COTTON GINS.—We invite the attention of Planters to our Agency for Geo. Kidd's celebra ted Cotton Gins. Those in want of a first Class Gin will do well to give us an order early that we may furnish them in time for the present comp. We would refer those unacquainted with this make of Gin to B. Wethersby, Esq., of Craven and Edward Patrick, Esq. of Greens county, who have them in use.

A. MITCHELL & SON.

I have recently added to my Cotton Gins C. Mc-Linden's Improvement on Cotton Gin Bexes, by which a Gin will pick about one-third more cotton in a day, and improves the quality of the cotton from a day, and improves the quality of the cotton from ic. to ic. per pound over any gin not using this improvement. It picks the seed cloaner and prevents any cotton from clogging on the saws. This improvement consists in plunging the heads of the Cetton Bux six inches from where the saws pass through the ribs, in a direct line outward, deflecting from this line in an angle of about fifteen degrees, causing the cotton as it passes upward to contrast and expand going downward, thus shifting the cetton to as to present a different surface to the saws each time.

Messrs A Michell & Son, Newbern, are my agents for the sale of Cetton fins, who will fill any orders promptly. [july 24 wif] GEORGE KIDD
