NEW BERNE, N. C., TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 9, 1874.

Number 44.

LOCAL.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

We desire to state for the information of all concerned, that we hold ourselves responsible for any and all articles that have appeared or may appear in this paper. SETH M. CARPENTER.

READ AND PONDER.

White men of North Carolina, the Radical Party of Craven County have appointed Negro Trustees over the Academy of New Berne,—a school of White Children. Whether you be native or adopted citizens, rich or poor, learned or unlearned, christian or infidel, think of this when you go to the ballot-box again, and let the thunder of your indignant protest blast the usurpers.

MISREPRESENTATION.—Dick King, under the nom de plume of "Citizen," desires it to be inferred that Carpenter is "the nominal editor of the NEWBERNIAN." We call the attention of "Citizen" to the brief, but earnest notice that, when not crowded out, daily appears upon the local page of this paper, the caption of which reads thusly: "To all whom it may concern." We plainly say that "Citizen," in these premises makes another willful misrepresentation.

MR. EDITOR:—Our community rejoice to know that the finances of the A. & N. C. R. Road are in such flourishing condition that the ex-President, E. R. Stanly, feels justified in drawing his pay to July 1st. We trust that the road now will prorate satisfactorily with other roads, both for passengers and freight, and also for excursion trips to the mountains, and notify the public that they have done so. We think now that the up country "fellers" will quit calling it the "Mullet Road," as its finances are in such good condition that it can afford to pay two Presidents each such a salary.

STOCKHOLDER.

HOW THE THING WORKS.—In Frank Leslie for June 13th, we find the following apt illustration of the workings of the Civil Rights Bill. A U. S. Senator having taken a room with a double bed, at a certain hotel, he is aroused during the night by the landlord, accompanied by a man and brother anxious to rest his weary limbs. Upon being advised by said man and brother's desire, the following conversation ensues:

U. S. Senator—"But I don't want to sleep with a negro."

Landlord—"Well, its the only double bed in the house, and if I don't give him half of it, I shall have to pay him $500 damages. You must either sleep with him or go into the street."

MR. EDITOR:—Will XXX please give the public the statistics, as to the number of "the poor innocent girls" who "committed suicide?" If he cannot furnish the information, a billet doux, upon so interesting a subject, to Miss Stowe, will no doubt put him in possession of the facts.

P.

WILLFULNESS.—Under the nom de plume of "Citizen," Dick King says that the Editor of the NEWBERNIAN "is governed by little feelings in signing the name of a public enemy." In answer to King, we proclaim that "Citizen" is a misstatement.

Brethren, you are hereby notified of a regular meeting of your Lodge, at Bowthorpe Hall, this (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock. A. W. EDWARDS, Sect'y.

HOW TO MAKE A COOLING DRINK.—Go to C. E. SLOVER'S and get a can of SUGAR OF LEMONS and prepare according to directions.

Out of the ninety-seven candidates for admission to West Point, thirty-two could not pass. None of the colored candidates were successful.

ICE CREAM.—The ladies connected with the M. E. Sewing Society, will hold an ice cream sociable at the American House on Wednesday evening. (N)ice cream, lemonade and cake, together with the presence of the fair ladies, will present such an attraction as no young man should resist. The object in view in raising money by this means is a worthy one, and money invested now for cooling purposes will, most probably, next winter, be the means of warming some of the destitute poor of the city.

PERVERSION.—Under the nom de plume of "Citizen," Dick King represents that, because he "did not grant the Editor of the NEWBERNIAN a free pass over his road, the Editor aforesaid asserted he would 'go for him.'" We never asked Dick King for a pass, especially for ourself; but wished to know if he would give the members of the Press the same privilege as did the other railroads of the State? Dick King answered the query in the following words: "These newspapers are all nuisances." We proclaim the above-mentioned representation by the aforesaid Dick King, under the nom de plume "Citizen," a willful perversion.

SANITARY.—Since the recent rains the atmosphere has become sultry and oppressive, and it behooves our citizens to use every precaution to cleanse their premises. The heat of the sun causes rapid evaporation from decaying vegetation and other matter, and if not attended to by the use of disinfectants will cause sickness, and in its train follows suffering and frequently death. We must not put this off, as it is a subject fraught with too serious consequences, and must be dealt with at once. We hope our Common Council will take immediate steps to have an examination of all places that are likely to breed infection and disease. It is better to invest a few dollars in the purchase of disinfectants than to lose long sleepless nights in anxiety and suspense, in watching by the sick bed of some relative or friend. This city is naturally one of the healthiest in the State, and if the citizens will do their duty—those who are not able to spend their Summers at the sea side or mountain resorts—will be as healthy as they who do. Give us strict sanitary laws, and all will be well, and when "Jack Frost" visits us again, we will have cause to congratulate the efforts of our citizens and the city authorities. We do not wish to become tiresome by recurring so frequently to the sanitary condition of our city, but we think it a matter of such vital importance that we, as public journalists, cannot but give the warning note before it be too late and the enemy be upon us. Now is the time to act, and if possible place our city in such condition as will insure us from all diseases of an epidemic character.

DON'T CARE.—Dick King, under the pseudonymous title of "Citizen" says: "We care nothing about who is President of the railroad, so that he be a good man." We ask "Uncle Dick" how would you like it, if your friend (?) E. R. Stanly should be called upon to resume the Presidency of your little pet thoroughfare? We would also ask, if you could hope thereafter to be conveyed to and fro between this city and your Kinston home at any hour of the day or night without compensation? Or perhaps you would prefer your beloved (?) friend C. R. Thomas to take the thing off your hands. We would like much (if we are to have a Radical President), to see Thomas take your place, though in a political point of view, we have no admiration for him; yet we give him the credit of being the most satisfactory Radical President that has as yet managed this poverty-stricken concern. We know you like (?) Thomas, for you spoke of him very affectionately (?) upon a certain occasion when we called upon you to know whether you really meant what you said when you told us that "all the newspapers were nuisances," you took occasion to remark that you had no reference to the NEWBERNIAN, for you thought that there were "some very good things in it." Please give us your candid opinion of this issue; or if you cannot spare the time, let your tool "Citizen" to speak for you.

A Pipua girl who had a quarrel with a friend remarked to a friend that "she wasn't squeezing terms with that fraud any more."

MR. EDITOR:—XXX does not appear to be content with the assertion that the colored people are all bastardly wretches, but now in his communication as published in the New Berne Times on Sunday last, XXX not only calls me a "nondescript" and a "disgruntled negro," but says that the negro is not capable of writing a grammatical communication. XXX pretends to know me, and yet he makes the proposition that if I will publish my name, he will publish his. Now Mr. Editor, we all know who XXX is, and it would be simply ridiculous to give him an opportunity to gratify his vanity and thereby disgust the people of this community with seeing his name in print. XXX thinks (?) I have picked up the wrong man, and that I am not to be let off so easily, &c. Now Mr. XXX, if you want to see your name in print, I want you to write in substance as follows, and when you comply, I will let you and the whole public know who I am:

A Card.

This is to certify that the undersigned is not only a genuine carpet bagger and office holder, but that he is prepared to truthfully substantiate every assertion uttered over the letters of XXX.

Come out Mr. XXX and give us an illustration of your sincerity and then you and yours shall know

A COLORED VOTER.

THE PRIEST OF RADICALISM.

No. 1.

"The path that led to hell with tempting flowers,
And in the ear of sinners as they took
The way of death, he whispered peace; he swore
Away all love of lucre, all desire
Of earthly pomp; and yet a princely seat
He liked, and to the clink of mammon's box
Gave most rapacious ear. His prophecies,
He swore, were from the Lord; and yet taught lies
For gain: with quackish ointment, healed the wounds
And bruises of the soul, outside, but left,
Within, the pestilent matter unobserved,
To sap the moral constitution quite,
And soon to burst again incurable.
He with untempered mortar daubed the walls
Of Zion, saying, Peace, when there was none.
The man who came with thirsty soul to hear
Of Jesus, went away unsatisfied;
For he another gospel preached than Paul,
And one that had no Savior in it; and yet,
His life was worse. Faith, charity and love,
Humility, forgiveness, holiness,
Were words well lettered in his Sabbath creed;
But with his life he wrote as plain, Revenge,
Pride, tyranny and lust of wealth and power
Inordinate, and lewdness unashamed.
He was a wolf in clothing of the lamb,
That stole into the fold of God, and on
The blood of souls, which he did sell to death
Grew fat; and yet when any would have turned
Him out, he cried, "Touch not the priest of God."
And that he was anointed, fools believed;
But knew, that day, he was the devils priest,
Anointed by the hands of sin and death,
And set peculiarly apart to ill,—
While on him smoked the vials of perdition,
Pomed measureless."

BY LAST NIGHT'S MAIL.

LITTLE ROCK, June 6.—The affairs here are quiet. The State prisoners have been released on a small bail. Brooks himself goes on the street daily without being molested. King White has disbanded his forces.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Gen. Sherman goes to St. Louis for a few days.

The Committee of Conference, disagreeing on the votes of the two houses, in relation to the Freedmen's Bank, met this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was in session at 3 P. M.

The Senate insists on its bill which provides for a complete winding up of the affairs of the bank in this city and all its branches.

The House bill allows the bank and its branches to continue to do business, but sets forth explicitly upon what class of securities loans shall be made.

The amendment to the Postoffice Appropriation bill, that agricultural reports pass the mails free, was stricken out.

The Law of Fatigue.

Dr. Haughton, in his "Animal Mechanics," states the law of fatigue as follows:—"When the same muscle (or group of muscles) is kept in constant action until fatigue sets in, the total work done, multiplied by the rate of work, is constant. Suppose a man, walking at his ordinary pace, does not become tired until he has gone thirty miles. If he walks three times as fast, he will be tired at the end of ten miles, having done one-third of the work in one-ninth of the time; and so on, the total work done varying as the square root of the time necessary to produce fatigue.

"Where the rate of work is very rapid, as in a boat race, it is of course impossible to keep it up for any great length of time. The actual amount of work done in such a case is thus illustrated by Dr. Haughton:—A good idea may be formed of the rate in which the muscles give out work in a boat-race, from comparing this work with the average daily work of a laborer. At many kinds of labor there are 400 foot-tons of work accomplished in ten hours. The oarsman performs (this is arrived at by calculation) in one minute the 100th part of his day's labor, and if he could continue to work at the same rate he would finish his day's task in one hour and forty minutes, instead of the customary ten hours. The work done, therefore, in rowing one knot in the seven minutes, is, while it lasts, performed at a rate equal to six times that of a hard-worked laborer."

A Magnetic Cave.

A wonderful cave has been discovered near Pine Grove, California. Three men named Stokes, Jamison and Mason explored it for about a mile and a quarter. They found chambers beautifully decorated with stalactites and stalagmites, and a stream of water leaping from the roof into an apparently bottomless pit, also a hot spring emitting sulphurous puffs of steam. In another chamber the walls and rocks were highly magnetic. One of the party who carried a hatchet had it suddenly wrested from him by a magnetic rock near which he passed, and the combined strength of the party was unable to detach it. Another who had on miners' boots, the soles of which were filled with nails, could only walk with difficulty, and happening to step upon a portion of the floor unusually magnetic, found himself suddenly affixed thereto and unable to move. He was compelled to leave his boots there.
