SUPREME COURT

"I agree with the fact that (the court) made the right call, so far as the basis for the code," said Jim

Brewer, chairman of the Board of

He said the board's mission is to ensure that every candidate has an equal chance of winning, and he felt mid-election rule changes jeopardized that.

Congress Speaker Luke Farley said he doesn't think the law presents a conflict of interest.

any other law policy that Congress crafts," he said. "Everything we do affects everyone, including sitting members of Congress."

change campaign laws to reflect technological advances, especially those as widely used as Facebook.

"We want as many people to be reached by candidates as pos-

Contact the University Editor

at udesk@unc.edu.

Farley said Congress needs to

"In the end, it's no different from

Elections

HOMECOMING

boxes and lamp-posts on campus, a violation of policy, Brewer said. The elections board is deciding n the penalties, he said. Even with relatively few glitches, he campaign season is growing eary on some students.

"I don't think the Homecoming lection needs to be that long, Russell said.

Moving directly from the cam-aign for Mr. and Ms. BSM, some of the candidates have faced more than a month of campaigning.

Despite constant campaigning, candidates are anxiously anticipating Saturday's festivities and look-ing forward to including friends and family in the concluding days.
"My sister is my escort," Alexander said.

Six polling sites will be available for students, though a seventh between Phillips Hall and Memorial Hall might be added. Students can call 962-VOTE if they encounter voting problems. Brewer emphasized his hope for a large turnout.

"The issues here are extremely important because it speaks to Carolina's commitment to public service.

> Contact the University Editor at udesk@unc.edu.

Candidates and their platforms

Mariatu Cole is running on a platform to fight hunger by holding a Thanksgiving

Whitney Frye plans to create a week UNC diversity if elected queen today.

Chloe Russell is running on a platform to healthy habits among UNC students.

Nathan Alexander is running on a platform to create a mentoring program.

Carlon Myrick plans to help expand education beyond the classroom if he wins today.

INPUT

of the advertising was in informa-tional e-mails," he said. "I don't think a lot of graduate or medical students really check their Web mail, and we're also so busy."

Ingalls said scheduling conflicts

don't end on election day.
"We meet on Tuesday nights, and a lot of graduate students find that they don't have time on Tuesday,' he said. "I can't think of a way to be effective without having undergraduates and grad students together."

Hall 08.

SWISHIN' IT

unior Jeff Nakayama takes a few shots at a basketball game in the Pit on Monday. The game was part of the Homecoming table set up for the week's events, which will include a poker tournament, a step show and a powder puff football game, leading up to UNC's game vs. Georgia Tech.

Davis said he thinks the positions were not adequately publicized.
"I don't know if people were really that informed because a lot federation hasn't made graduate

"Occasionally they would sort of half-heartedly get people on there," he said. "Once in awhile one of them would stick around, but there hasn't really been a concerted effort."

Lusk won a Congress seat in the Oct. 17 election, but didn't accept because of time limitations.

Ingalls noted that open gradu-ate seats in Congress can decrease funding for graduate programs.
"When they're not in their seats,

the undergraduates decide every-thing," he said. "When they're not being represented, all the money P.J. Lusk, who ran for GPSF president and served on Student goes to the undergraduates Congress for two years as an undergraduate and one semester To remedy this disparity, Student Body President James Allred said he thinks Congress must reduce barriers for potential graduate members.

"I think there's been this attitude as a graduate student, said the

that if they want to do it, they'll come, but I think that's the wrong attitude," he said.

Anderson said she thinks all of the branches need to reach out more. "I think at any time you've got a pretty decent amount of (graduate student) apathy," Anderson said. "It's also not really understanding what GPSF does. Congress needs to explain it, and GPSF needs to do the same thing."

But GPSF Treasurer Adam

Yoculan said he thinks graduate students are aware of the organi-

"I think they do from the stand-point that we gave out all the money we had last year," he said. "It could be possible that if more groups knew about it, there could be more demand. And more groups could be funded if we had more money."

Despite a lack of graduate student participation, Anderson said she still believes graduate students care.

"They care, you just have to make it easy enough for them to

Contact the University Editor

health if elected.

Atrayus

to use the

to attend college.

Goode wants

urge students

Buy one item of clothing, get one item of equal or lesser value free with this ad!

One coupon per customer - $10 maximum value. Tues-Fri 10 AM-6 PM • Sat 10 AM-4 PM (919) 967-6985 • 103 C West Main Street, Carrbi (Downtown Carrboro behind Wendy's) www.clubnovashop.org

Club Nova promotes and provides opportunities for individuals living with mental illness to lead meaningful & productive lives of their choice in the community. Club Nova is a not-for-profit SOK3. All donations are tax-deductible.

CAMPUS RECREATION UPDATE

TABLE TENNIS SINGLES individual entry

Today is the LAST DAY to sign up!

GRAIL BASKETBALL 4 Players (Co-Rec) / 5 Players (Men's & Women's) Today is the LAST DAY to sign up!

FLOOR HOCKEY & BOWLING Sign up November 7-November 14

Carolina Fitness

campus

-E-haus Turf Field-

Not You

GOOD.

Ladies Night

Ladies enjoy an evening of health and fitness geared towards WOMEN at the RAMS HEAD REC CENTER. Participate in a night full of high energy classes such as Funk, Kickboxing, & Cycling!

MEN'S' Night

On the same night, the STUDENT RECREATION CENTER will be open to ONLY MEN. Come get your workout questions answered, talk to a personal trainer or try a Group Exercise class—Dodgeball, Abs/Core, & Yoga!

EVENT DATE: November 29 from 7pm-9pn

Come cheer us on to send the wolf pack women back home cryin'! Carolina Adventures

HIKE. KAYAK. CLIMB. EXPLORE.

3/24: CLIMBING ~ Pilot Mountain 3/31–4/1: KAYAKING ~ Roanoke River 4/7–4/8: CLIMBING ~ Crowder's Mountain

