Speech of Hon. L. J. Moore.

Delivered in the Senate of North Carolina, December 15th, 1871, upon the "Bill to amend the Constitution of the State."

Mr. President: There are two bills before the Senate with reference to amending the Constitution. One of them was reported by the Committee on Constitutional Reform...

Speech of Senator B. W. King.

On the subject of Public Debt of the State, delivered in the Senate of North Carolina, on the 14th Dec., 1871.

Remarks of Mr. T. A. Sykes.

In the House of Representatives, December 15, 1871, on the Resolution to raise a Committee to enquire into certain charges against F. N. Strickland and other members of the House...

Right.

The following letter of Gov. Caldwell will meet the approval of the public. While stern and rigorous in administering the laws of the State...

Betrayed and Blighted.

A few days ago, the morning train from the North brought among its passengers to this city a gentleman, whose venerable appearance, quiet dignity and grave demeanour attracted the attention of many...

Immigration.

We published to-day that portion of Governor Walker's message relating to immigration; it will be noticed that it almost literally expresses the plan and argumentation, on that important subject, of Mr. J. L. Labiaux.

Oysters.

We give our readers the following recipes for stewing oysters, which we clip from our exchanges, and leave them to decide, after trying them, which is the best:
