J. C. HARDY, Editor and Proprietor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

One Year, .....$1.00
Six Months, .....50

Entered as second-class matter July 24, 1914, at the post office at Norlina, North Carolina, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Friday, Oct. 23, 1914.

"King Cotton" seems to have been hit a hard blow.

We like the idea of holding county fairs. By the time another season comes we want to see Warren county hold a fair at Norlina. Who will take the lead for the Warren county fair? The Headlight stands ready to do its full part to make it a great success.

From what we have seen and heard we are led to believe that more clover, rye, oats and wheat has been seeded this fall than for many previous years. This is the right thing for our farmers to do. Keep this up and then it will not make so much difference as to the price of cotton and tobacco.

The death of Mr. Daniel A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, Sunday morning removes a prominent and useful man from the industrial affairs, not only of his home city and State but of the South as well. Mr. Tompkins, with the late J. P. Caldwell, some years ago founded the Charlotte Daily Observer and through his influence and means it was enabled to succeed and it has grown to be one the leading daily papers of the South.

Governor Locke Craig has issued a proclamation calling the people of North Carolina to observe December 3rd, 4th and 5th as "Community Service Days." On these days he urges every man, woman and child in the State to lend heart, hand and brain to the service and development of North Carolina. Meet in your community on the days named above and talk and work for the uplift of the State and nation—make these three days great days in the history of our land and country. The schools are especially urged by the Gov. to join in this great State-wide celebration.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

The ten amendments, which the people of North Carolina are to vote for or against on November 3rd, are as follows:

To change the term "War of the Rebellion" where use to "War Between the States."

To increase the compensation of members of the general assembly to $360. per session and decrease their mileage.

To limit local, private and special legislation by the general assembly.

To change the day of inaugurating the governor.

To prevent delays in trials by providing emergency judges.

Removing obsolete sections from the constitution.

To revise and reform the system of revenue and taxation.

To prevent special charters to corporations by the general assembly.

To prevent special charters to towns, cities and incorporated villages.

To require six month's public school term.—Raleigh Times.

A Card of Thanks.

My sister and brother, and our entire family join me and my husband in heartiest thanks to our dear friends and neighbors for their great and beautiful kindness to us at the time of our aunt Alice Ridout's death. They came with hearts full of sympathy, and lovingly and tenderly did all in their power to soften our grief. We know not how to thank them enough, but will say may Heaven's richest blessings be theirs.

REBECCA CHAMPION.

"Buy-a-bale" from the man that needs the money—the renter and one that has from eight to fifteen children to feed every day.

Belle Evans Paschall.

O the depths of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments and his ways are past finding out.—Rom. 11:33.

On Monday, Sept. 21st, 1914, the death angel entered the home of Mr. A. E. Paschall and bore into the great beyond the spirit of the devoted wife and mother.

In her early life she learned to love the Lord, gave her heart to Him and joined Mt. Auburn Christian Church. She was a woman of excellent christian character and called upon her Lord to the very last even when her voice failed her she would motion her lips saying, Lord, Lord.

It is a sweet thought to think she is in that happy dwelling place free from all sorrow and pain.

It seems as if I can hear the shouts of welcome that greeted on the other shore from her loved ones gone before.

At the age of sixteen she became the wife of Mr. A. E. Paschall and remained a faithful and loving wife until the last.

Rev. J. A. Burgess, pastor of New Hope M. P. Church conducted the funeral. She was laid to rest in the Paschall burying ground.

The large assemblage of people and the beautiful floral tributes were evidences of the love and esteem in which she was held.

She leaves a husband and nine children, besides a host of friends to mourn her loss. Our hearts go out in sympathy to the bereaved loved ones.

A LOVING NIECE.

Field sports.

When you keep a boy interested in football, baseball, tennis, and the like, you lessen the chances that he will get interested in things not so good for him.

The youth's companion, since its enlargement, gives generous space to this matter of athletic training, and gets the best coaches in the country to write for it.

How to practice to become a first-rate pitcher, how to train for a race, how to learn the newest strokes in swimming—these and a hundred other topics of the greatest interest to boys—and girls, too, for that matter—are touched upon in this important department of The Companion.

And this is only a small part of the service which The Companion renders in any home which it enters. It has points of contact with a hundred interests.

If you do not know The Companion as it is to-day, let us send you one or two current issues free, that you may thoroughly test the paper's quality. We will send also the Forecast for 1915.

Every new subscriber who sends $2.00 for the fifty-two weekly issues of 1915 will receive free all the issues of the paper for the remaining weeks of 1914; also The Companion Home Calendar for 1915.
