Election News.

Minnesota has gone Republican by 35,000 majority.

In Wisconsin the Democrats do not yet give up the State to their opponents.

The Republicans carried the Connecticut Legislature by fifty-seven majority on joint ballot.

Mississippi has gone Democratic, of course, and Senator Lamar is assured of a return to the U. S. Senate.

Cameron's majority in Virginia will not reach 10,000. The Readjusters will have a majority of eighteen on joint ballot in the Legislature.

Latest details from Marion, Miss., confirm the statements that the bloodshed on election day was caused by a lot of colored men who attempted to vote out of their precincts.

As a result of the Virginia election prominent Republicans are inaugurating a movement to seduce other Southern States with federal patronage.

Henry J. Spooner has been elected to Congress in the district recently represented by Mr. Alderich, who has been elevated to the U. S. Senate.

Republicans concede the New York State Senate to the Democrats by two majority and the Assembly by two or three majority. Both parties claim the election of State ticket.

The election of Tuesday is in general a disappointment to the Republicans, of Pennsylvania because it proves how small a matter may wrest the control of the State from them.

Foreign News.

In his speech recently Lord Granville, of England, referred to the friendly feeling existing between that country and America.

Senor Moret, the leader of the Spanish democrats in the Cortez gave in his adhesion to King Alfonso, and declared that the present monarchy was compatible with democracy.

Railroad Matters.

A road from Dayton, on the Cincinnati Southern to Murphy, Cherokee county is to be built. It will there meet the D. cktown route, and the Marietta Railroad, which is graded twelve miles east of Murphy.

The prospect of having a railroad running through Pittsboro has already enhanced the value of real estate. One house and lot was sold there two months ago, and was sold again last Monday at an advance of twenty five per cent.

General News.

Personal.

Mrs. J. M. F. Harrison is sick on her farm in the country.

Commodore Appleton Oaksmith, of Carteret, was in town yesterday.

Mr. C. E. Foy was so much indisposed yesterday as to be confined at home all day.

Commodore Griffin, of the Trent River Transportation Company, left for home yesterday.

We omitted to mention the departure of Col. Thomas Powers, on Friday afternoon, for the field of his official duties in New York, for the present, as a Special Revenue Agent of the Treasury Department, to which position he was recently appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Local Summary.

Including the Neuse and Contentnea, there have been ten steamers in this port this week. The steamer Stout is expected in to-night.

The steamer Defiance arrived in this port yesterday morning with a heavy cargo of freight, principally for places on the line of the Midland Railway, and was engaged yesterday in loading cotton at their pier.

The steam dredge was yesterday engaged in dredging the dock back of Meadows's grist mill. This is the second contract she has had from Mr. Meadows, and when the work is completed, his docks will accommodate any sized vessels.

The schooner Annie E. Hall arrived in this port yesterday with a cargo of coal for Mr. Elijah Ellis. She is a new vessel, built in Wilmington, Del., and this is her first trip out. She is two hundred and thirteen tons burden, and commanded by Capt. Queen.

The schooner Addie Henry, which we mentioned in our Friday's issue as not having then arrived, got into port Friday night, having on board 350 sack salt and coal and other merchandise for Messrs. Bair Brothers and Company's Cannery. Capt. Dudley informs us that he was detained upon the "Swash" five days, and that he was only drawing seven feet of water, and found but six and half upon the bar, this in connection with light and adverse winds resulted in his being detained.

We learn from Mr. Taubenspeck, Superintendent of the National Cemetery, that several of the parties owning land along the Jack Smith Road, have expressed a willingness to give the land contiguous thereto to the General Government, and that the inspector will be here the latter part of this month or the first of next, when he will place the matter in his hands, and it is thought there will be no difficulty in obtaining the necessary appropriation.
