Public Speaking. Hon. W. A. Smith, Gen. W. D. Jones, and Col. I. J. Young will address the people of Nash county at the following times and places: Rocky Mount, July 24th.

Public Speaking.

Col. Wm. S. Pearson, Thos. M. Argo, Esq., and Hon. Squire Triyett will address the people of Alexander, Wilkes, Ashe and Watauga at the following times and places: Taylorsville, Wednesday, July 28.

Judge S. W. Watts

Will address the people on the Convention question, at the following places: Morganton, Tuesday, July 20.

Hon. W. A. Smith

Will address the people on the Convention question, at the following places: Wilkesboro, Wilkes Co., Tuesday, July 20. Trap Hill, Wilkes Co., Wednesday, July 21.

Register! Register!

Let the people turn out and register. In consequence of the Democratic gerrymander of Raleigh and other cities and towns of the State, by which the boundaries of wards have been changed, it is necessary that all persons living in such cities or towns who desire to vote shall register for the coming election.

WAKE COUNTY CANVASS.—

The Chairmen of the County Executive Committees of the Democratic and Republican parties have arranged the following route to be pursued by the candidates for delegates to the Convention. The speaking as to time will be arranged by candidates: White Oak, Tuesday, July 20th.

Attention, Republicans.

Organize in your townships. See that all Republicans are REGISTERED long before the day of election. Immediately after your nominations are made, have your tickets printed and placed in safe and reliable hands.

THE CAMPAIGN.

OUTSIDE CORPORATE LIMITS.—The voters of Raleigh Township outside the city limits will find the registration books at the store of Mills H. Brown, on Fayetteville street.

REGISTER.—

The wards in the city having been changed by the act of the Legislature, it will be necessary for a new registration in order to vote in the next August election. The books are now open, and we call upon our friends to register right away.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Now for new cider.

Yesterday was a bully day for going out in the woods and lying down on the grass and kicking up your heels.

We learn that a tremendous hail storm visited Danville, Va., on Saturday night, which did great damage to the growing crops.

The ordinance of baptism was administered by Rev. A. W. Mangum to three candidates at the Edenton street M. E. church yesterday.

Range of Thermometer at "Ennis's Book Store": 6 A. M.; 12 M.; 1 P. M.; 3 P. M.

The amended Constitution of North Carolina, in pamphlet form, price 50 cents by mail, can be had of Jas. H. Ennis, bookseller, of Raleigh.

He held the old shirt up by the neck before discarding it forever, but he was not mourning for the garment; he only said, "I wish I had all the drinks that have gone through that old neck-band."

If you discover any lack of local matter to-day, don't blame ye local; remember we are not the public, and if nothing transpires worthy of record it is not our fault.

The Republican meeting in Goldsboro on Saturday last for nominating candidates from Wayne county for the Convention, pays a high compliment to Governor Brogden by placing him in nomination for Vice-President in 1876.

The Internal Revenue office for the 4th District, in this city, is now officered as follows: Gen. Fred'k D. Sewall, Supervisor; Messrs. T. D. McAlpine and T. L. Wilcox, Special Agents.

Notwithstanding the continued rush for Seeger's beer at 5 cents a glass at J. M. Forrest & Co's., yet Capt. Aycock is equal to the emergency and is able to supply all with this healthful beverage.

It cost the old man about twenty-five dollars to send his son "out West" to make his fortune. If the youngster has no bad luck, he can manage to save enough in about six months to pay his way back home. Better stay at home and stick to the farm, sonny.

DANCING ACADEMY.—Professor Henry F. Slater's evenings for teaching the terpsichorean art are Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week at Metropolitan Hall. Mr. Slater's long experience in his profession renders him second to none.

We learn that about 8 o'clock Saturday evening when the freight train was leaving for Goldsboro, a fine heifer belonging to Dr. Blackall, was struck by the engine near the crossing on Fayetteville street, and thrown down the embankment. The doctor, upon being informed of the accident, dispatched the best medical skill that could be brought into requisition to the scene.

We have on our table the Galveston Spectator, a liberal out-spoken and fearless paper, edited by Judge R. Nelson, of Galveston, Texas. Its motto is "Equal Rights to all Men." It is a weekly, and only $2.00 per annum. It is doubtless worth the price of subscription and will more than compensate one for the time required to peruse it.

We are pained to announce to the many friends of Rev. Dr. Pritchard, the beloved pastor of the First Baptist Church, that he is confined to his room in Morganton, with a severe attack of rheumatism. He has just recovered from an attack of bilious fever. We hope soon to be able to chronicle his entire recovery.

Woodson has just returned from the mountains. Says the Salisbury Wachman.

The last seen of Capt. Woodson, of the News, he was riding on the cow-catcher of a steam engine, above Statesville, holding fast to a leaky bottle that was supposed to contain spirits.

It has been conceded that Saturday was the warmest day of the season. It was so hot an ice wagon passing up the street wrought such a wonderful change in the atmosphere, that a large number of boys who had been waiting at the post-office for a providential interposition of some kind, took up a line of march in the rear of the wagon, and thus reached their homes without getting scorched.

As two school girls were posting a letter, the other morning, one of them was heard to say: "As I was telling, ma and I are going to the mountains, to be gone all summer. I'm going to have a grey dress, and a green dress, and a blue dress, and a new hat, and new shoes, and ma says I'll probably find a beau, and also says I've got to commence being dignified; and I left my gum at home and shan't chew another bit, nor carry any more jaw-breakers to school."

MAYOR'S COURT.—His Honor, Mayor Separk.—Robert Woods, drunk and disorderly. Case dismissed on account of absence of witnesses.

Clarissa Jones, assault on Matthew Norwood. Clarissa was required to contribute $5 to the city treasury and to pay costs, in default of which she was remanded to the guard-house.

Mason Boylan, Doc Williams, and Joseph Hunter, were arraigned, each on charge of having the same pair of boots in his possession, said to have been stolen from Robert Dobbin. No evidence appearing to substantiate the charge, the case was dismissed.

STILL AT LARGE.—Policeman Crossan, who was dispatched to Palmyra, in Halifax county, last Thursday night, to identify a man who had been arrested on suspicion as being Scott Partin, has returned, but without the murderer. The name of the man arrested is R. E. Chapman, of Craven county, and has been engaged in selling books, pamphlets, etc., and is said to bear no resemblance whatever to Partin. He felt much grieved at his being taken for the murderer, and through fear of being rearrested, requested a certificate showing who he was and stating the fact of his having been once arrested on suspicion, which was given him. As far as we can learn, the whereabouts of Partin remain still unknown.

HARMLESS.—A gentleman of Canadian extraction, in making his debut upon the platform of the Central railroad station, interrogated the omnibus driver as follows: "What is the population and form of government of Raleigh?"

He was informed that it was an incorporated city, with a population of 19,000 or 12,000, and a chief executive officer styled—Mayor.

"No, bless your life!" responded the driver, "he's perfectly harmless, and is allowed to go about the streets loose, and 'oo' without a keeper."

The funeral of William Rogers, the young man who received injuries on the 6th day of July by accidentally raining against the tongue of a wagon, which resulted in his death last Saturday, at his home, near this city, took place from the Brooklyn M. E. Church yesterday afternoon. His remains were followed to their last resting place by a large concourse of friends and acquaintances and interred in the old city cemetery.

THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY.—Notwithstanding the intense heat of the weather yesterday all the churches were well attended. Dr. Wingate, of Wake Forest College, occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist morning and evening, expressly to young men. He exhorted them to shun the company of the wicked and evil-minded, and warned them, as they valued their future happiness, to abstain from all vices under whatever disguise they may be presented. He portrayed in a forcible manner the evils resulting from a life of lewdness and debauchery, and implored them, above all things else, to early consecrate themselves to the Lord.

Rev. Bennett Snides officiated at St. Augustine Chapel, Sabbath morning. In lieu of a sermon he briefly exhorted the congregation to remember that the services were shown of none of the requirements of God in the absence of a sermon. It was the house of prayer, and whenever there were two or three gathered together in His name He would be one in their midst. It is highly proper that we should meet in His Holy Temple, and there in adoration commune with Him and He with us.

The Lord's Supper was administered to the communicants, their custom being the third instalment of the first Sabbath in the month. Rev. Wm. Warrick occupied the pulpit of the A. M. E. Church in the morning and afternoon. In the afternoon he preached the funeral sermon of Mr. Thos. Sandford's child, which was an touching discourse. In the evening Rev. C. R. Harris preached a very fervent sermon to a large congregation.

We understand that the ancient ceremony of washing each other's feet was performed at the Christian Baptist Church yesterday afternoon.

CHARLOTTE, July 19, 1875. We will get out a ticket on Tuesday opposed to Convention. Many Democrats here will vote with us. There is great opposition to Johnston. He has by use of his money gained the support of a few weak-kneed Republicans here, but their defection will amount to nothing. They have been of no use for many years.

ASHVILLE, July 16, 1875. Maj. Erwin has withdrawn from the Convention ticket in favor of Gen. R. R. Hamilton. Maj. Erwin will canvass Buncombe against Clingman and Coleman in favor of Hampton and Johnston.

Col. Dockery is canvassing through the mountains. He has made many converts against Convention. A large majority of Anti-Democrats, this side of the mountains are against Convention, and will either vote for immediate adjournment candidates, or stay at home. Anti-Convention candidates are out in every county. In some of the Democratic township meetings the delegates to county Convention are instructed to vote for Anti-Convention candidates.

ASHBORO, Randolph co., July 13, 1875. We are going the rounds. The Anti-Convention campaign, Ben and Love, will certainly be elected. Dr. Worth has been trying for years to break up the homestead, and our people look upon this Convention movement as a last desperate effort on the part of the Shylocks to take from the wives and children of our poor men their homesteads. We will carry Randolph county by 400 majority against Convention.

RATES OF ADVERTISING: One square, one insertion, $1.00. One square, two insertions, 1.50. One square, one week, 3.00. Quarter column, six weeks, 10.00. Half column, six weeks, 17.50. Special Notices to cents per line. Local Notices, inserted in regular local columns, 15 cents per line.

Messrs. Geo. H. Grantham and W. T. Faircloth were nominated by the Republicans of Wayne on Saturday last for the Convention. The nomination of these gentlemen seems to meet with universal approval among the Republicans of Wayne. The meeting was one of the most harmonious and enthusiastic that has ever convened in Wayne county.

The Constitution is the name of a slightly changed daily journal published at Raleigh, N. C., and devoted to the interests of the Republican party. It is making a gallant fight against the Democratic revolutionary idea of remodeling the State Constitution. Among its editorial contributors we recognize the able and fearless writing of experienced native and "non-native" journalists, a combination which asserts with assuring certainty a harmonious condition of the party. This is as it should be. In unity there is strength. It is the old adage, of which the Republicans seem to have taken as much as a safe precept: while the Democrats are divided and correspondingly discouraged. It is to be hoped that the Constitution may be made a permanent institution.

A very pretty Sunday school song is the one entitled "Put your armor on, my boys." "There is, however, a young lady in town who doesn't like to hear it. She says it sounds like "Put your arm around me boys," and it always makes her feel lonesome.

RALEIGH HIGH SCHOOL.

An English, Classical, Mathematical, and Military School for Boys. REV. DR. M. A. FRENKIN, Principal. CHARLES H. BROWN, Vice-Principal. The 23rd annual session of the school will begin Wednesday, Sept. 1st, 1875. The Principals have procured for the school the commodious and attractive residence on Newbert Avenue, well known in Raleigh as the "Cotton Place," more recently owned and handsomely refitted by Col. E. Kingland. Bishops conducting their Day School, they propose taking a limited number of boys of good character and conduct to board in their own family. The teaching of the school, as heretofore, will be full, thorough and accurate, preparing its pupils for college or business life. Competent assistants will be provided in all departments, as may be required. The Principals trust that it is scarcely necessary for them to say that whilst the school will continue to be conducted on Christian principles, it will be entirely without denominational aim or bias. For circulars and other information address either of the Principals, Raleigh, N. C.: or send to the Editor of this paper.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

The University of North Carolina will open on the 1st Monday in September Next, the term ending the 24th Thursday in June, 1876, with a vacation of two weeks at Christmas. It has been re-organized on the eclectic system, comprising, however, three curricula in Arts, Science and Agriculture. Instruction will be given in the branches of learning usually taught in the best colleges. Special instruction provided in Agriculture and the Mechanical Arts. An able faculty has been appointed, and buildings thoroughly repaired for the reception of several hundred students. For circular explanatory of the above apply to KEMP P. BATTLE, Secretary Board of Trustees, 142-lawyer-street, Raleigh, N. C.

A YOUNG MAN OF SOME EXPERIENCE desires to be employed as TEACHER in a private school for family. He is competent to teach LATIN, FRENCH, GREEK, MATHEMATICS and the usual English branches. Satisfactory references given. Address, stating terms, etc., P. O. Box 231, 15-3rd-street, Raleigh, Va.

CLARK'S TRACK!

OPEN THE WAY!! And let the rush continue on its way to J. M. ROSENBAUMS, at the corner of Fayetteville and Hargett Streets, where it is a well-known fact that there is to be found the largest stock of DRY GOODS, PRINTS, DOMESTIC APPLIANCE, BROWN AND BLACHED DOMESTIC HATS and LAND-CAPS MILLINERY GOODS, NOTIONS, &c., &c., in the city. We have just received large additions to the General Stock, which is always kept fresh and complete in every branch and department of the subject.

READY-MADE CLOTHING.

I have the only exclusive Crockery store in the city, combined with and adjoining the main branch. I offer every variety of Crockery at wholesale, to the country trade, at Northern prices. In my large stock I have quantities from first hands. To all my former customers and patrons, and prospective ones, I would say that I am better enabled than ever to administer to their every want at terms which I will guarantee satisfactory. Raleigh, October 1, 1874.
