

BOYLAN, PEARCE & CO SOCIAL REALM

We are very anxious to get you acquainted with our goods. Of course we don't expect you to gratify our wishes just because we want you to do so. We know that our business affairs are of no particular interest to you unless you can do better here than elsewhere. That's why we urge the acquaintance. We are the largest dealers here in our lines. Quantity talks. And we give you as much for your money as we can and leave a living profit for ourselves. It would be folly for us to tell you that we are in business just for the fun of it. We are in business because there's a profit in doing business. But remember, we give you full value for your money. In fact, better value than a great many others, because we handle larger quantities and certainly better assortments. Just here we want to say that all the swell finery so dear to womankind is here for inspection. All the advanced styles for winter season are shown, and those who desire to make their selections may rest assured that it will be to their advantage to buy now in preference to waiting several weeks.

BEHIND THE FOOTLIGHTS

October 8th, will mark a new era in dramatic annals, when the pleasure of seeing Mr. Charles H. Boylan's splendid company present "The Worst Ever" at the Academy of Music.

Charles B. Hanford on being questioned as to whether the title of his new play for the coming season "Private John Allen" was in anywise associated with the real John Allen of Turpeo, whose genial gifts as a raconteur have made him so famous throughout the country and so popular among his associates in Congress, replied "Well not exactly."

James Young, the talented young actor who for several seasons starred in "Hamlet" and last season in "Lord Byron" and is remembered as a member of the late Augustin Daly's company, has been engaged by Sir Henry Irving, it is announced, to play a two years' engagement as leading juvenile man in the company of that distinguished actor.

The program described O'Flynn's Birthday, as "The Musical Farce comedy success, featuring the droll comedian and dainty soprano, Dupont and Schofield, supported by a company of star artists. The program might have read with greater accuracy O'Flynn's Birthday, "a dull attempt at farce, presented by barnstormers, who are without compare." The musical feature was rolled out by voices that knew not the difference between hisses and applause.

Gentry's Dog and Pony show, gave an entertainment under canvass yesterday in Cameron's field, attracting large audiences at each performance. The show is a favorite with Raleigh audiences and each year it surpasses itself.

The neighborhood's children will give an entertainment for the benefit of the Galveston sufferers Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock at Mr. A. B. Stronach's, 411 North Blountworth street. Piano and banjo solos, songs and recitations. Grown up, 10c; children, 5c.

As a perfume doth remain In the folds where it hath lain, To the thought of you remaining, Deeply folded in my brain, Will not leave me—all things leave me— You remain.

Other thoughts may come and go, Other moments I may know, That shall wait me in their going, As a breath blown to and fro, Fragrant memories—fragrant memories Come and go.

Only thoughts of you remain In my heart where they have lain, Perfume thoughts of you remaining, A hid sweetness in my brain, Others leave me—all things leave me— You remain.

The marriage of Miss Lilla May Vass to Mr. S. Brown Shepherd is announced for Thursday evening—October 11th, at the First Baptist Church. No cards in the city.

Mrs. R. S. Tucker has gone to Baltimore. She was accompanied by Misses Florence Kinsey and Margarette Boylan, who will enter Mrs. H. P. Lefebvre's school there.

Misses Kate Stronach and Miriam Seawell are visiting in Salisbury. Mrs. N. P. Murphy, whose guests they are, entertained in honor of these young ladies one evening last week.

Mr. Graham Andrews, Mr. Charles E. Johnson, Jr., and Mr. Albert Latta came down from Chapel Hill to spend a day recently.

Miss Bettie Nash of Charlotte, who has been visiting Miss Elizabeth Cheshire, has returned home.

Mrs. William M. McPheeters of Columbia, S. C., returned home days with Mr. A. M. McPheeters last week.

Miss Annie Jones is visiting Mrs. Phil Hawkins at Louisburg. She is assisting in planning for a concert there on October 5 for the benefit of the Episcopal Church. Miss Mary Johnson will go down as violinist, and Misses Alice Jones, Minnie Fitch Tucker and Mary Turner will also go and assist in the vocal program.

Miss Dayton of Washington City, who has been the guest of Miss Mary Mackey has returned home.

Miss Mary Seaton Hay and Miss Belle Hay returned from the mountains and are at Mrs. James McKimmon's.

Miss Blanche Blake spent last week with the Misses Kirby, but her magnetic influence was strong enough to draw her satellites to her.

Miss Mary MacRae is back in Raleigh, also Miss Eliza Pool, Miss Lucy Vest and Miss Adelle Snow and Miss Susie Watson.

Misses Susan and Margaret McPheeters have entered Mrs. Lefebvre's school in Baltimore.

Miss Mary Emma Street of New Bern is visiting the Misses Roberts on New Bern avenue.

Mrs. L. A. Carr of Durham and Mrs. W. E. Weatherly of Norfolk came here to attend the marriage of their brother, Dr. Norwood G. Carroll.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Montgomery and son, of Boston, will reach here Wednesday to visit Mrs. Sarah Montgomery on North Person street.

Mrs. H. A. Crenshaw of Louisburg is here, at Mrs. R. S. White's, on New Bern avenue.

Mrs. William Calvert and child have returned to Pittsboro, after visiting friends here.

Dr. J. M. Ager leaves this week for his new home in New York. It is with much regret that his host of friends realize that the time has come when we must give up from our midst so bright and genial a companion and so true and faithful a friend.

Misses Ethel and Janet Stronach will spend the coming winter in New York.

Miss Attie Gales is here, visiting Miss Mamie Cooper.

Mrs. A. B. Andrews went to Charlotte last week to see her sister, Mrs. Robertson.

Dr. Philip Grausman is here, visiting his sister, Mrs. M. Rosenthal.

The Johnsonian Book Club and the Fortnightly Review Club, two literary societies that were very popular last winter, have held their reorganization meeting to begin their fall meetings.

The Golf Club has been reorganized with the following officers: President, Mr. E. H. Anderson; secretary, Mr. E. B. Crow. The grounds will be put in order and soon the golfers will begin the games.

words, "I christen thee Bagley." The Bagley left the ways smoothly and swiftly. The launching, according to naval officers, was the most successful in many years.

Mrs. Daniels stood on a platform decorated with American flags and with her were Mrs. Adelaide Worth Bagley of Washington, Cadet David Worth Bagley of the Naval Academy, Henry Bagley of Richmond, Mrs. Benjamin Moffitt of Franklinton, N. C., and Josephus Daniels, Sr., Josephus Daniels, Jr., and Worth Bagley Daniels, all relatives of Eusegn Worth Bagley.

Every foot of standing room in sight of the dock was filled and in the enclosure for the launching party were several representatives of the navy, prominent people of Maine and a delegation from the Worth Bagley Camp, Spanish-American Veterans, of Boston.

On the bow of the Bagley was a handsome floral decoration from the Boston camp with the word "Bagley" in flowers and in the conning tower was an equally handsome floral tribute from the naval officers stationed here. On the stern conning tower had been placed the bronze metallic tablet engraved with appropriate words. This was the gift of the mother of the gallant young hero in whose honor the vessel was named.

Vice President Hyde, of the Bath Iron Works, builders of the Bagley, tendered an elegant luncheon to the launching party immediately after the successful launching. Mr. Hyde and Mr. Sewell, son of the late Arthur Sewell, with others, have handsomely entertained the launching party and those in Bath tonight are guests at a quiet and beautiful dinner at the Sewell mansion.

The next thing in point of interest to come within the list of social features for Raleigh is the convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy, which meet October 10. There will be thirty-three delegates in attendance. Capt. C. B. Denson will on the afternoon of the 10th deliver an address on "The Life and Character of Jefferson Davis."

The reception that Mrs. Grimes Cowper was to have given to the convention has had to be given up on account of the illness of Mrs. Cowper. The Johnston-Pettigrew Chapter, U. D. C., and the Capital Club will give receptions to the delegates and all other Daughters. Inmate to the Ladies' Memorial Association, Daughters of the Revolution, O. B. Branch Camp and the Sons of the Veterans have been sent to the heads of those organizations. This same invitation is intended to include every member of these organizations. The auxiliary to the camp is also asked to attend. Mrs. Garland Jones is chairman of the Jefferson Davis Memorial Committee. Mrs. Spier Whitaker and Mrs. J. B. Kenny and Miss Devereaux are also on that committee. Invitations have been sent to the three city dailies.

On October 22nd commences Fair week which is always a week filled with overflowing gaiety. This year will be no different from the previous ones. Mr. W. T. Old, of Elizabeth City, is the chief marshal, and he and his assistants will do all in their power to make the week one continuous whirl of pleasure.

The many friends of Mr. W. T. Old, of Elizabeth City are delighted that he has accepted the position of chief marshal at the approaching fair. Mr. Old is one of the State's most prominent and popular young men and his administration of the office of chief marshal will be admirable in all respects.

It is possibly not known what the King's daughters are doing here in the special lines of work. The Rescue and the Ministering Circles are quietly, but persistently doing the noble works that are intimated by the names of the two circles. The St. Luke's Circle, which is the one that has for its work the care and maintenance of the Home for Aged Women and Confederate Veterans' Widows, has purchased the property where the Home now is, and will make some changes there. The purchase was only for a temporary Home, as the ladies have now worked with a large and well equipped Home in view. The financial agent, Mrs. M. A. Johnson has been called in for the present at least, as a part of this circle there is an auxiliary, led by Mrs. J. S. Atkinson, composed of girls, fourteen in number, and none of them over 14 years of age. The report from these children is remarkable.

The social event of the past week of most interest was the marriage on Wednesday evening of Dr. Norwood Giles Carroll and Dr. Delia Dixon, the resident physician of the Baptist Female University. Mr. W. P. Whitaker was best man, and Miss Corne Carroll maid of honor. The bridesmaids were the young lady members of the faculty: Miss Watkins with Miss Brewer, Miss Perry with Miss Poteat, Miss Patton with Miss Egan.

The bridal party entered the hall to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," rendered by Miss Martin on the violin and Prof. Hoffman on the piano. The ring ceremony was used.

After the marriage ceremony at the University a reception was given the bridal party by President Vann, at his residence, corner of Person and Edenton streets.

There were no guests except the relatives of the bride and groom and the faculty and students of the University.

A reception was given at the A. and M. College by the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes last night from 8 to 10 o'clock.

The following ladies from the various churches and elsewhere were the chaperones for the occasion:

From the First Baptist Church—Mrs. A. A. Marshall, Mrs. J. A. Higgs, Mrs. Ernest Martin.

From the Presbyterian Church—Mrs. W. Harding, Mrs. Eugene Daniel, Mrs. W. S. Primrose.

From the Tabernacle Church—Mrs. W. D. Hubbard, Mrs. N. B. Broughton, Mrs. J. H. Weathers.

From Edenton Street M. E. Church—Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. Garland Jones, Mrs. Belvin, Mrs. R. O. Burton.

From Good Shepherd Church—Mrs. I. McK. Pittenger, Mrs. C. G. Latta, Mrs. W. T. McGee.

From Central M. E. Church—Mrs. Henry T. Hicks, Mrs. Mamie Terrell, Mrs. Love.

From Christ Church—Mrs. M. M. Marshall, Mrs. Montgomery.

From elsewhere—Mrs. George T. Winston, Mrs. B. S. Skinner, Mrs. W. C. Riddick, Mrs. Massey, Mrs. D. H. Hill, Mrs. J. M. Fix, Mrs. Weir, Mrs. Withers, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Carroll, Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Irby, Mrs. Park, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Logan Harris, Mrs. Chamberlain, and others.

The faculties and young ladies of the various schools of the city were also invited and the occasion was one most enjoyable and pleasant.

Manager Rivers advertises that the lady holding the greatest number of ticket coupons at the end of the theatrical season will be given a prize. A certain young society man, it is said will gladly give 25 cents for every coupon brought to him. "The small boy" should note this and secure coupons. This will be a financial harvest to him, and give pleasure to the young man and the young lady that will finally get the prize.

THREE REASONS WHY W. H. Harrison Favors Simmons for United States Senator

Editor Morning Post: Having noticed several communications in your esteemed paper from this place concerning the claims of the different candidates for the United States Senate, I desire to present some reasons why the Hon. F. M. Simmons should succeed Marion Butler in the Senate:

First. He is well qualified for this exalted position. He is a man of great ability—a practical statesman who has demonstrated his ability in a way which is unmistakable. His experience as a leader, as a politician, and as an able debater would render his services at the national capital of inestimable value to the people of the State.

2nd. He is the logical candidate at this time. There are many political reasons why he should be elected. While the other three gentlemen in the field are good men—men of character and standing in the party—there are good reasons—political reasons, why none of them are available at this time. The writer believes that in this opinion he voices the sentiment of those in North Carolina politics who are in a position to know as to this fact. The political record of Mr. Simmons, his fitness, and his position at this time all combine to make him the ideal candidate for the senatorship.

3rd. His faithful and efficient services as leader of the Democratic hosts of the State for several years, entitles him, in the opinion of the writer, to the position. With all respect to the other leaders in the State, Mr. Simmons "has done among us the works that none other man has done"—with the exception of the immortal Vance.

The writer has had some opportunity or judging as to the strength of the different candidates, having travelled over a large portion of the State, and from the best information he can gather, believes that the people of the State are overwhelmingly for Simmons. Being at Chapel Hill now and judging from the expressed sentiment of the student body so far as he has had the chance to learn he is of the opinion that this fact is one of them as of the people of the State generally; and surely the expression of the students of the University is a fair index to the sentiment of the people of the State, coming, as they do, from every section of North Carolina.

ROCKY MOUNT

Democratic Club Extends the Privilege of Discussing the Senatorial Question to Speakers Appearing Before It

Rocky Mount, N. C., Sept. 29. Correspondence of The Morning Post.

The Democratic campaign club met in the opera house last night. It was a free for all meeting and very interesting speeches were made by Messrs. J. O. W. Grady, president of the club; Prof. Robertson, of the University school, and Judge Jacob Battle. The senatorial question came up and it appearing that the acclamations of the respective candidates were anxious to discuss their merits a resolution was adopted to the effect that hereafter a part of the time devoted to the regular meetings may be used in urging the claims of the several candidates for senator by such of their friends as care to do so.

General Julian S. Carr will speak at Nashville Monday, October 1st.

J. J. Harper has nearly completed his new brick store in Tarboro street.

Mass Meeting of Confederate Veterans

A mass-meeting of Confederate veterans will be held in the mayor's office on Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Every veteran in the city is urgently requested to attend this gathering, as a matter of great moment will be presented for the consideration of every survivor of the war for Southern independence. Let there be a large gathering of veterans.
