

Campus Calendar

Today

10 a.m. - The Sixth Annual Journalism Yard Sale, held by the Visual Communication Student Group, will be in the Pit. Items from media groups around the country will be on sale for $1 to $25. Ten percent of profits are going to the American Red Cross Relief Fund for those in New York and Washington, D.C.

3:30 p.m. - The Association of English Majors is sponsoring a coffee hour for all English majors, minors and would-be majors in Donovan Lounge in Greenlaw Hall. It's a chance for students to meet faculty and other students.

4 p.m. - The Academic Advisory department is holding information sessions about different majors. Here are today's:

4 p.m. - Nursing, 105 Berryhill Hall

4 p.m. - Education, 212 Peabody Hall

4:30 p.m. - Pharmacy, 105 Berryhill Hall

5 p.m. - Public Health, 105 Berryhill Hall

5 p.m. - Journalism, 33 Carroll Hall
5:30 p.m. - Physical therapy, clinical laboratory science, speech and hearing sciences or radiologic science, 105 Berryhill Hall

6:30 p.m. - School of Medicine, 105 Berryhill Hall

7 p.m. - There will be a meeting for those interested in writing, layouts, advertising, distribution and other aspects of the Virtuous Woman, a campus newspaper. It will be in Union 106C.

7 p.m. - The University Center for International Studies is organizing a forum on "Seeing Behind Stereotypes and the Veils of Anger: Understanding Islam."

The forum will be held in University Room 1301 McGavran Greenberg Building on Pittsboro Street.

7:30 p.m. - Come figure out mysteries about the opposite sex at the discussion titled "Gender Gap." The event, sponsored by Phi Mu sorority and the Office of Greek Affairs, will be in 111 Carroll Hall.

9 p.m. - Student Television's Feedback Live will be airing a special edition episode to reflect on this past week and offer students a chance to ask questions to several campus groups.

Tune in on Channel 22 on campus and Channel 4 in Chapel Hill.

Thursday

6 p.m. - The Carolina Academic Team will hold a practice and information session in 106 Greenlaw Hall. Anyone interested in Jeopardy!, Who Wants to Be a Millionaire, quiz bowl or trivia in general is invited. No experience is necessary.

7 p.m. - Carolina Flying Club presents Private Pilot ground school, a preparation course for the Federal Aviation Administration written examination. Interested? Meet in 103 Caldwell Hall.

The Daily Tar Heel

P.O. Box 3257, Chapel Hill, NC 27515

Katie Hunter, Editor, 962-4086

Advertising & Business, 962-1163

News, Features, Sports, 962-0245

© 2001 DTH Publishing Corp.

All rights reserved

Security Increases at N.C. Legislature

By CRYSTAL HARWARD
Staff Writer

The N.C. General Assembly is continuing efforts to increase security at the Legislative Building by remodeling the structure and increasing police presence, although funding for large-scale safety measures has not yet been discussed.

The Secret Service issued a report in April offering 140 recommendations for improvement.

The legislature's security came under increased scrutiny after Tuesday's terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon.

There was also a bomb threat at the N.C. Legislative Building on Aug. 27.

George Hall, administrative director of the legislative complex, said improvements were under way even before the incidents.

"Small improvements like lights being left on overnight, trimming hedges, replacing broken internal door locks and placing locks on electrical cabinets were all taking place before these incidents," he said. "If there was any effect on the resolve to improve security it was only to begin working faster."

Sen. Virginia Foxx, R-Alleghany, said state troopers and Raleigh city police began looking for abnormal activity around the Capitol after the bomb threat.

"I didn't take the bomb threat (to the legislature) seriously, but after Tuesday we must," Foxx said. "We have to be more careful in the future."

She added that it is becoming more difficult for unauthorized vehicles to enter the Legislative Building. "Before, anyone could drive into the building."

Although officials agree better security is needed, there are disagreements about the specific measures that need to be taken.

Sen. Tony Rand, D-Cumberland, said there are concerns that attempts to improve security might restrict public access to the Legislative Building.

"People need to be able to contact us, their elected representatives," he said.

But Hall said these concerns are unfounded because the inside of the building will not be changed.

"Access may be slowed if they use identification or metal detectors, but once inside there would be no difference," he said.

But proposed improvements will not be cheap. The small changes already made only have cost several hundred dollars, but major improvements being discussed are a different issue.

Hall said after consulting an architect to mend structural problems, he estimates that costs could approach $1 million.

DTH/JOSHUA GREER

Officer R.L. Roberts keeps security tight at the Legislative Building in Raleigh following last Tuesday's terrorist attacks.

Major security improvements have not been discussed or budgeted for by the Legislature, but Hall insists that funding will not be a problem.

"Policies will have to change and people will have to be advised," he said.

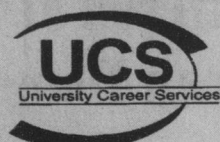

While troopers and police wait outside the Legislature doors, the General Assembly continues meeting.

"(I'm) sorry for what has created the need for increased security," Foxx said. "But (I'm) grateful for the people willing to protect us."

The State & National Editor can be reached at stntdesk@unc.edu.

UNDERCLASSMEN ENCOURAGED TO ATTEND!

Division of Student Affairs
962-6507
Nash Hall
ucs@unc.edu
http://careers.unc.edu

They're Here!

Are You
Ready?

Search employers
attending at <http://careers.unc.edu/fairs/studentsearch.html>

UCS CAREER FAIRS
Technology & Library Science
Career Fair

Wed., Sept. 19th
1-5 pm
Dean Smith Center

Minority Career Night
Wed., Sept. 19th
6-9 pm
Great Hall, Student Union

Carolina Career Fair
Thu., Sept. 20th
9:30 am-3:30 pm
Dean Smith Center

Attend these exciting events to learn about jobs, internships, networking, contacts, and careers!

Professional Dress for Seniors and Grad Students.
Business Casual Dress Acceptable for Underclass Students.

Take the Reverse "U" bus to the Dean Smith Center.

Questions?
Visit UCS in
Nash Hall
Monday-Friday
8 am - 5 pm

Carolina Dining

PRESENTS

A  Dinner

Thursday, September 20

5:00pm-7:30pm

at Top of Lenoir & Chase

A special menu will be served, including:

Pulled Pork BBQ

Fried Chicken

Jumbo Dogs

Coleslaw

Baked Beans

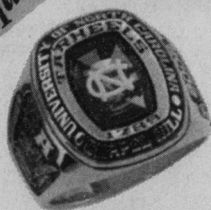

Potato Salad

& much more!

Join us for entertainment,
prizes & fun!

carolina
DINING SERVICES

FREE
PALM PILOT
with qualified purchase!
Limited quantities.

1-800-952-7002

Local Artcarved Office: 919-968-7894 • Special Payment Plans Available.

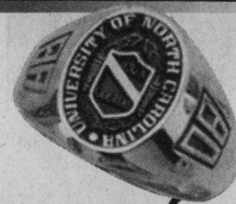

ARTCARVED
COLLEGE JEWELRY official

Carolina Ring Event

DATE.....TODAY, Wednesday, Sept. 19 - Saturday, Sept. 22

TIME.....10am-3pm weekdays, 10am-2pm on Saturday

PLACE.....UNC Student Stores

STUDENT STORES
THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL

"Officially Licensed Carolina Ring Dealer"