

DAILY PROGRESS.

NEWBERN, N. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 16, 1858.

The Commencement of a New Era.

Really we think we may begin to hope, with a degree of certainty, that a new era is rapidly opening up to us...

The shipping through this place, to and from Northern, and even Southern ports, is certainly increasing, and what is more, it will continue to increase.

The people of the West are beginning to find out the advantages of this route, both in freight charges and dispatch given to goods, produce and merchandise...

A FOREIGNER SOLD BY A SHARPER.—One day last week a Poleander, just arrived, became the victim of a drop pocket book thief, in New York.

"You zee I have a hair of classes on, and I cannot zee very gut; you zee I cum off de ship, and I was looking at de great zhips and houses...

A FIGHT, BUT NO BLOOD.—Those boys had better quit fighting in the neighborhood of the ship yard. Eyes were not made to be gouged out, nor hair to be torn from the roots; and profane language is a bad sign of good morals.
