Thomas Taylor, an Engineer, Tells of the Shooting of Mills and Kellmer

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 10.—Thomas Taylor, a stationary engineer, was one of the few witnesses of the shooting of Mills and Kellmer. He says the number of guards stationed by Superintendent Kudlich around the breaker and boiler house was only four. At about 10:35 he saw a crowd of about 200 men coming down the railroad track toward the boiler house. The four guards ran away, two into the woods, and Mills and Kellmer into the boiler house. Taylor says he saw a shot suddenly be fired five or six shots and saw the men enter the boiler house. When it was all quiet again Taylor ventured out. Going to the boiler house he saw Kellmer on his knees with blood flowing from a wound in the head. Mills was under the drum of the boiler, stone dead. From appearances it was evident that the man had hidden from the mob in the boiler house and had been discovered and brutally murdered. The nature of Mills' wounds showed that the shotgun which had killed him had been held within a few feet of his body when it was fired. He had a great hole in his back produced by a lead of buckshot entering there. It was plain that he had crawled under the drum of the boiler to hide from the mob and that the murderer had discovered him and while he was helpless and prostrate had fired a 12-gauge shotgun within a foot of his body and had shot him through the back. Kellmer had been shot through the head over the left eye with a revolver. He was unconscious and unable to speak. He now lies in the hospital in a precarious condition.

The discoveries put quite a different aspect on the morning's occurrences. The deputies did not shoot except the one shot that wounded Lipke, and the shooting of the two guards did not come about in a fracas, but was brutal murder.

The strikers have a different version of the affair. They say that they were coming down the hill when suddenly a shot was heard and Lipke fell shot through the thigh. The true story, however, seems to be that the mob saw Mills and Kellmer run into the boiler house, pursued them and the men fired a shot at the mob, wounding Lipke. Infuriated by this, the mob then rushed into the boiler house and the two men were shot.

Early in the morning before the shooting occurred the company operating the colliery, Cox & Co., as they are more familiarly known as the Cross Creek Company, had telegraphed Sheriff Toole of Schuylkill county for protection, but as the sheriff was away from Pottsville his deputy, O'Connell, responded and went to Oneida this evening and took charge. Sheriff Toole was on his way to Philadelphia and was reached by telegraph at Reading, but cannot get back to Pottsville until tomorrow.

KINSAULS BUTCHERED

May Result in Law Making State High Executioner.

Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 10.—Special.—It is believed here that the butchered execution of Archie Kinsauls will probably result in the introduction of a new execution law in the next legislature. People in these parts have talked about the Clinton affair a good deal and say that it emphasizes the need of a change in the system. It is altogether likely that a result of the agitation that a measure will be submitted when the Legislature meets again providing for the State to become the public executioner. As soon as a man is condemned he will be sent to the penitentiary and kept there until the day of execution when his "taking off" will be effected by the State executioner according to improved methods.

BRYAN TO MEIKLEJOHN

Democratic Leader States His Position on Sulu Question

QUOTES CONSTITUTION

Policy of Republican Administration Does Not Interfere with Slavery in Sulu Archipelago—Mr. Bryan Asks If It Is More Important that Sultan's Wishes Be Considered Than that the Interests of the People Be Regarded?

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 10.—The Hon. W. J. Bryan today took cognizance of the letter sent him by Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn, which was given out yesterday and prepared a reply to it. The reply says:

"I am in receipt of your favor of October 6th in regard to the Sulu treaty. It is true that the president two months ago after the signing of the treaty sent to General Otis the instructions which you quote. You will note that the treaty or agreement as the president describes it, was confirmed and approved subject to the action of Congress, and the only exception that he made was that in regard to article 10, relating to slavery. You can but know, however, that since the president sent those instructions, the Republican party, with the approval of the administration, has adopted the theory that the constitution does not follow the flag, and therefore, the thirteenth amendment does not interfere with slavery in the Sulu archipelago.

"The Porto Rican law asserts the doctrine that the protection of the constitution can be governed by the arbitrary and unrestrained power of the president and Congress. If the constitution itself cannot reach the West Indies, how can the thirteenth amendment find its way across the Pacific into Asia?"

"The president does not repudiate article 13, which reads as follows: 'The United States will give full protection to the subject and his subjects if any foreign nation should attempt to impose upon them.'"

"In view of the fact that the president in his letter of acceptance declares it dangerous for us to agree to protect a Christian republic in the Philippine Islands, would it not be wise for him to withdraw the agreement to protect a Mohammedan island? The agreement does not repudiate article 14 which reads as follows:

"'The United States will not sell the island of Sulu nor any other island of the Sulu archipelago, to any foreign nation without the consent of the Sultan of Sulu.'"

"If we buy all the Philippine Islands from Spain without the consent of the inhabitants, is it fair that we should agree not to sell any of the Sulu Islands without the consent of the Sultan? In other words, is it more important that a Sultan's wishes should be considered than that the interests of the rest of the people should be regarded?"

REPUBLICAN AND POP

Conventions Held at Edenton Yesterday.

LACKING IN ENTHUSIASM

Republicans Nominated Dr. Alexander for Congress and T. P. Wilcox for Elector—Populists Hung Around in Hope of Getting in Theo White and, Fallig, Met and Endorsed the Republican Nominees.

Edenton, N. C., Oct. 10.—Special.—The Republican convention of the First district was called to order by Dr. Abbott, with Mr. Phelps in the secretary's chair. Committee on credentials reported fourteen counties represented, and on motion the temporary officers were made permanent.

Dr. Abbott stated briefly that the convention had been called to name a candidate for Congress, an elector and a district executive committee.

Without speeches Dr. A. B. Alexander, of Tyrell, was nominated and unanimously chosen candidate for Congress, and Mr. T. P. Wilcox, of Pasquotank, for elector. The executive committee was appointed, one member from each county, and the convention thereafter adjourned.

The Populists hung on the outskirts of the convention desiring to get in Theo White for Congress, but their desires were ignored. So they at once called their convention and endorsed the Republican ticket.

Both conventions were lacking in number of speeches and enthusiasm, though they appear to meet business.
