

CHAPEL HILL MAYOR
From Page 1

supporters. Pavao and his supporters gathered around the computer at Pavao's campaign manager's home, watching the screen intently as the poll results were tabulated.

Pavao attributed his defeat to negative campaigning by Foy. But he said he was satisfied with his own campaign.

"I don't think I would have changed the tenor of my campaign," Pavao said. "I think there were things brought up that had no bearing on Chapel Hill or what the campaign was about."

Pavao said he will not be involved in town government for a while but that he intends to stay involved in the community. "Chapel Hill is my town," Pavao said. "I'm going to continue to be involved in the organizations I have been involved with. I just won't be in town government for a while."

Pavao said he is uncertain as to whether he will run for a town government position again in the future. "I'll keep an eye on how the town is doing, how the mayor is doing," he said. "I will make that decision when I get there."

Now that several months of campaigning have drawn to a close, Foy said his first goal as mayor will be to organize the council.

"It is going to require a lot of effort," he said. "There's three new faces there."

Senior Writer Matt Viser contributed to this article. The City Editor can be reached at citydesk@unc.edu.

DTH/KARA ARNDT

Incumbent Mike Nelson, winner of the Carrboro mayoral race, talks to a reporter about his plans to deal with issues facing the town.

CARRBORO MAYOR
From Page 1

she became involved in the political process and provided opposition.

"We should have opposed elections," she said. "It forces people to get out there and present themselves."

Nelson, running in his fourth mayoral election, said he was prepared for the rigors of another campaign.

"It has been fun, but exhausting," Nelson said. "I work 60 to 80 hours a week as mayor, plus the campaign on top of that. But I was prepared for it."

The candidates said the campaign was fairly quiet, with both candidates running on similar platforms that highlighted growth-management issues and environmental protection concerns. "There was no backstabbing," Smith said. "No folks were attacking other folks."

Both candidates also said the positive atmosphere surrounding the race made it more enjoyable. "I've had a good time with (Nelson)," Smith said. "He was a very nice candidate. We both shared a lot of the same values."

Nelson added that he became impressed with Smith's knowledge of the issues by the end of the race. "She ran on the issues," he said.

Smith said her candidacy for mayor has encouraged her to become more involved in Carrboro. "I've learned of several issues I'm interested in," she said.

As for Nelson, he said the first item on his agenda is sleep. He will be inaugurated Dec. 11.

Staff writers Kristen Hefflin and Colin Suter contributed to this article. The City Editor can be reached at citydesk@unc.edu.

TOWN COUNCIL
From Page 1

University," Verkerk said. "One of the things that I really understand is the University's transportation needs."

Verkerk said a big issue that she will address is the creation of better public transportation in Chapel Hill.

Ed Harrison, who received the third largest number of votes, also emphasized his plans to focus on transportation as a council member.

"One thing I want to get involved in quite soon is regional transportation," Harrison said. "We have a real chance to move ahead in transportation."

After he learned of his victory, Harrison said he was looking forward to being on the council. "I'm very grateful to the people who voted for me," he said.

Mark Kleinschmidt, the fourth victor in the council race, said he couldn't believe it when his victory was first announced.

"I'm ecstatic, thrilled and humbled," said Kleinschmidt, who served as speaker of Student Congress in 1999-2000 while he was a law student at UNC. "To have complete strangers come up to me and say that they like me has been a very humbling experience."

This year's election was a battle for four available seats, two of which were vacated when council members Kevin Foy and Lee Pavao relinquished their positions to run for Chapel Hill mayor.

Joyce Brown also chose to resign from her position. Wiggins' seat was also up for grabs because her term had expired.

Wiggins said she is optimistic about working with the new members.

"We make smarter decisions when we have different views."

Staff Writers Ben Brooks, Gretchen Decker, Angela Newsome and Amanda Wilson contributed to this article. The City Editor can be reached at citydesk@unc.edu.

ANTHRAX
From Page 1

forces backed by heavy U.S. bombing Tuesday claimed the capture of several key towns on the road to Mazar-e-Sharif in their first reported significant advance against Taliban defenses.

At the Pentagon, Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld said an assessment of the claimed move against the strategic northern city would have to wait until the "dust settled" and there was a pause in the fighting.

Even if true, it would mean opposition forces were several dozen miles away across mountainous terrain from Mazar-e-Sharif, with winter closing in.

But after seesawing battles south of Mazar-e-Sharif in recent weeks, the opposition said intense strikes by American planes helped open the way for Tuesday's advance. The alliance had complained earlier that U.S. bombing was not heavy enough.

Campus Calendar

Today

8 a.m. - Today is the last day to pick up remaining tickets for the Georgia Tech basketball game. Tickets are available on a first-come, first-serve basis at the Smith Center box office until 5 p.m. Students may bring their UNC ONE Card and another for a total of two tickets.

1:30 p.m. - The Sonja H. Stone Black Cultural Center will hold a discussion regarding the African-American Peace Corps experience. The session includes an overview, stories of a youth development worker and a short video.

5 p.m. - The UNC Dance Marathon will be hosting a "Dance Marathon" night at Lenoir Dining Hall and Chase Hall. Find out how you can apply to be a dancer at the 24-hour event Feb. 22-23.

6 p.m. - The Management & Society Student Association is meeting in Union 212. Representatives from University Directories will be speaking about career and internship opportunities.

7 p.m. - The Olde Campus Upper Quad presents "Evolution of Body Modification," information and exhibits on tattoos, body piercings and paintings. There will be free food from various cultural establishments, and the event will be held in the Carmichael Ballroom.

7:30 p.m. - Find out why the School of the Americas is called the School of Assassins in 304 Greenlaw Hall.

go to dailytarheel.com

Business School Transitions To New Network
By Paige Ammons

Muslim Students Coordinate Week of Islamic Awareness
By Joelle Ruben

Clinton's National Security Adviser to Speak On Campus
By Allison Lewis

The Daily Tar Heel
P.O. Box 3257, Chapel Hill, NC 27515
Katie Hunter, Editor, 962-4086
Advertising & Business, 962-1163
News, Features, Sports, 962-0245
© 2001 DTH Publishing Corp.
All rights reserved.

89.2 fm
80s dance
Fri. Nov. 9th,
9 - 2am
at the Cat's Cradle
$5 at the door
tickets avail. in the pit
costume contest
80s trivia - free prizes

UNIVERSITY OF
Clef Hangers
NORTH CAROLINA
Clef Hangers Fall Concert
Friday, November 9, 2001
8pm • Memorial Hall
Tickets on sale all week in the Pit & Union Box Office $7.00

BUY ONE DINNER - GET ONE FREE!
BANDIDO'S MEXICAN CAFE
Buy any dinner and two beverages at the regular price and receive the second dinner of equal or lesser value FREE!!!!
Dine-in only. One coupon per table. Valid Sunday-Thursday. Expires Nov. 21, 2001
159 1/2 E. Franklin St. • Downtown Chapel Hill • 919-967-5048

Study Abroad
http://study-abroad.unc.edu
Study Abroad UNC Chapel Hill
Information Session:
UNC Summer in Paris!
Meet the Resident Director for the program.
Thursday, November 8, 6:00-7:00pm
Study Abroad Office, Porthole Building
201 Porthole Building
919-962-7002

John, Senior
Business - Fundraising
Looks like a million dollars.
Julian's MEN OF STYLE
140 EAST FRANKLIN STREET 942-4563 WWW.JULIANSTYLE.COM MON-SAT 10-6

The Princeton Review
Taking the LSAT?
Class Size - 8
Check it out.
✓ Small classes, 8 students max
✓ Expert instructors
✓ Innovative online lessons and drills
✓ Free extra help
✓ Actual LSATs, yours to keep
✓ Satisfaction guaranteed
Call Now to Enroll
800-2Review | www.PrincetonReview.com

A MILITARY CITY AND THE AMERICAN 20th CENTURY
HOMEFRONT
by Catherine Lutz
Hear Professor Lutz speak about her new book which explores Fayetteville's Fort Bragg and how military institutions shape our society
THURSDAY 11/8 3:30 PM at the
BULL'S HEAD BOOKSHOP in
UNC STUDENT STORES
This event is free and open to the public
Catherine Lutz received her Ph.D at Harvard and teaches in the Anthropology Department at UNC. She is also the author Unnatural Emotions and coauthor, with Jane Collins, of Reading National Geographic.
Bull's Head Bookshop
UNC Student Stores • 962-5060
bullshead@store.unc.edu

GUMBY'S Pizza
306A Franklin St.
FAST FREE DELIVERY 968-3278
OPEN LATE HOURS
Mon-Wed: 4pm-2am
Thurs: 4pm-3am
Fri & Sat: 11am-3am
Sun: 11am-2am
MONDAY MADNESS
Large (14") 1 Topping Pizza only $4.99 + tax
Carry Out Only / Valid Monday Only
HALF-PRICE WEDNESDAY
Half Price Pokey Stix Pepperoni Rolls Buffalo Wings
With Any Food Purchase
Valid Wednesday Only
STICK IT TO ME TUESDAY
Buy One Order of Pokey Stix At Regular Price And Get One Order Of Equal Or Lesser Value FREE!!
Valid Tuesday Only
DORM SPECIAL
Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza OR Large 14" Pokey Stix only $5.99 + tax
Delivered to Dorms Only
Valid Mon - Thurs Only
Offers may expire without notice / Minimum for delivery