Is Boy George worse than Bin Laden?

FROM STAFF AND WIRE REPORTS

Oklahoma State Rep. Sally Kern said that gays are a bigger threat to American society than terrorists.

“I honestly think it’s the biggest threat even that our nation has,” she said. “Even more so than terrorists or Islam, which I think is a big threat. ... I’m not gay-bashing, but according to God’s word, that is not the right kind of lifestyle. It has deadly consequences.”

Kern said that the education system is indoctrinating toddlers into the gay lifestyle. “The homosexual agenda is destroying our country,” Kern said.

Kern has received a lot of backlash from gay rights activists, who say her comments constitute hate speech.

NOTED. The Seattle Biomedical Research Institute is going to pay volunteers as much as $4,000 to be bitten by mosquitoes infected with malaria to see which vaccines work fastest. Scientists say no lives are in danger because the volunteers can be cured.

The head of the program, Dr. Patrick Duffy, says volunteers will spend several nights under medical supervision in a hotel.

QUOTED. “The officers kind of put two and two together.”

— Oregon Deputy District Attorney Dave Hopkins, about a bizarre Western-style crime.

Two guys in cowboy garb offered sheriff’s deputies doughnuts. Just then, the deputies were called to investigate a burglary involving doughnuts and the prints of cowboy boots. One of the men claimed to have been drinking whiskey.

JOIN THE FIGHT FOR PUBLIC HEALTH.

The U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps is an elite team of officers dedicated to protecting, promoting, and advancing the health and safety of our Nation. Our officers fight against disease, respond to public health emergencies, and provide care to those who need it most.

If you're ready to make a real difference in people's lives, the Commissioned Corps needs officers to serve in a variety of clinical and research positions. We also need officers to serve in other specialties to support our public health mission, such as mental health, engineering, and information technology.
