

4-Game Ticket Distribution to Be Held This Week

Recent victories could increase demand

By JOHN LIPPS
Staff Writer

The Carolina Athletic Association will be distributing bracelets today, Wednesday and Thursday outside Kenan Stadium for four upcoming ACC home games.

Bracelets will be given out this week for the Feb. 8 game against Florida State, the Feb. 12 game against Virginia, the Feb. 25 game against N.C. State and the March 1 game against Georgia Tech. Students should come to Gate 5 of Kenan Stadium from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. today and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday with a valid UNC ONE Card to receive bracelets. The bracelets, which should not be removed or tampered with, can be redeemed for tickets Saturday as long as tickets remain available.

The CAA will draw the "magic number" at noon Friday in the Pit. The person with the magic number will be the first number in Saturday's line.

Students should come to the Smith Center no later than 7 a.m. Saturday to check in to the line. The line will be arranged numerically into blocks of 100 students. Students absent during the mandatory line check will not be eligible to receive tickets.

Students can receive as many as two tickets for each of the four games. They must present a valid ONE Card for each ticket they receive. Tickets for lower-level seats and riser sections will be distributed randomly first.

Kris Willett, president of CAA, said she expects to have between 4,000 and 6,000 tickets available for each of the four games, adding that the number varies because of the sale of mini season packages to alumni and other fans.

But Willett said she also expects to distribute a lot of bracelets.

"We usually distribute between 4,000 or 5,000 (bracelets)," she said. "These are all ACC games, so we hope to give out more."

Willett added that students also will be more excited about the Tar Heels due to their recent wins against Clemson and highly ranked Connecticut and that there likely will not be tickets left over after the distribution.

This is the last ticket distribution before the Feb. 1 senior distribution for the game against Duke on March 9. It is the only distribution that features four

Ticket Distribution
 • Bracelets — Today: 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.; Wednesday and Thursday: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. — Kenan Stadium, Gate 5
 • Tickets — Saturday: 7 a.m. — Smith Center Ticket Office

SOURCE: CAROLINA ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION DTH/STAFF

CAA officials said they have publicized this week's distribution by posting information on the CAA listserv and the CAA Web site, located at <http://www.unc.edu/caa>.

The University Editor can be reached at udesk@unc.edu.

Pickel to Join SBP Contest

Staff Reports

Junior Dan Pickel, a public policy major from Albany, N.Y., announced Friday his decision to run as a write-in candidate for student body president.

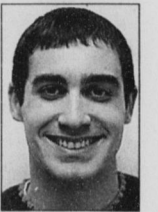

Pickel's name will not appear on the ballot because he missed the mandatory Jan. 14 meeting for candidates.

Pickel is circulating a petition and writing letters to get his name on the ballot. But Brian Fauver, chairman of the Board of Elections, said Pickel's chances of being included on the ballot are slim because it is not clear that he made a concerted effort to attend the meeting.

Pickel said he tried to contact the Board of Elections after Winter Break, but Fauver said he did not receive an e-mail from Pickel until after the meeting.

As a write-in candidate, Pickel will have to abide by all campaign regulations, including spending limitations, but he will not receive funding from Student Congress.

Fauver also said Pickel will be fined an unknown amount for hanging campaign signs before Student Congress disperses funds Monday.

Junior Dan Pickel plans to run a write-in campaign if he is not added to the ballot.

Powell Supports Affirmative Action

Disagrees with president's stance

Staff & Wire Reports

Secretary of State Colin Powell said Sunday that he disagrees with President Bush's position on an affirmative action case before the U.S. Supreme Court, as the White House called for more money for historically black colleges.

Powell, one of two black members of Bush's Cabinet, said he supports methods the University of Michigan-Ann Arbor uses to bolster minority enrollments in its undergraduate and law school programs. The policies offer points to minority applicants and set goals for minority admissions.

"Whereas I have expressed my support for the policies used by the University of Michigan, the president, in looking at it, came to the conclusion that it was constitutionally flawed, based on the legal advice he received," Powell said on the CBS program "Face the Nation."

It was a rare public acknowledgment of disagreement with the president.

President Bush criticized Wednesday an affirmative action program under review by the Supreme Court, calling the practices in question "divisive, unfair and impossible to square with the Constitution."

The court's ruling in the pending UM case likely will be its most definitive decision on affirmative action and will ripple through college admissions offices nationwide.

National Security Adviser Condoleezza Rice said she backs Bush's decision to step into the case and to argue that UM's methods were unconstitutional.

She said on NBC's "Meet the Press" Sunday that there are "problems" with the university's selection policies, citing the points system.

But she also said race can be a factor in the selection process for colleges and universities. The brief the Bush administration filed with the Supreme Court was silent on the issue of whether race should be a factor under some circumstances.

"It is important to take race into consideration, if you must, if race-neutral means do not work," she said.

In a speech at the Republican National Convention in 2000, Powell sharply criticized GOP attacks on affirmative action.

"We must understand the cynicism that exists in the black community," he said.

"The kind of cynicism that is created when, for example, some in our party miss no opportunity to roundly and loudly condemn affirmative action that helped a few thousand black kids get an education, but you hardly heard a whimper from them over affirmative action for lobbyists who load our federal tax codes with preferences for special interests."

Education Secretary Rod Paige is the other black member of Bush's Cabinet. Paige firmly agrees with Bush's stance a spokesman said Sunday.

In an unusual announcement Sunday night, the White House said Bush's budget proposal for the upcoming fiscal year would increase funding by 5 percent for grants to historically black colleges, universities, graduate programs and Hispanic education institutions.

The money affects three programs:

■ The Historically Black Colleges and Universities Program offers grants to 99 institutions to help them strengthen infrastructure and achieve greater financial stability.

■ The Historically Black Graduate Institutions Program offers five-year grants to 18 institutions to help provide graduate-level education.

■ The Hispanic-Serving Institutions Program offers five-year grants to institutions with a full-time Hispanic enrollment of at least 25 percent, 50 percent of which must be students from low-income households.

U.N. 'Must Not Shrink' From War With Iraq, Powell Says

The Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS — Secretary of State Colin Powell, faced with stiff resistance and calls to go slowly, bluntly told other nations on Monday that the United Nations "must not shrink" from its responsibility to disarm Saddam Hussein's Iraq.

"We cannot be shocked into impotence because we're afraid of the difficult choices ahead of us," Powell told members of the U.N. Security Council.

Directly responding to qualms registered by several foreign ministers in two days of talks, and with only Britain explicitly standing alongside the United States, Powell spoke of war as a real option.

Germany's foreign minister took a strong stand against military action, saying it might have "negative repercussions" for the international fight against terrorism. His French counterpart called war "a dead end."

Powell, speaking at a U.N. conference on terrorism and at a news conference, urged reluctant nations to focus on Baghdad's failure to disarm and to prepare to weigh the consequences by the end of the month when U.N. inspectors file a report on 60 days of searches in Iraq for illicit weapons.

"If Iraq is not disarming, the United Nations cannot turn away from its responsibilities," Powell said.

He said the U.N. Security Council, which is due to consider the report Jan.

29, must come to grips with a regime that he said has acquired, developed and stockpiled weapons of mass destruction and trampled human rights at home.

"So no matter how difficult the road ahead may be with respect to Iraq, we must not shrink from a need to travel down that road," Powell said.

"Hopefully, there will be a peaceful solution," he said. "But if Iraq does not come into full compliance, we must not shrink from the responsibilities that we set before ourselves" when the Security Council called for the disarmament of Iraq.

Casting aside diplomatic ambiguity, Powell spoke directly of war. "Iraq has a responsibility now to avoid a conflict, to avoid a war," he said.

Campus Calendar

Today

5 p.m. — Interested in a career in health science librarianship? Come to see the medical librarianship panelists in 215 Manning Hall. Refreshments are provided.

5:30 p.m. — Episcopal Campus Ministry meets Tuesdays in the Campus Center of the Chapel of the Cross on Franklin Street beside the sundial for fun, service, worship and food. For information, go to <http://www.unc.edu/ecm>.

7 p.m. — E.A.S.E. is holding a general interest meeting in 101 Greenlaw Hall.

Come discuss ways in which you can get involved in the planning and programming of this great new student organization dedicated to "EASE"-ing the lives of international students at UNC.

7 p.m. — The Advocates for Sexual Assault Prevention will hold their weekly meeting in 101 Bingham Hall.

The Daily Tar Heel

PO Box 3257, Chapel Hill, NC 27515
 Kim Minugh, Editor, 962-4086
 Advertising & Business, 962-1163
 News, Features, Sports, 962-0245

One copy per person; additional copies may be purchased at The Daily Tar Heel for $.25 each.
 © 2003 DTH Publishing Corp.
 All rights reserved

What do I know about me? ... I know one day I'll want to start a family... but not yet.

- Birth Control
- Pregnancy Testing
- Abortion By Pill
- Surgical Abortion
- IV Sedation (optional)
- STD/HIV Testing

Planned Parenthood®
 Chapel Hill 942-7762 Durham 286-2872

Senior Pictures

January 20-24
 in the Yackety Yack office, Suite 106 Carolina Union
 call 962-3912 with any questions

Call 1-800-588-7681 to make an appointment

Or go to www.mcgrathstudios.com
 password NC3

2003 Michael Polanyi Lecture
 in the History and Philosophy of Natural Science

Einstein's Clocks

An exploration of the theory of relativity at the crossroads of technology, philosophy and physics

Dr. Peter Galison

Mallinckrodt Professor of the History of Science and of Physics
 Harvard University

Author of Einstein's Clocks, Poincaré's Maps (forthcoming W.W. Norton), Image and Logic: A Material Culture of Microphysics and How Experiments End.

COLLEGE of ARTS & SCIENCES
 The UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA at CHAPEL HILL

Free Public Lecture

Tuesday • January 21 • 7:00 p.m. • Hanes Art Center
 UNC-Chapel Hill campus • Cameron Avenue
 parking in Swain lot • Tel (919) 843-6339 • college.unc.edu

The lecture series, named for the chemist, philosopher and author Michael Polanyi (1891-1976), was established in 1981 through an endowment by the late UNC Physics Professor Waldo Haisley and his wife Doris Weaver Haisley.

UCS Internship Fair

Thursday, January 23, 2002
 10:00am - 3:00pm
 Hill Alumni Center

Organizations attending include:
 For a full list of organizations attending this year's fair, visit <http://careers.unc.edu>

A Helping Hand a.p.p.e.s. Program Agricultural Resources Center American Social Health Association Burlington Indians Curtis Media Group Department of the State Duke University Talent Identification Program Durham Exchange Club Industries Enterprise Rent-A-Car Found Objects GE Financial Assurance Hershey Foods IBM Corp. John Hancock Financial Services NC State Museum of Natural Science Neiman Marcus Nestle Purina PetCare Company	North Carolina Amateur Sports Northwestern Mutual Financial Network Philip Morris USA Raleigh Parks and Recreation Department Residential Services Inc. Rockett, Burkhead & Winslow Shodor Education Foundation Sports Endeavors State Farm Insurance Companies Target Stores The Streets of Southpoint The Visiting International Faculty Program Triangle Laboratories Inc. Turner Broadcasting System Inc. University Directories US Marine Corps Officer Programs Wachovia Securities Wake County Human Services 4-H Youth WakeMed
---	--

Freshmen-Graduate Students Welcome

Bring plenty of résumés!
 Dress is Business Casual!

Need help with your résumé?
 Visit Nash Hall Monday-Friday between 10am-3pm to speak with a counselor.
Need assistance due to disability? Call 962-6507 for more information.
 Sponsored by University Career Services, Division of Student Affairs
 University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Questions? Visit us Mon.-Fri. 8am-5pm • 919-962-6507 • <http://careers.unc.edu>

