State & National

R VOTE EARLY

Early voting locations:

Morehead Planetarium 250 E. Franklin St., Chapel Hill

Carrboro Town Hall 301 W. Main St., Carrboro

Orange County Public Library 300 W. Tryon St., Hillsborough

Seymour Senior Center 2551 Homestead Road, Chapel Hill

Northern Human Services Center 5800 N.C. 86 North, Hillsborough

One-stop voting:

Residents who missed the voter registration deadline can register and vote at these sites if: 1) They live in the county.

2) They fill out a registration form.

3) They provide proof of residency.

Contested races on the ballot

Commissioner of Insurance Wayne Goodwin (D) John Odom (R) Mark McMains (L)

Commissioner of Labor Mary Fant Donnan (D) Cherie Berry (R)

Secretary of State Elaine F. Marshall (D) Jack Sawyer (R)

Superintendent of Public Instruction June St. Clair Atkinson (D) Richard Morgan (R)

Treasurer Janet Cowell (D) Bill Daughtridge (R)

N.C. State Senate District Ellie Kinnaird (D)

Jon G. (Greg) Bass (R) County Commissioner

At-large Bernadette Pelissier (D) Kevin Wolff (R)

Non-partisan Offices: Supreme Court Associate Justice (Vote for ONE) Robert H. (Bob) Edmunds, Jr.

Court of Appeals Judge (Vote for one of each pair) Jewel Ann Farlow

James A. (Jim) Wynn Sam J. Ervin, IV Kristin Ruth

Suzanne Reynolds

Cheri Beasley Doug McCullough

Dan Barrett Linda Stephens

Robert N. (Bob) Hunter, Jr.

District Court Judge District 15B (Vote for one) Alonzo Brown Coleman, Jr.

Probation reform priorities detailed

BY REBECCA PUTTERMAN

SISTANT STATE & NATIONAL EDITOR The N.C. Department of Correction is deciding how best to spend $2.5 million reforming a probation system which state and federal audits deemed broken.

The 2 percent budget cuts imple-nented by Gov. Mike Easley don't directly affect public safety agencies — but the next year will still be tight.

"We don't want to slow down on the priority projects," said Robert Lee Guy, director of the Division of Community Corrections. "Here we are trying to expand resources and at the same time we're going to have to cut and reduce spending. It's going to be a tough legislative session." Last week, corrections offi-cials presented their priorities to the N.C. General Assembly Joint Legislative Corrections, Crime Control and Juvenile Justice Oversight Committee.

They called for additional staff and an improved information shar-ing to help the overwhelmed system cope with high case loads. The shooting deaths earlier this year of former Student Body President Eve Carson and Duke graduate student Abhijit Mahato highlighted the problems because the suspects were cited for previous probation violations.

Audits conducted earlier this year by the National Institute of Corrections and Wake and Durham county probation offices yielded recommendations for reform ranging from changes in state criminal stat-utes to better communication.

that around the clock since the ummer," Guy said. The arrest alert, which will be dy for use at the end of November, will alert probation officers when a person in their charge is arrested.

Right now, it could take weeks for probation officer to find out when their charge violates probation — the case with Lawrence Lovette, a sus-pect in both Carson's and Mahato's aths

"The IT system would have caught everything," said N.C. Sen. Ellie Kinnaird, D-Orange, co-chairwom-an of the joint oversight committee.

"I'm hoping we can make a change." The department is also looking to combine information systems so that magistrates and officers at every level will have access to the same criminal records.

A pilot program is being con-ducted in Wake County by a local technology firm.

The department's other priority is new staff. They decided last week to hire 20 officers and six supervisors. But Guy said he is concerned about officers' salaries. He plans to ask for a salary raise for them — probation officers are paid $6,000 ss than the Durham Police force.

"They have a morale prob-lem. They really can't function," Kinnaird said in support of a pay raise for probation officials.

"That affects public safety and the safety of the people who are working there."

The department's meeting next week will discuss further budget allocation

Editor at stntdesk@unc.edu.

International Graduate Students & Scholars looking for affordable, reliable transportation

Chapel Hill Leasing can help you lease or insure a car. Leasing a car with CHL has benefits, such as:

- Inexpensive leases
- No social security number required
- · No credit history needed
- No down payment
- Short- and long-term leases available
- Very flexible terms

CHL also has insurance for your car offering benefits like:

High coverage levels

>

>

- Spouses can join for free
- · Cost is $100 per month
- No credit history or social security number needed

For more information, please call Chapel Hill Leasing at the number below or visit the website. Get started.

Simple • Affordable • Reliable

Chapel Hill Leasing

<

1.800.461.1496 chl@chleasing.com www.chleasing.com

Clyde Edgerton Thursday, October 16 Reading from his latest novel.

The Bible Salesman

pairs Henry, a 20-year-old Bible salesman in the Edgerton, the author of nine novels and a memoir, teaches creative writing at UNC-Wilmington and is the

Library and the Bull's Head Bookshop

Information 919-962-4207 or

B.J. Lawson

Bruce Fein

DTH/CAMERON MOSELEY

rofessor Joanne Marshall teaches a yoga class at the Ackland Art Museum on Tuesday afternoon. She has taught the class twice every month since 2006. The classes are free for museum members and $5 for the public. Marshall will lead a class at Granville Towers on Oct. 26.

John S. Arrowood

Betsy J. Wolfenden

Kay Hagan (D) Elizabeth Dole (R) Christopher Cole (L) Governor Bev Perdue (D) Pat McCrory (R)

President

Bob Barr (L)

U.S. Senate

Michael C. Munger (L)

Walter H. Dalton (D)

Robert Pittenger (R)

Attorney General

Phillip Rhodes (L)

Roy Cooper (D)

Bob Crumley (R)

Beth A. Wood (D)

Leslie Merritt (R)

Agriculture

Ronnie Ansley (D)

Steve Troxler (R)

Commissioner of

Auditor

Lieutenant Governor

Barack Obama (D)

John McCain (R)

ALL 3 $16.99 ADD 10" CHOOSE 2 FOR $19.99 • CHOOSE 2 FOR $19.99 • CHOOSE 2 FOR $19.99 • CHOOSE 3 FOR $27.96

The Peace, Prosperity & Liberty Forum

Gerrard Hall UNC Chapel Hill Friday Oct 17th

Adam Kokesh

Jim Neal

Mark Scibilia

Concert: 7:15pm | Forum: 8:00pm FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC LIMITED SEATING CALL 919-481-1177 to reserve seats

or visit www.lawsonforcongress.com for more information