ANOTHER DIAMOND WEDDING DUEL IN PROS-PECT -- It is rumored, hpparently on good orthority, that Lieut Batlett, the father-in-law of Senor Oviedo, who was for some time prominently before the public n connection with the wedding of his daughter and the affair of honor with Mr. Sted. man, has been so highly incensed by a recent article in the Home Journal, that he has demanded satisfaction

It seems that the article in question was with reterence to the reported engagement and approaching nuptials of a distinguished foreigner, in which the hope was expressed that the approaching wedding would not be such an affair as the famous dumond wedding, bnd an adjec-Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary tive was applied to the latter by no means com-

It is said that Mr. Bartlett, on reading the article in question, went to the office of the offending journal in a high state of excitement, and encountering the editor, asked an explanation ; but not receiving an apology declared that he would demand immediate satisfaction; and went off in high dudgeon.

When our informant last heard of the Lieutenant he was in search of a friend, and it is probable that a hostile message has already been sent to the quiet sanctum of the Journal.-Pest.
