Wednesday, October 18, 2000

Holmberg said the students who did not waive their rights to a separate trial had to understand that this decision could affect their rights to a speedy trial. "To uphold one right, sometimes you have to sacrifice another," she said.

Holmberg said the extreme situation with the computer science cases is unusual and that greatly increasing the number of Honor Court members would be impractical. ould be impractical.

Lea's role in the computer science open hearing is yet another issue in which students' rights have come into question.

Lea said some students have complained about her testifying in the case, but she said her role in the judicial but she said her role in the judicial process is often misconstrued.

Lea must decide whether to bring charges against an accused student. If she does so, anything a student says during the information-gathering process can be held against them.

Despite criticism of the present system, Lea said students are much more likely to get a fair trial from their fellow peers.

But because of the recent debate over students' rights, Lea said she is interested in learning ways of improving students' knowledge of their rights on campus. "The Instrument needs to be rewritten," she said. "It was definitely written by lawyers." Adler, whose committee reviews the Instrument, said there have been extended the said there have been extended to the said t issument, sad there have been extensive discussions over students' rights and how that relates to improving the system. "We are constantly trying to educate people," Adler said. "It's not easy to point a finger of blame, but we need to make sure there is more administrative, faculty and student support."

The University Editor can be reached at udesk@unc.edu.

Rights of the Accused

Here is a breakdown of the student judicial process. To see the Instrument for Student Judicial Governance, go to www.unc.edu/student/policies/isjg.

- Accusation made by a member of University community student, faculty member, administrator, etc
- Student attorney general meets separately with the accuser and the accused to hear both sides of the story.
- Student attorney general decides if the issue is a probable violation of the Honor Code. If so, formal charges are served to the student in the form of a summons.

Student attorney general assigns an associate attorney general to the defendant.

- Preliminary conference is held with associate attorney general and defendant. Associate reads accused student his rights (see page 21 of the Instrument for Student Judicial Governance) and tells accused student about the charges being brought against him. Associate assigns defendant a defense counsel.
- Case goes to an Honor Court hearing. Three-fifths of the Honor Court panel's votes are required to convict an accused student.

Seniors interested in the Associate position, please submit the following online via University

- Cover letter, including math/verbal SAT scores and location preference
- Resume Unofficial transcript

Application deadline is TOMORROW - Thursday, October 19, 2000

First round interviews are Thursday, November 9, 2000

If you have any questions regarding the associate position, you can contact Ben McAllister, class of 2000, at mcallister.benjamin@bcg.com

www.bcg.com

THE BOSTON CONSULTING GROUP

Spring and Summer Leadership Position and Job Opportunity

(carries over to early fall)

Specifically for those with leadership experience or those who wish to gain leadership experience

So, if you:

love Carolina

love meeting people and sharing what you know, A BOOKEA BOOKEA are creative.

are teamwork oriented

are a committed, diligent, and dependable worker,

are self-motivated, can take the initiative appropriately,

want to make a positive difference for entering new students and their parents,

then, this is the leadership position and job for you!

Applications are available in the Orientation Office, 311 Carr Bldg. October 20th is the deadline for applying. Don't miss out on this great opportunity!

Healthy Volunteers Are Needed For A Research Study You can help if you: At least 13 years of age Can make one 15-30 minute visit to our clinic Eligible volunteers receive: Monetary compensation Call Today For More Information Kelley Rayle, MHS, PA-C 960-3216

Carrboro Pediatrics & Internal Medicine, P.A. in Partnership with Iatrix, Inc.

ONLY RECRUIT YOU NEED "DOGBERT'S DYSFUNCTIONAL EMPLOYEE RECRUIT-MENT SERVICES. كور

EMPLOYEES WHO WERE RAISED IN DYSFUNCTIONAL FAMILIES. THEY DON'T MIND BEING MISTREATED!

HOW I HAVE A SOON CAN YOU THE TRUNK GET ME OF MY SOME?

64 Snafu 66 Modern: pref 67 "Sands of __

THE Daily Crossword block
7 Shook up
8 Gone by
9 Soothing ointment
10 Night bird
11 Alan or Adam
12 Depart
13 Lugs
18 Bivouac
19 Progress like
The Blob
24 All right
25 Lendl or Pavlov
27 Body toss
28 Astronauts' grp.
29 Spot
30 Chapel words
34 Sunrise direction

60 Zilch 61 Wander about 65 Half a glance 68 Russian

emperor
69 Appear to be 70 Stands by
71 Edible tubers
72 Soda-pop nut
73 Butter

DOWN
1 Point of a fork
2 Slaughter in Cooperstown
3 Boring routines
4 Champagne
cocktails
5 R-V connection
6 Stone-worker's

ACROSS 1 Provisions6 Yemeni or

Saudi 10 Hold it right

Dilbert©

- 10 Hold it right there!
  14 Greenland Eskimo
  15 Epic tale
  16 Cookie choice
  17 Plain-featured
  20 Former name of Exxon
  21 Actress/model Carol
  22 Reason for an action
  23 Language of Mogadishu
  26 Distinct sections
  27 Movie trailer
  31 African fever
  32 Papa

- Papa Ogle Horned viper of
- 37 Horned viper of Egypt 38 Thus far 41 At this time 43 Simian 44 Actress Virginia 46 Regular or high-test? 48 Bewildered 50 Myopic 54 Declare 57 Loveseat, e.g. 58 Declare illegal

36 Enjoy a novel 39 Pridefulness 40 Jolly old salts 42 Pay figure 45 Old-time inn 52 Mark of infamy

employees
47 Long-time
Yankee skipper
49 Warm air cur-

at UNC-CH

CNN talk show host Larry King will give the Earl Wynn Distinguished Lecture 2000

3 p.m. Friday, October 20, in Memorial Hall at UNC-CH

sponsored by the UNC School of Journalism and Mass Communication

The lecture honors Professor Earl Wynn. The lecture is made possible by hundreds of Professor Wynn's friends and alumni of the former Department of Radio, Television and Motion Pictures at UNC-CH, founded by Professor Wynn in 1947.