should contact Ambassador Brenda Brown Schoonover at schoonov@email.unc.edu.

UNC English Professors To Read Short Stories

Three UNC faculty members will read from their short stories, which are included in an anthology of North Carolina writers' works, at 5:30 p.m. Sept. 28 in Wilson Library. Sarah Dessen, Marianne Gingher and Daniel Wallace will read their works from "This Is Where We Live: Short Stories by 25 Contemporary North Carolina Writers."

The program is open to the public. Copies of the book will be sold at the Bull's Head Bookshop before and after the program, and a book signing will follow the readings.

UNC Faculty Members Win Hettleman Award

The 2000 Philip and Ruth Hettleman Prizes for Artistic and Scholarly Achievements by Young Faculty were awarded to four UNC faculty members.

Art Professor Michael Harris, biology Professor David Pfennig, law Professor

Eric Muller and physics Professor Otto Zhou received $5,000 each and were recognized at Friday's Faculty Council meeting. The award recognizes junior tenure-track faculty or recently tenured faculty. Recipients will lecture about their work during the next school year.

Local School to Receive All Bread Sale Proceeds

Estes Hills Elementary School students won a competition among area schools to be "Bakers for a Day" at the Great Harvest Bread Company in Chapel Hill. From 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sept. 24, students, parents and teachers from the school will get to keep 100 percent of all sales at the bread shop.

Proceeds from the day are expected to go to a special book room project and to help pay for school supplies.

Basketball League Seeks Referees, Scorekeepers

The Chapel Hill Parks and Recreation Department needs referees for adult and youth basketball games on Monday through Thursday nights, Saturdays and Sundays. The games run from October to March.

Training is provided for positions, but a knowledge of state high school rules is helpful. Pay ranges from $10 to $16 per game. Scorekeepers and timers are also needed for the basketball games. Experience and knowledge of basketball rules are helpful, but not necessary for the positions. Pay ranges from $6.50 to $8.25 per hour. Applications for all programs are due by Sept. 22. For more information, call 968-2784.

Various Positions Open For Area Volunteers

Volunteer Orange! seeks people for positions across the county. Spanish-speaking volunteers are needed for one-on-one tutoring, as well as for assisting with children's activities.

There is also a need for volunteers to provide assistance at an Alzheimer care facility, to spend an hour a week with a middle or high school student in the area and to help schedule platelet donation appointments. For more information and other volunteer possibilities, contact Kristin Ohme at 929-9837.

From Staff Reports

Journalism and Mass Communication, will hold an information session for prospective majors in 33 Carroll Hall.

For the Record

In the Sept. 19 article "New Chair to Address GPA Rise," Sue Estroff was misquoted as saying Beverly Long is a professor in the Kenan-Flagler Business school, Long is a communications professor in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Estroff was also misquoted as saying that Long had no position on another committee. Estroff said Long had no position on the grade inflation issue.

Professor Darryl Gless was incorrectly referred to as she. Gless is a man.

In the Sept. 19 Career Tab article "UNC Ranks 3rd in University Rankings," The Daily Tar Heel omitted the information that the Kenan-Flagler Business School's undergraduate program ranked fifth in the nation. The DTH regrets the errors.

The Daily Tar Heel

Wednesday, September 20, 2000

Volume 108, Issue 77

P.O. Box 3257, Chapel Hill, NC 27515

Matt Dees, Editor, 962-4086

Advertising & Business, 962-1163

News, Features, Sports, 962-0245

THE WEIL LECTURE ON AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP

Jonathan Kozol, the noted author, educator, and activist will speak at this year's event. His lecture is entitled:

"Amazing Grace: The lives of Children and the Conscience of a Nation."

DATE: Today.

TIME: 8:00 p.m.

LOCATION: Banquet Hall of the Morehead Planetarium.

ADMISSION: Free and open to the public.

Presented by:

THE INSTITUTE
for the
ARTS AND HUMANITIES
COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES
TELEPHONE: 962-2049

You are invited to attend a discussion on education, race and poverty, which will precede the lecture.

The panel shall meet at 4:00p.m. in Hanes Auditorium and will include Jonathan Kozol, Professor Howard Machtinger, Courtnee Poole and Daniella Cook.

Hey, Graduate and Professional Students—
Come get the "SCOOP" on the Graduate and Professional Student Federation!

FREE
BEN & JERRY'S
ICE CREAM
FOR ALL GRAD
STUDENTS!

Where? The Bell Tower on Main Campus
When? This Thursday, September 21, 2000
What time? From 12 noon - 2:00pm

(Please bring your student ID!)

Couples and Individual Therapy

The UNC Psychology Department Clinical Training Program provides therapy to distressed couples and individuals. Modest fees based on individual circumstances. Clients are seen by graduate student therapists who are supervised by licensed psychologists.

Call Dr. Lowman at 962-5082.

THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR SERIES

EXAMINE THIS CRITICAL TIME IN AMERICAN HISTORY WITH POPULAR CIVIL WAR LECTURER FRED KIGER '74. NEW PROGRAMS FOR FALL 2000:

- FALL 1864: SPARKS BEFORE THE BLAZE
•MONDAYS, OCT. 9 - NOV. 6, 7-9PM
•$125, GAA MEMBERS $100

- UNION BLUES: THE MEN WHO WOULD HAVE RICHMOND
•MONDAYS, NOV. 20 - DEC. 18, 7-9PM
•$125, GAA MEMBERS $100

ALL PROGRAMS WILL BE HELD IN GEORGE WATTS HILL ALUMNI CENTER. FOR MORE INFORMATION ABOUT THE LECTURE SERIES, CONTACT JESSICA BEARD '99 AT (919) 962-0313 OR JESSICA_BEARD@UNC.EDU

GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

We accept
UNC OneCards!
(and Mastercard & Visa)

BUY ONE, GET ONE FREE!

Buy a Large one-topping pizza at the regular price and choose one of the following for FREE:

a second pizza of equal or lesser value
OR an order of 10 buffalo wings
OR cheesy breadsticks

PLEASE PRESENT COUPON
EXPIRES 9/30/00

UNC Campus/
Carrboro
929-0246 Open Late Till 2:00am

East Chapel Hill
967-0006

North Chapel Hill
932-9500

