The Chatham Citizen. PUBLISHED BY R. B. LINEBERRY, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Communications to be printed should be written on one side of the paper only. Your real name must accompany each communication or it can not be printed.

The editor is not responsible for the views of correspondents, but will allow nothing enter the columns of the CITIZEN that he knows to be false or slanderous.

We want intelligent correspondents in every township in the county.

In the state democratic convention of Colorado the question of fusion with populists and silver republicans received 223 nay and 177 aye votes.

The last and most startling injunction I have issued by Federal Judge J. M. Hagan at Morgantown, West Va., enjoining Rev. J. W. Willey from preaching to the strikers.

Mr. Calvert can be found at his office in Pittsboro at all times, and Mr. Murchison can be addressed or consulted at his office in Jonesboro.

By virtue of an order of the Superior Court, made and entered in the case of J. W. Green et al vs Lelia Burk et al. I will on the 4th day of October 1897, at the court-house door in Pittsboro, N. C. offer for sale to the highest bidder the mill and mill tract of the late R. N. Green.

By virtue of the powers contained in a certain deed of mortgage executed by William Douglas and wife to Rosa J. Kimball on the 1st day of April, 1891, and duly registered in Register's office for that county, Book "C", page 323, which said mortgage was transferred to the undersigned, I will, on the 9th day of October 1897, at the court-house door in Pittsboro, N. C. offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash, a tract of land situated in said county, Cape Fear township, beginning at a stake in E. E. Bryan's corner thence south with E. E. Bryan's line 154 poles to a stake, S. E. corner of E. E. Bryan's corner, thence east with S. E. Jones' line 28 poles to the corner of lot No. 4, thence north 87 poles to a stake and thence south 104 poles to a stake and thence east with E. E. Bryan's line to the beginning, estimated to contain twenty acres.

Public sentiment has been so outspoken in denunciation of this board of trustees for thus trying to crush the freedom of speech and in praise of the man, who, having convictions, dared maintain them that the trustees have come back and asked President Andrews to withdraw his resignation.

There are two or three things about this that are specially gratifying. In the first place it is refreshing to find, in these times when so many men in high positions are selling their principles for so many dollars, a man who has principles that can not be bought and can not be smothered.

Then it shows that there is a healthy public sentiment yet, which, when properly aroused, can even defeat the plans of Mr. John Rockefeller. This avaricious millionaire has accomplished much for the trusts but he realizes that he tried to go a little too far in this case. Speaking of this effort to silence President Andrews and the subsequent effort to retire Mr. Ross, professor of economics in Stanford university, of California, the News and Observer has the following to say: "The men who have made their fortunes by trusts write our tariff and currency laws, appoint our Federal judges; own many of our papers; and now they have determined to control the last citadel of liberty of conscience and free speech. It would be better for New England and California that Brown and Stanford Universities should be utterly destroyed than the influences fortunes made like the Rockefeller and Stanford fortunes were amassed should continue their destroying dominion."

Mal Air and too much Worth among themselves, it seems, is bringing considerable censure upon the state officials at Raleigh. Let no officer deceive himself into thinking that the treasury is his and the fulness thereof.

The Newbern Journal criticizes its democratic brother, Josephus Daniels, editor of the News and Observer for calling the 30,000 white republicans in the state the "scum of the state." The Journal intimates that the democratic party has other principles than the race question as Mr. Daniels seems to think. May be that it has, but what a democrat understands by principles is something to help his party get into power.

The railroad commissioners, J. W. Wilson and S. O. Wilson deny having any connection with the Southern railroad but they have dropped the Round Knob hotel like a hot brick. Gov. Russell has not yet announced his decision as to what he will do with them.

Major Wilson thinks the Gov. can not suspend him; that if he has been corrupt he will have to be impeached as judges are. He says he will not give up without a lawsuit. Why, of course not. Democrats seldom do.

BEAUMONT, N. C., Sept. 14, 1897. EDITOR OF CITIZEN:— If you will allow me space in the columns of your valuable paper I will give a few items. I am glad to note that Mr. J. W. Green is getting able to be out again.

Mr. J. C. Tysor has lost the oldest hen on record in this town. She died at the ripe old age of fourteen. She set, hatched and raised a brood of turkeys this summer, but the most remarkable feature of the old hen was: she was always willing to take young chicks at any time.

The farmers are very busy gathering fodder and cotton. I have been told that Mr. T. E. Carroll, of this township, has a new kind of cotton, the limbs run about over the ground like potato vines; but his neighbors do not think the cotton will be a success unless there is plenty of rocks and grass to support it—to keep the fruit off the ground.

"My boy came home from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros. Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism, I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Bynum & Headen, Pittsboro, N. C.

News and Observer: A gentleman from Weldon reports a remarkable instance which happened there Sunday. There was a good rain for two hours, accompanied by a thunder storm. When the storm first came up the lightning struck a frame house and melted a gold chain around the neck of a little child playing in front of the house. The child was of course, injured some, but when last heard from it was still living and will probably recover.

Salisbury Sun: S. W. Henderson of Carlisle, Pa., was in the city last Wednesday night having in his charge six Indians from the Cherokee reservation in this state. Mr. Henderson is one of the teachers of the Carlisle Indian school and was accompanying these Indians to that place. There were two girls in the group and they and two of the boys are full blooded Cherokees. Mr. Henderson stated that there are about 800 Indians in the school at Carlisle, 40 of whom are from the Cherokee reservation.

HE SAYS IT IS ALL A MYTH In a letter under date of Sept. 3 to the managing editor of the Southern Mercury, Hon. Thos. E. Watson says the reported negotiation for the sale of his paper is a myth. There is no "fall election" this year in Georgia; hence no campaign this fall was ever contemplated by Mr. Watson. As to his renouncing populism, we quote his exact words: "I am a populist to count on till the ship goes down." Now, will the Associated Press give this statement as wide circulation as they did the "associated" lie they sent out from Atlanta on August 28.

Greensboro Telegram: A man in Mecklenburg has had his wife stolen and wants some kind of pay or from the authorities to make her return.

There was a terrible railroad wreck in Colorado caused by the collision of a passenger and freight train. The engine and cars were completely demolished. One hundred and eighty-five persons have been taken out injured and, perhaps, thirty are killed.

Fayetteville Observer: Judge Allen has sentenced Purvis, the convicted murderer of Mr. M. J. Blackwell, to be hanged in Lillington on October 13th. Purvis is the third man convicted of a capital crime and sentenced to be hung in Harnett since the formation of that county. There has been no executions there, however, the sentence of the former two having been commuted.

Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Burglars attempted to rob the postoffice at Harpursville this morning. They blew off the door of the safe. The noise and explosion aroused several people in the neighborhood and the burglars were frightened away. They left a kit of tools and some dynamite wrapped in an Oklahoma newspaper. One of the burglars was dressed in woman's clothes.—Charlotte News.

News and Observer: Three Arabs were on board the S. A. L. train going south yesterday. The reporter interviewed them for a few moments. They could speak English well enough to carry on a broken conversation. They left Arabia nearly three years ago and have been living in New York for the past two years and are traders or merchants. They were bound for Galveston, Texas, where they will open business. Their complexion was exceedingly dark, indeed, almost black, and their nearly black hair was rather small, water in their appearance than most foreigners, and their eyes showed that they were men of intelligence. All three of them were Mohammedans.

Pullman Dodges His Tax. A Chicago dispatch says: D. H. H. Holbrook, president of the Tax Payers' League, recently gave out a sensational open letter arraiving George M. Pullman for alleged tax-dodging. The letter says the assets of the Pullman Co. at its last annual meeting, were $63,000,000, of which $30,000,000 was in Illinois. The assessment in Illinois, however, was only $1,561,953. It is claimed that the under valuation of the Pullman property means a loss of $30,000,000 annually to the city, county and state. The Pullman strike of 1894, it is stated, will cost the city $10,000,000 in damages.

Paris, Sept. 11.—Fire started this morning in the publication establishment of the Hatcher, in Rue Stanislas. The building and its contents were destroyed. The pecuniary damage is estimated at a million francs.—Charlotte News.

Brave, Bold and Patriotic Action. The Hickory Mercury, one of the brightest and best newspapers in the state, says: "The Mercury wants to congratulate Governor Russell for the brave, bold and patriotic action he has taken in regard to the Railroad Commission. He is right and the people are with him. The Mercury does not believe they can frighten, beg or bulldoze the governor from doing what he conceives to be his duty. The railroads are now collecting in fares and freight $23,000,000 each year more than a fair and reasonable profit on their investment. This is more than double our whole state tax, school tax included. These extraordinary charges is why they can pay their presidents $50,000 a year and high salaries to other parts of the road. The Railroad commissioners have not done their duty. D. L. Russell is Governor of North Carolina. The railroads and Railroad commissioners are funding it out. Their places it seems should be filled with men who have the moral courage to act for the people. There are 1,100 children in Charlotte graded schools. N. M. Richmond, clerk superior court of Caswell county, died last week. Edgar Purvis, the tramp who shot and killed flagman M. J. Blackwell, near Dunn, August 11th, has been convicted of murder in the first degree with no recommendations for mercy. Our Harrisburg correspondent writes the News that Mr. Will Davis lost a valuable horse a few days ago from hydrophobia. Before the animal died it was in agony two or three days, fighting, pawing and biting at everything in reach; and having spasms at intervals.—Charlotte News. Raleigh correspondent of the Wilmington Messenger under date of Sept. 9th, reports that the handsome residence of ex-Judge Spier Whiteaker, two and one-half miles south of Raleigh, was burned at 2 o'clock this morning. It had moved into the city only a few days ago, and the house, which cost over $5,000, was in charge of a caretaker. The sheriff's deputies shot down some sixty of the miners in Pennsylvania last Friday. These miners were marching along the public highway, but, in accordance with the restraining order of the Federal judge, they were forbidden to advance and were shot down like hogs for trying to proceed. Fayetteville Observer: A Pullman car conductor told an Observer reporter last night of the daring escape of a negro from the sheriff of Wilson, on the Atlantic Coast Line northbound train due here at 10:20 last night. The negro's wrists were bound by a rope, the end of which was wrapped around the sheriff's wrist. When ten miles this side of Florence, and while the train was running only twelve miles an hour, the prisoner, suddenly leaped from the seat and bounded out of the window, almost dragging the sheriff with him. Tie of the sheriff's hands were badly lacerated. The negro made good his escape. John G. Wood, ex-superintendent of mails at the Louisville, Ky., post office, has brought suit against Postmaster General Gary and the Post-office department authorities, to prevent them from removing him from his position. The case will probably be a test of power to remove a government official embraced within the civil service rules. The court has issued a temporary restraining order to protect his rights.—Sanford Express.

Charlotte News: The queerest trade yet heard of was made in this city between a sewing machine agent and an undertaker. The agent had to the undertaker for a trade. The undertaker told him he had nothing to swap except coffins. The agent proposed that he swap a coffin for a sewing machine, and the trade was then consummated. The young man who got the coffin has something of an elephant on his hands as he does not expect to have any personal use for it for some years to come. But he has about concluded to settle the matter by raffling the coffin off.

Is Soda water unhealthy? Not at all!

The big Medical Books—the U. S. and National Dispensaries—say it is a grateful drink to feverish patients, lessening nausea or distress of the Stomach. Alays thirst far better than water alone, and the quantity taken need only be regulated by the reasonable wishes of the patient. — That ought to settle it. If a sick person can be allowed to drink it as desired, a well person certainly has the same privilege.

Our Soda-water is just right. Ice Cold and flavored with the finest fruit juices. Also sherbets. Coca Cola and other drinks.
