That hard-handed, sun-browned son of toil and eminent agriculturist, F. H. Busbee, Esq., of Raligh, on behalf of the Mayor, re ceived the members of the Cotton Congress. He had the bad taste to force his bitter political views into what should have been a friendly, business, social affair.

The hog law, for the present, has been suspended, if we may judge from the number of swine seen on our streets. This may be all right, though we differ in our notions from the city fathers in turning loose upon our city, as scavengers, these filthy brutes. They are a nuisance penned anywhere in the city, and still worse to be allowed to run a large. Bad taste, gentlemen, and a sufficient cause for sickness.

How ABOUT IT?-It is a matter of fact, undeniable, that by the recent decision of the Supreme Court, the present Board of Aldermen of Raleigh are an illegal body. They propose to issue bonds to fund $100,000 of the city debt .-Won't bondholders and capitalists be rather chary of investing in these deemed by the interest which we bonds, when it is only a question of time when they will be ejected and the proceedings of the Board declared unconstitutional and illegal?

A meeting was held at the Court House last evening for the purpose of taking into consideration the funding of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) of the city's debt. Mr. P. McGowan was called to the chair and Mr. J. A. Harris acted as Secretary. Mr. J. H. Harris was the first speaker, and favored the proposition. He was followed by Mr. Henry Keith, who also favored it. Mr. F. H. Busbee was called upon and replied in a forcible speech in favor of the proposition, and so things went one way until the meeting adjourned.

If it is not, send your representatives to the annual meetings of this Association. Come yourselves and see what they do for the cause of education, while in convention assembled, thus giving your encouragement by your presence. But it is not so much to the people outside of the city of Raleigh that such a rebuke belongs, as to those outside. We remember that Judge Merrimon, in his able address before this body last year was compelled to express his deep regret at the indifference paid it by the people of this city. It was no credit to us to have even our fellow-citizens outside of the city come and see how unconcerned we are about education here at the capital, but when such lukewarmness is known outside of the State, we fear its consequences. Therefore, it is hoped, that what has been lost by our past disinterestedness, may be re-

We may be in error, and hope we are, when we say that there has not been as much accomplished by the meeting of last year as should or could have been accomplished. We have heard nothing of the committee which was to memoralize the Legislature; and, by the way, one of the members of it informed us, but a few days since, that if anything had been done he knew nothing of it. If we mistake not, Dr. Peabody offered $1,500 a year to pay a lecturer to go through the State and arouse the people on this question of such paramount importance. This was left to the Executive Committee, but nothing of the kind has been done. Now let the third session be noted for the possible progress that may be made in the erection of this mighty structure, the foundation of which has been laid by some of our best statesmen, and before it re-assembles in '76, the year of years to America, it will have assumed such proportions as will give strength and vigor to it.

On the 1st day of January, 1851, the Western members of the General Assembly of North Carolina, without distinction of party, issued an address to the people of the State, from which we make the following extract:

It is made a question, too, by many, whether the election of Secretary of State, Comptroller and Treasurer, ought not to be given to the people; and all other officers now elected by the Legislature, of now elected by the Legislature, of MURRAY & CO., Wilmington, N. Many other complaints exist against the present Constitution. Many other improvements could be pointed out, more consistent with the progress of the age. The science increase; their circumstances change; their relations towards one another, and towards citizens of their sister States alter. Our 's States everywhere around ustare taking advantage of this age of improvement to improve their forms of government, adopted when the rights of her people were comparatively little known. Is our Constitution alone to receive no improvement from the spirit that is abroad? Is North Carolina alone to stand still? Is she alone to continue bound in those shackles which have kept her limbs so long fettered in the bands of steel? Or shall she arise, like a strong man in his might, and demand that she shall be free ?
