Rev. J. J. Worlds, of the First Baptist church, and lady, will take their departure this evening for the North-west. They are going on a two months' vacation in search of a clime more congenial to the physical sensibilities than the one in which we move, but are sorry to say, obliged to have our being. We wish them a pleasant tour.

RELIGIOUS-SUNDAY IN RALEIGH .-Sunday was a lovely day, the gloomy portending of its early dawn to the contrary notwithstanding. The churches were all well attended at each service. It was our intention to give our readers a brief resume of the doings at each of our city churches yesterday, but we have necessarily been confined to a few rangements will be more perfect, and report correctly all that takes place in the city during the holy Sabbath. officiated during the opening services. Rev. Mr. Marshall, pastor, occupied the pulpit. He prefaced his sermon by He presented a very beautiful picture of Christ's kingdom on earth and in Heaven. He said in founding this earthly kingdom Christ did not seek the great and exalted, but the poor and despised. Those in humble positions were his followers. This earth is but a pinch of clay, as it were, in comparison with God's universe, and though man may cut fantastic tricks before high heaven, the towers of his pride must answer was: "I worked four days at crumble in the dust. Church of the Good Shepherd, the beautiful and impressive ceremony of the church was performed by the Pastor, Rev. D. J. Rich, assisted by Rev. Aldert Smedes. The sermon was preached by Mr. Rich from Matthew v:20, "Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of Heaven." The discourse was beautiful, both in conception and delivery, and seemed to affect deeply the large congregation who heard it.

A. M. E. Church.-The pulpit of this church was filled by Rev. G. W. Morris, Presiding Elder of Raleigh District. in morning and afternoon. In the afternoon he took his text from Luke xxiii:38, latter clause: "This is the King of the Jews," from which he preached an eloquent and effective sermon. Rev. C. Sampson, pastor of this church, delivered a very fervent discourse in the evening. There will be love feast this evening and Quarterly Conference tomorrow evening at this church.

Metropolitan Hall is now filled, as we write, to its uttermost capacity with the voting men of Wake county, who are listening to telling speeches from Messrs. John R. Caswell, D. E. Perry, J. H. Harris, Stewart Ellison and otheas. When we entered the Hall Mr. Perry was speaking and dealing heavy blows upon the Democracy.

We never saw a more enthusiastic audience, Jno. R. Caswell, Esq., was the first speaker, and his speech is spoken of as being one of his best efforts. J. H. Harris is to follow Mr. Perry, and Stewart Ellison is to follow him. The effect is already apparent. No better advantage could have been taken of the large number of persons from the country than this to inform them. We will give a full report of the proceedings in our next is-
