

Most Underrated Athlete

No clear winner

According to you, the student, there are a lot of underrated athletes at UNC. Just to name a few: men's basketball center Sean May, point guard Melvin Scott and women's basketball players Ivory Latta and Camille Little.

Favorite Sports Web Site

Winner: TarHeelBlue.com

Why would students ever want to get information on UNC sports from a number of objective, unbiased news sources when they have "The Official Site of Tar Heel Athletics"?

Favorite Coach

Winner: Roy Williams

Welcome home, Roy. This answer was a no-brainer for students. Coach Williams has helped bring the men's basketball team out of its two years of doldrums to what is likely to be an NCAA tournament bid. Let's hope that one day he'll get to put a Carolina blue stone in that championship ring.

Best Machine at the SRC

Winner: Elliptical Machine

Seriously, on what other machine can you burn calories, run a mile, file your fingernails, read People Magazine, study for a midterm, watch television and listen to MP3's all at the same time? Certainly not on the Butt Blaster.

Best Off-Campus Work Out

Winner: Ladies Fitness & Wellness

But then again, for many it's just not worth the two-hour wait for cardio machines at the SRC.

Best Place to Watch a Game

Winner: Ham's

The place is literally full of televisions from wall to wall. Add beer, bacon-cheese fries and your best friends to the mix and you've got quite a game party.
