

UNC Wins 6 Classes at Open

Chuckie Conner captured his first three matches by fall on the way to winning the 125-pound division Saturday.

Staff Report

North Carolina captured first-place honors in six weight classes at the VerticalNet Open on Saturday at Carmichael Auditorium.

Two UNC wrestlers earned second-place finishes.

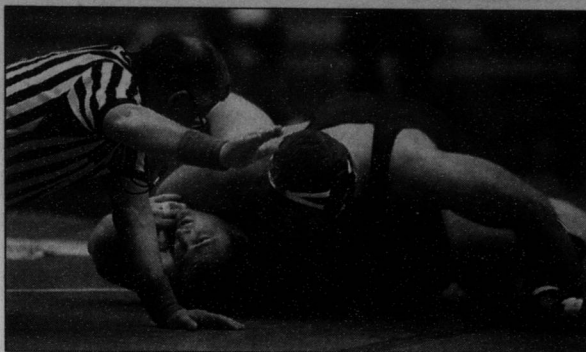

Chuckie Conner, Brad Byers, JohnMark Bentley, Chris DiGuseppe, Corey Bell and Matt Kenny each won individual titles in their respective weight classes.

Jake Reynolds and Clint Osborn were both runners-up for the Tar Heels.

Conner won his first three matches by fall, the quickest being in 39 seconds, before defeating Chris Rodriguez 1-0 in the final of the 125-pound division.

Byers won his first three matches 18-4, 16-3 and 19-7 before winning the 133-pound class by a score of 12-8 against Nate Thoresen of Pensacola Christian College.

Bentley had two wins by fall on his way to the 149-pound final before defeating The Citadel's Wayne Watts

DTH/LAURA GIOVANELLI

Matt Kenny (top) picked up his second pin of the day in the final of the heavyweight class. Kenny defeated Dmitry Lisenenkov by fall in 1:44.

DiGuseppe followed that up with a 3-1 decision over Mike Cox of Campbell in the 157-pound final.

DiGuseppe reached the final by winning his first three matches by scores of 17-2, 3-2 and 5-2.

Corey Bell was strong for UNC at 174 pounds, defeating Princeton's Greg Parker 4-2 in the final.

In the heavyweight class, Kenny wrapped things up for the Tar Heels by defeating Binghamton-SUNY's Dmitry Lisenenkov by fall in 1:44. It was Kenny's second pin of the day.

Reynolds lost a hard-fought match to Princeton's Ryan Bonfiglio 4-1 in the 165-pound final, while Osborn fell to UNC-Greensboro's Dax Pacaro 14-9 in the 197-pound final.

Other Tar Heels to place included Chris Collins (third, 125), John Paul Igoe (fifth, 133), Mike Booth (third, 141), Jay Barnwell (fourth, 149), Mark Canty (fifth, 174), Nick Richmond (third, 184), Pat Fox (sixth, 184) and Ryan Adams (third, heavyweight).

As well as surviving and advancing.

else is scoring goals, that's fine. I was definitely hungry to get another goal."

The Tar Heels got one 1:19 later off the foot of senior forward Caleb Norkus. But UNC's two-goal cushion didn't last long.

"Less than 10 minutes after Norkus' goal, Rhode Island forward Nicholas McCreath stole the ball from Danny Jackson and outraced David Stokes to the front of the net. McCreath lobbed in a shot over the head of UNC keeper Michael Ueltschey.

"As long as it stayed 2-1, we felt confident," Rams coach Ed Bradley said. "If it was 2-1 near the end, we would have tied it up, I think."

UNC reserve forward Ryan Kneipper made sure that wasn't an option. One minute, 50 seconds after Rhode Island's goal, he scored off a pass from Sean McGinty to restore the Tar Heels' lead to two goals.

Rhode Island (17-6-1) had scored 11 seconds after Kneipper and Michael Gell entered the game for Carrieri and Norkus.

Carrieri jumped off the UNC bench after the Rhode Island goal and stood by himself with his hands on his hips.

Carrieri wanted to get back in the game immediately and end the Rams' comeback hopes. Kneipper, who has scored two of his four goals in the NCAA tournament, went ahead and did it for him.

"Kneipper put the ball in and that definitely took the load off my chest," Carrieri said. "I was getting a little antsy hoping they weren't going to get the momentum."

The Tar Heels' next opponent will be Indiana (15-6), which has won the last two NCAA championships. The winner will advance to the final four in Charlotte.

UNC, which set a school record for wins in a season, will ride a 15-match winning streak into the quarterfinal matchup at Fetzer Field this weekend.

"I think when we're 40, it will be nice to look back on," UNC senior Michael Bucy said. "I think the team is focused on getting to the final four and making the most of the season."

"Keep riding the wave."

points.

But the outside shot got taken away in the second half. Sharp, who scored 13 points, didn't attempt one in the second half.

"They picked up their intensity," said UNC point guard Coretta Brown, who finished with 14 points. "They put a lot of pressure on the ball, and they did a good job."

Meanwhile Lady Monarch guard Sharron Francis exploded to start the second half.

Francis, 0-for-2 in the first half, rattled off 13 points in the first 8:11 of the second stanza to help catapult ODU to a comfortable lead. Leading scorer Hamchetou Maiga, who continually found holes in UNC's trapping defense, chipped in a double-double with 17 points and 10 rebounds for the game.

"We mentally let some things that happened out there bother us," Hatchell said. "Instead of turning those things into positives, we let them wear on us a little more and break us down more."

Dome of Doom?

The Tar Heels shot 37 percent from the field in their first game at the Smith Center since a damaged Carmichael floor caused them to play there in 1998.

When asked if there's a difference playing in the Smith Center, Barksdale said, "None whatsoever. We did all the same things. I guess pretty much we had to adjust to the depth, but that's about it."

The Tar Heels are 10-7 in the dome but claim a 271-78 mark in Carmichael.

"You know, it might have been a little different in Carmichael," Hatchell said. "We're so comfortable there, but yet we've got to learn to play. We've already been on the road this year, and we've got a lot to play somewhere besides Carmichael."
