Mr. James R. Young, of Vance, is the permanent presiding officer. He performs the task with credit to himself.

Mr. E. W. Pon, the successful nominee, is one of the most eloquent and brainest young Democrats in the State. His friends predict for him a brilliant career in Congress. He is well equipped by training and nature for any det.es that may be required of him as a member of Congress. Mr. Pou has serveli as solicitor of this district for many years with signal success. He has made a reputation that places him in the front rank among the lawyers of the State. Four years ago he was nominated to: Congress, but met defeat like other gold Democrtas during the dark days of fusion rule.

The Platform Adopted

The platform was presented to the convention by Hon. B. H. Bunn, of Nash county, the chairman of the committee on platform and resolutions, and was unanimously adopted. The platform is as
