

ONE Card Office Changes Locations

By PHILISSA CRAMER
Staff Writer

Beginning this week, students seeking assistance at the UNC ONE Card office will need to go to a new location.

The ONE Card office is moving from the second floor of Student Stores to the basement, where it will have an entrance on South Road that is accessible from the street and by the recently reopened Pit stairs.

Megan Keefe, assistant manager of the ONE Card office, said the new location will increase the office's capabilities.

She said the new office will contain duplicates of the ONE Card's most-used machines. In addition, she said the office will soon start to print Wachovia bank cards. "We will need a much higher level of security," Keefe said.

Nathan Shafar, a processing assistant who works full-time at the ONE Card office, said the move would improve conditions for employees as well as students. "There's no room for anything (in the old location)," he said.

Shafar said the clutter that plagued the upstairs ONE Card office will be reduced in the new office. He said the new location offers more space, better lighting and greater handicapped accessibility.

The biggest crunch for the ONE Card office typically comes at the beginning of each semester, when students replace lost cards, buy meal plans and set up expense accounts. Shafar said the office has operated a satellite office in the Union Cabaret during crunch time each fall. But the new office eliminates the need for a satellite office, he said.

"We'll be able to make cards a lot quicker, especially at the beginning of the semester," Keefe said.

That's a change freshman Cassidy Shelley said she will appreciate. She lost her ONE Card in the middle of last semester, and she said that when she went to replace it, she had to wait longer than she thought was necessary. "Usually it's really busy, especially after certain classes," Shelley said.

She said she hopes more space will improve the office's operation. "That would make the lines move more quickly and efficiently."

The University Editor can be reached at udesk@unc.edu.

go to dailytarheel.com

- Computer Virus Commits Party Foul ■
By Deb McCown
- LGBT Community Gets New Representative ■
By Addie Sluder
- Reconstruction Program Earns State Honors ■
By Tom Kingsley
- Tracking System Aims To Save Children's Lives ■
By James Russ
- Blue Secures Teacher Endorsement For U.S. Senate Campaign ■
By Chase Foster
- N.C. Gun Records Top List ■
By Nathan Coletta
- Officials: Disaster Relief Programs Need Streamlining ■
By Mike Gorman

Developments in the War on Terrorism

Rumsfeld: Raid Facts Being Studied

American forces have returned to investigate claims that they killed the wrong people in a raid in Afghanistan, and they should apologize on the spot if the claims prove true, Secretary of Defense Donald H. Rumsfeld said Monday.

Al-Qaida Suspects Sought in Yemen

Yemenis say the task is huge: hunting down two al-Qaida suspects wanted by the United States and last seen in a region where gun-toting tribesmen rule and government forces don't enter without permission.

Wife Appeals for Kidnapped Reporter

The wife of kidnapped Wall Street Journal reporter Daniel Pearl, whose captors have remained silent since they threatened to kill him, issued an impassioned appeal Monday for his life and said she was willing to die in his place.

Campus Calendar

Today

6:30 p.m. - The N.C. Schweitzer Fellows Program is hosting "Sexual Identity: A Professional Approach," to be held until 8:30 p.m. in the Law School Rotunda.

The interactive symposium will be led by a panel of speakers who will discuss how issues of patient/client sexual identity impact service delivery. All interested students are encouraged to attend.

5:30 p.m. - Teach for America will hold an information session in 108 Hanes Hall.

All majors welcome! Come to learn more about how TFA works, what to expect as a corps member and how it benefits you to get involved.

For the Record

The photo caption with the article titled "Tennis Passes ACC Test" in Monday's Daily Tar Heel incorrectly identifies North Carolina women's tennis player Julie Rotondi as teammate Caroline Hill. The Daily Tar Heel regrets the error.

The Daily Tar Heel

P.O. Box 3257, Chapel Hill, NC 27515
Katie Hunter, Editor, 962-4086
Advertising & Business, 962-1163
News, Features, Sports, 962-0245
© 2002 DTH Publishing Corp.
All rights reserved

Ever feel like your ideas for Valentine's Day are a little outdated?

To the uncommonly gorgeous red-headed angel, who makes my life so sweet, who makes me smile more often, you are the animation, you keep me staring at the clouds, you keep me dreaming. I love you, Anthony.

Try something new and different... tell them how you really feel.

Submit a poem to the DTH today. All entries will be published in the Valentine's Day Special Issue Tab and prizes will be awarded for the best three. Winners receive dinner, flowers, and movie tickets...not to mention the heart of that special someone.

dth

"a healthy indulgence"

Downtown Chapel Hill
106 W. Franklin St.
(Next to He's Not Here)
942-PUMP
North Durham
Northgate Mall
(Next to Carousel)
286-7868

the YOGURT pump

HOURS: Mon-Sat 11:20am-11:00pm, Sun 12:00pm-11:00pm

TRIP-ON SKI STARTING AT $963!

Prices include roundtrip air accommodations, ground transportation and 6 day lift tickets. Rates are subject to change without notice. All prices are quoted per person based on double occupancy. Prices do not include taxes and are subject to availability.

council travel 20 SPRINGBREAK 02

308 W ROSEMARY STREET (Downtown Chapel Hill)
919-942-2334

800-2COUNCIL COUNCILTRAVEL.COM

Important Forum Notice

To the University community:

Carolina's Transportation and Parking Advisory Committee (TPAC) will hold three campus community forums on Feb. 5 to give faculty, staff and students the chance to weigh in on what direction the University should take in transportation and parking for the 2002-03 permit year and beyond.

The forums will be:

- 10am to noon
School of Social Work
Tate Turner Kuralt Auditorium
- 2pm to 4pm
4th Floor Clinic Auditorium
Old Clinic Building
- 5pm to 7pm
Student Union Film Auditorium

Each forum will begin with a presentation giving an overview of parking and transportation as the system now exists at Carolina. While TPAC has not yet developed recommendations for next permit year, which begins Aug. 18, 2002, it has been examining several issues and evaluating options. It is the committee's hope that, at the Feb. 5 forums, members of the campus community will voice their thoughts on these issues and options. They include:

- Cost increases and potential revenue sources.
- Possible institution of night-parking program.
- Possible changes in cost of parking permits.

It is important to note that TPAC has tabled until March its discussions regarding whether the University should change resident-student parking and parking-permit allocation. This means that these issues will not be examined at the Feb. 5 forums and, furthermore, that no changes will be made in these areas for 2002-03.

TPAC will consider feedback from the forums as it develops recommendations for next year. These recommendations will be submitted to the University administration and - ultimately - to the University Board of Trustees possible adoption in March 2002. Any approved changes would not take effect until Aug. 18, 2002.

For more information about TPAC's work, see: <http://main.psfafety.unc.edu/tp/TPAC/tpacdocs/TPAC.htm>

ational Report The Spreads Upstart's Influence

The New York Times

President of Urban League Calls for Review of Inequity

YOU WANT TO CHANGE THINGS.

INFORMATION SESSION
Wednesday, February 6, 2002 • 5:30pm
108 Hanes Hall

City Homeownership Plans Lift Neighborhoods, Study Says

Unm

TEACH FOR AMERICA IS THE NATIONAL CORPS THAT CALLS UPON OUTSTANDING AND DIVERSE RECENT COLLEGE GRADUATES TO COMMIT TWO YEARS TO TEACH IN URBAN AND RURAL PUBLIC SCHOOLS AND BECOME LIFELONG LEADERS IN ENSURING THAT ALL OF OUR NATION'S CHILDREN HAVE AN EQUAL CHANCE IN LIFE.

No previous education coursework required.
Full teacher salary and benefits.

TEACHFORAMERICA
www.teachforamerica.org