

Weinke to Start Preseason Game Woods Edges Furyk On 7th Playoff Hole

Rookie QB Chris Weinke will start in place of Jeff Lewis in Carolina's preseason finale against Cleveland.

The Associated Press

CHARLOTTE — Carolina Panthers coach George Seifert has said throughout the preseason that his team does not have a quarterback controversy.

It does now. Chris Weinke, last year's Heisman Trophy winner, began working with the first-team offense Saturday, just two days after Jeff Lewis struggled against the Baltimore Ravens.

Seifert said Weinke will start against the Cleveland Browns in the Panthers' preseason finale Friday but wouldn't name a starter for the season opener against the Minnesota Vikings on Sept. 9.

"He's going to start this next game," Seifert said. "But I can't really go beyond that right now, because I don't know. I couldn't put anything in cement, so to speak."

Lewis has been the starter in the pre-season, but was 15 for 27 for 115 yards with four interceptions in three games. He completed just 6 of 11 for 19 yards and threw three interceptions in a span of four passes in a 20-17 victory against the Ravens on Thursday night in Baltimore.

Panthers quarterback Chris Weinke has completed 30 of 54 passes for 350 yards during the preseason.

Weinke has completed 30 of 54 passes for 350 yards and a touchdown in the preseason. The 29-year-old rookie was 15 for 25 for 190 yards against the Ravens and led three scoring drives in the second half as the Panthers rallied from a 17-0 deficit.

Weinke has led Carolina to three touchdowns and three field goals in 13 drives during the preseason, while Lewis has produced just one touchdown in 18 series.

"Obviously I'm very excited, but let's not forget I still have a long way to go," said Weinke, the Panthers' fourth-round draft choice out of Florida State.

"There's still a lot of things for me to learn, and I need to keep improving on things. But it's what I came here for. I want to be a starter in the NFL."

The news was difficult for Lewis, who had been the Panthers' projected starter since Steve Buerlein was released during the off-season.

"Sometimes life doesn't go the way you want it," Lewis said. "I think I'm harder on myself than anybody else. I have no problem saying how it is. I made some mistakes."

"I'm going to try to get better, learn from them. One thing I need to do is quit beating up myself, because I get that enough as it is."

Woods' clutch wedge shot in sudden death provided the 25-year-old golfer his third consecutive NEC title.

The Associated Press

AKRON, Ohio — In an epic battle that featured heroic shots and great escapes, Tiger Woods ended his winless summer with a birdie Sunday on the seventh playoff hole to defeat Jim Furyk in the NEC Invitational.

After they exchanged pars for six holes, hardly any of them conventional, Woods hit a wedge into 2 feet on No. 18 to finally end the longest playoff on the PGA Tour in 10 years.

"It was a war today," said Woods, who started the final round two strokes behind. "Neither one of us gave an inch. It was fun to be a part of it."

Furyk holed a bunker shot to save par on the first extra hole to extend the playoff. Woods escaped from the trees with a fortuitous ruling and played bump-and-run from about 90 yards. Furyk had three chances to win with birdie putts from about 12 feet.

With one last shot, a wedge that landed just past the cup and spun back to two feet away, Woods won for the first time since the Memorial in early June and ended talk about what's wrong with his game.

It was his fifth victory of the year and 29th in his career, tying Jack Nicklaus for the most PGA Tour victories before turning 30.

Woods won the NEC Invitational for the third straight year, making him the first player to take three straight tournaments at fabled Firestone Country Club, a course on which Nicklaus used to dominate. Furyk played with courage, keeping the pressure on Woods until the end. His tee shot on the final hole wound up in the trees, and the best he could make was a bogey.

"I don't feel like I let anyone down today," said Furyk, who closed with a 71. "The only person I let down was myself. I can live with that. I've done it before, and I'll do it again."

It was a repeat finish for Woods, at least in terms of theatrics.

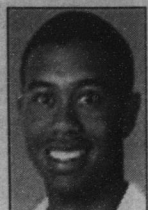

A year ago, he hit a wedge about the same distance in the dark to win the NEC Invitational by 11 strokes. This was far more thrilling, neither player willing to budge during a playoff that lasted two hours.

The last time a PGA Tour event went this many holes was the 1991 New England Classic, won by Bruce Fleisher. Woods had his eighth straight round in the 60s with a 1-under 69. He and Furyk finished at 268.

Darren Clarke finished three strokes behind, while Colin Montgomerie finished fourth — his best tournament in America since he was runner-up in the 1997 U.S. Open.

No one ever got closer than four strokes to Furyk or Woods.

Firestone Country Club was hardly a pushover in the final round, even with tee times moved up five hours to avoid approaching storms. Only six of 37 players broke par. Greg Norman, the co-leader after the first round, had an 80.

Tiger Woods birdied the seventh playoff hole to win the NEC Invitational and end his winless summer.

get their heads together. After Carey put the Cornhuskers up by one, UNC huddled up at the top of the goalbox and told each other to calm down and get back to the drawing board.

But unfortunately for the Tar Heels, it was too little, too late. Their only chance at an equalizer came in the 81st minute when Catherine Reddick nailed a shot at Miller, who tipped the ball over the crossbar. Neither team managed a shot on goal during the last nine minutes.

"I'm concerned about the quality that is usually a part of our persona, which is our fighting power," Dorrance said. "We thought Nebraska out-fought us. Hopefully, this will upset (the team) enough to get more work done and improve in the areas they're weak. It's nothing that we can correct overnight."

UNC's Tennis Team Releases Schedule

The North Carolina men's tennis team recently released the squad's 2001 fall schedule. The Tar Heels open their season at the Southern Collegiate Tournament in Athens, Ga., Sept. 21-23. After several Intercollegiate Tennis Association-sponsored events, UNC will head to Columbia, S.C., for the USC Fall Invitational on Oct. 19.

North Carolina's only home match will be from Oct. 24-28 in the Top of the Hill Region Championships.

UNC Swimmers Star in Classroom

The College Swimming Coaches Association of America has named the North Carolina men's and women's swimming and diving teams as All-Academic team award winners for the spring semester of 2001.

Last spring, the UNC men's swimming and diving team had a cumulative grade point average of 3.1656, while the Tar Heel women's swimming and diving squad had an aggregate GPA of 3.09.

The women's squad has been named an All-Academic Team for 22 semesters in a row by the CSCAA. The men have earned the distinction in 18 of the past 22 semesters of graded work.

Forty-nine Tar Heel swimmers and divers earned at least a 3.0 grade point average during the 2001 spring semester.
