riage, &c., impossible. Young Men Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of Young Men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of elequence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgencies and solitary habits which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either Business, Study Society or Marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz; Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.

DAILY PROGRESS.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 31, 1860.

BRIEF AND, THRILLING ROMANCE.

CHAPTER I. In a beautiful log cabin in the mountains of the Old North State our tale opens. Around Natures oneliness was sublime. The loftiest trees hung out their green leaves in perfection, and the high rocks caught the gray mists of the morning and pressed them to their rough bosoms, until they melted in tears against their sides. A lovely maiden was sitting by a table, combing her hair with a fine tooth cemb, a manly form enters the door, and stealthily creeps up behind her, and-

CHAPTER II. "Ah, John!" exclaimed the lovely heirress of that beautiful cabin and the extensive potato patch behind it, " you oughtn't to do that way!" "Lay it all on my love, gal!"

"Love! There is no such thing among folks!" The turtle dove Only knows love;"

As the peet sings !"

"Then you don't love me?" "No!" " No! Jane, call back that word!" "No! oh no! Come back here! 'Twon't come, John-'tis gone!

"Then I'm gone, too!" And the impassioned youth rushed from the lonely cabin like a maniac. Sadly did the young man run along the road, while the girl, firm and submissive in the discharge of her duty, proceeded to fry some onions for dinner. Meanwhile the youth rushed madly on; the burning fever of his heart maddened in his brain, and he thought of self distruction .-

the United States, and the greater part of whose life | Jerking his pocket-comb from his vest pocket, has been spent in the hospitals of Lendon, Paris, Phil- vainly did he attempt to cut his throat, however, adelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the who had blessed him with a tough hide, proved most astonishing cures that were ever known; many two strong for him-he rushed to a wagon rut, There he lay for full five seconds, when Henry Cleft, the father of the gal, passed by. CHAPTER IV.

He soon unfolded his sad tale to his friend, and finally consented to live if Henry would give him a chew of tobacco. He returned to the house, and in his haggard countenance, Jane saw his unhappy condition. He never got over it, though. About twenty years after, he fell from a wagon, and his neck was broken, for a sheriff had thoughtlessly slipped a rope around it.
