VIEW OF A GERMAN-AMERICAN NEWSPAPER,

The following is taken from the Winton Salem Sentinel:

Since the United States entered the world war some so called German-Americans in this country have been guilty of disloyal utterances and acts The vast majority, however, have exhibited unquestioned loyalty and have supported this nation cheerfully and liberally.

In a recent issue the New York Staats Jeitung, the leading German-American paper in the United States, reviewed the war situation and what it says represents the view, we be lieve, of the average native of Germany who is now a citizen of this country. After telling of the gains of territory made by the German armies thus far, the sinking of ships and other so called German "successes," that paper says:

"All these are the 'achievements' of Germany under the whip of the military party. But what do we find on the other side of the ledger? "). Germany has sacrificed the STOCK BOAR-RED DUROC JERflower of her arms bearing youth. Millions of her sons have famen on the field of battle, have been crippled,

> The Food Administration calls particular attention to the fact that in order to keep the prices low it is necessary that the merchants be given the privilege of charging less for goods paid for and carried home than for goods handled in other ways.

With regard to the sugar situation, we are informed that the supply for North Carolina during the month of August will be very short and the merchants will be required to limit home consumption to 2 pounds per person per month. The food administration is endeavoring to furnish all the sugar necessary for canning but they cannot supply any for preserving and pickling; and the supply for canning will necessarily be limited. Merchants are not allowed to file any canning certificates unless they are approved by the County Food Administrator.

The wheat situation is very much improved and modifications are to be published soon

Mr. Married Man:

Have you made provisions whereby your wife and children would be supplied with the real necessities of life in case your earning capacity would be taken from them by your death?

Have you made provisions whereby your wife could settle your estate without making a sacrifice in order to make such settlements that it might be necessary to make on account of your death?

We have a way whereby you can provide for immediate payment of a certain sum of money to your family in case of your death for less than the tax would cost you on the same amount of real estate. It will be to your interest to call at our office and talk this proposition over with us.
