DESCRIPTION OF A KNOCKER.

The description of a knocker which appeared in The Salt Lake City Times is well worth your time:

After God had finished the rattlesnake, the toad and the vampire, He had some awful "substance" left with which He made a "knocker." A knocker is a two-legged animal with a corkscrew soul, water sogged brain, and a combination backbone made of jelly and glue. Where other people have their hearts he carries a tumor of rotten principles. When the knocker comes down the street honest men turn their backs, angels weep tears in heaven, and the devil shuts the gates of hell, to keep him out. No man has a right to knock as long as there is a pool of water deep enough to drown his body in, or a rope to hang his carcass with. Judas Iscariot was a gentleman compared to a knocker, for after betraying his Master he had enough character to hang himself, and a knocker has not.

What seems to us an advantage to children and schools in the county is a suggestion by Mr. L. E. Dimmette that the teachers get up a careful selection of songs and print into a booklet for use daily in the public schools. By using such a booklet only the most popular songs would be before the teacher and pupils for selection from and at each morning exercise songs of more interest sung with more charm would be the result, aside from the fact that the cheeriness of the booklet all of the children could get hold of a booklet from which to sing and eliminate the occurrence of two or three doing the singing only and alone and perhaps they, in some cases, starting round one large book that contains five hundred songs.

Do Watchfully Wait.

Washington Dispatch to Charlotte Observer, 30th.

Two years is a "fur piece" off but clouds are gathering about the North Carolina political horizon. The political bullets aimed at Senator Simmons through Collector A. D. Watts are being turned a little more each day toward the real target.

If the Democrats are still dominant in the Nation, after November 1916, the "progressive Democrats" or "the Outs" will go after Senator Simmons with gloves off. It will not be a Kitchin Simmons fight, for when Senator Simmons goes the Kitchins and all others who have been in for a decade or more will be opposed by younger, and more vigorous fighters. The war sinews that will be used against Senator Simmons will not come altogether from the Kitchin camp but in part from Senator Simmons' own ranks.

This is a Democratic outlook. These half-predictions are based on sidelights that show on the boards here from day to day. The casual dropping in of A. W. McLean, Collector Bailey, Marshall Webb and Collector Watts and others of the old Simmons guard indicate action. Pipes are being put down for the coming days. The ever silent Thomas D. Warren, who thinks in seven languages and talks but little and low and mellow, has been here. His tracks never appear on the surface. He walks in the sand and his footprints disappear. But, like the unseen doodle bug, he is around somewhere and can be very active at times.

Republicans Shaping Up.

The Republican movement is taking more definite shape day by day. North Carolinians who do not believe in a tariff for revenue only, and other Democratic doctrines are waiting to say "I told you so." They are large in numbers, according to the views of ex-Senator Marion Butler and ready to go to it. Most of the folks who pour hot shot into Collector Watts hope for the success of the Republicans in North Carolina, and they want to hit Senator Simmons but lack the sand to do it. Poor Old Austin Davidson Watts, who has slaved for the Democratic party for years, is being kicked around like Champ Clark's old hound, just because the kickers cannot find the "boss."

Democrats in Washington are watching with keen eyes the war clouds in the State. The primary movement and the other live issues promise much excitement.

Not Theirs to Worry.

There is deep seated interest in the tax question now up in the State, but the members of Congress have not studied the proposed constitutional amendments. Some of them have not seen them.

But, there is one thing certain; it is this: the noise in the State over various issues that loom up is distracting the attention of Congressmen.

The Democratic leaders would like to see the Republicans put up stiff fights in the State this fall so as to keep the Democrats from tearing at each others throats. The Republicans seem to have adopted the policy of "watchful waiting," waiting for 1916.

Rules Given For Preventing Typhoid.

The State Board of Health is distributing a leaflet containing the following rules for the prevention of typhoid fever. The rules are taken from the Journal of the American Medical Association and are:

For the Individual.

Keep away from all known or suspected cases of typhoid.

Wash hands thoroughly before meals. Don't use "roller towels."

Use drinking water only from sources known to be pure, or if this is not possible, use water that has been purified by municipal filtration or by hypochlorite treatment or by boiling in the household.

Avoid bathing in polluted water.

Use pasteurized or boiled, instead of raw milk.

Select and clean vegetables and berries, that are to be eaten raw, with greatest care.

Avoid eating "fat raw oysters, and in general, oysters and other shell-fish whose origin is not known.

Be vaccinated against typhoid in all cases in which any special exposure is known or feared.

For the Community.

Insist on the hearty co-operation of all persons with an efficient health officer.

Require notifications and a reasonable degree of isolation of every known or suspected typhoid case.

Exercise strict control over disinfection of known typhoid excreta.

Insist on pure or purified water supply.

Require pasteurization of milk supplies.

Regard all human excreta as possibly dangerous and control their disposition in such a way as to prevent contamination of food or drink.

For Sale.

Appalachian Training School.

In building for eleven years the Appalachian Training School the trustees have kept fully in mind three objects.

First: To erect substantial and inexpensive buildings and to equip them for the actual needs of the students.

Second: To secure competent, efficient and consecrated teachers.

Third: To keep the cost to the student of everything at the lowest.

The full term begins August 20. Address, SECRETARY OF THE FACULTY, BOONE, N. C.

NEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

But Husband, With Aid of Cardui, Effects Her Deliverance.

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death.

Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken.

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefited by its use. There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength.

If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has a million others.

Get a bottle of Cardui to-day.

New York Exchange Closes Last in World.

New York, July 31st. The vast and complex machinery of the securities markets of the world came to a complete halt today for an indefinite period. It was an occurrence unprecedented in history.

With Europe seemingly on the verge of war, the continental exchanges closed several days ago, with the London market following suit today, the New York stock exchange would have been called upon to bear the weight of the world's financial burdens. It virtually had done so all week, for while the London market was open, transactions were nominal. The unloading of stocks here by panic stricken Europe during the last four days and the consequent collapse of prices made history in Wall street.

To continue longer to bear the burden, in the opinion of the bankers, whose influence determines the course of events in the Street would have been hazardous in the extreme. After a period of hesitation and excited nervous tension it was decided 10 minutes before the hour set for the

Too Much Auto.

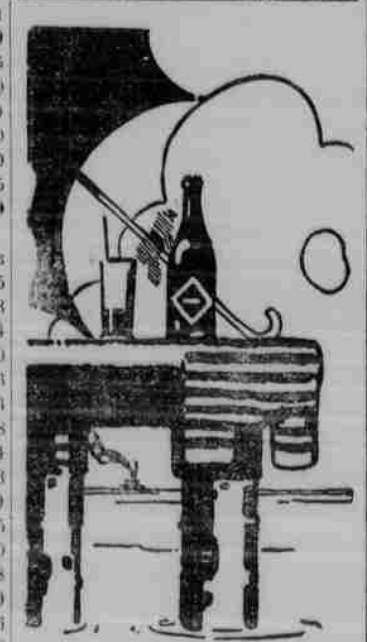

Saturday Post. Too much automobile is set down by a college professor as cause for the little of actual learning at some of the large schools of the country, this teacher, a professor in Clark University, declaring that students are afflicted with too much "swelled fortunes," "large prosperity" for their own good, and the results at such schools as the one he is connected with, well as Yale, Harvard, Princeton and others, speak eloquently to the truth of the condition existing on the campus, where the boys, many of them, are devoting their time to automobiles, tangoing and other great and wise things rather than to the college duties. No doubt there is a large amount of truth in that the smaller colleges are similarly affected, for it is certain that many of the students have more money than will mix with study and the spirit of the college has changed wonderfully during the past twenty years. The automobile is but one of the instruments used so effectively to prize boys away from books and the larger schools of the East are not the only ones to suffer. Yet the fact remains that a boy can study as well today and make as good progress as he could in the days of walking ten miles to the open school. These things may interfere with many, but the poor boy who has his heart set on an education is getting a showing today, and every one of them with the right sort of "stuff" in him can do well in any of the schools of the land.
