LOOKING BACKWARD

Fayetteville Presbyterians Celebrate Their Centennial

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE

History of the Church Reviewed and Addresses Delivered by Distinguished Divines—The House of Worship Recently Renovated and Beautified—Louis Council Convicted of Criminal Assault and Sentenced to Death

Fayetteville, N. C., Jan. 7.

Commemorative services of the centennial anniversary of the organization of the Fayetteville Presbyterian church opened at 10:45 o'clock yesterday morning with the usual devotional exercises, after which Rev. Dr. H. G. Hall, a member of the board of trustees of Union Theological Seminary, and one of the most distinguished divines in the North Carolina Synod, delivered an able sermon on "The Church the House of God," taking his text from 1st Timothy, third chapter and 15th verse.

In the afternoon there was a large centennial anniversary of the organization of the church under Rev. John Robinson in the year 1800 down to the present time. Very proud of the august occasion which brings them and their friends together, the Fayetteville Presbyterians have made their venerable house of worship most beautiful in floral adornment and artistic decorations; and, under the supervision of Mrs. W. G. Hall, organist, and Mr. H. R. Novitzky, leader, have arranged a program of sacred music to please the ear and gratify the taste of the most finished connoisseurs.

This morning there was a very interesting meeting, during which an historical sketch of the church was read from the pulpit, embracing the meetings of the Presbyterians at Cross Creek...

THE CENTURY

Mid-winter Sale.

Every department puts its shoulder to the wheel and every effort will be exerted to close out all winter goods. While all the goods are not here represented the missing ones are equally attractive. Spring goods are already arriving and room is needed. However, if you are ready to start with your spring sewing the new lines of Embroideries in Cambrics, Nainsooks and Swisses are here in profusion. The new White Goods surpass any showing heretofore made in Raleigh and prices are in keeping with the quality.

ALL ABOUT GOLDSBORO

The New Preacher at St. Paul's Methodist Church

HE TALKS ABOUT TALENTS

A Furniture Man Arrives from Michigan to Take Charge of the Table Factory—A Farmer Citizen Returns After a Sojourn in the Penitentiary—Amateur Circus Performer Gets Off Cheap

Goldsboro, N. C., Jan. 7.—The enlarging of the Post from a 6 column to a 7 column paper and the improvement in type is a move along right lines and will be appreciated by the reading public.

Mrs. Joseph H. Pritchard, nee Holt, widow of the late Joseph H. Pritchard, who died at Petersburg, Va., on the 31st ult., will return to North Carolina to the home of her parents at Merry Oaks.

Alex. P. McLean, the clever young Post representative, passed through today going north.

Among the members of the Legislature passing through today for Raleigh I noticed George L. Morton of New Hanover and N. W. Taylor of Carteret.

The funeral of the late Governor Brogden, held from St. Paul's church, yesterday at 2 P. M., was largely attended, the interment following in Willow Dale cemetery.

Our Methodists brethren are delighted with their new pastor, At St. Paul's church, Rev. M. Bradshaw, the new pastor, preached two most excellent sermons yesterday. At the morning hour his text was Exodus 4:1-5. Theme the proper use of talents. The rod referred to in the passage, the preacher said, might have been a shepherd's staff or a rod from off the mountain...

side. Nevertheless God asked what is in thy hand, etc. That rod indicated to Moses that he would succeed in all his undertakings of taking the children of Israel out of bondage. He illustrated by saying every man has a rod; that rod a talent given him; that rod would protect, it might be the rod of the pen, needle or hoe, and it was the duty of every man to work with it. He enlarged upon the fact that if man failed to use the rod a talent given him it became of no use to him and possibly the time might arise when he would like to call into requisition the talent, but his desire would be of no avail. Mr. Bradshaw said he came to this people with the hope of doing good, to up-build the cause of Christ and hoped to have them help to that end. That his labors might not be fruitless. He made a most favorable impression upon his people and will doubtless do a good work here.

Charles Kelley of Grand Rapids, Mich., an experienced furniture man, has arrived to assume the duties of superintendent of the Goldsboro Table Company, whose large plant will soon be in readiness for the machinery. The company is pretty well fixed in raw material, having already several millions of feet of hand wood lumber. I regret to chronicle the serious illness of General W. G. Lewis, who is suffering an attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Henderson Bridges, too, is quite sick. Last evening she suffered a stroke of paralysis and has not spoken since.

Charles Manual, colored, has located in the city again. Several years ago he was convicted of an attempt to wreck the Atlantic Coast Line "Shoo-oo" near the southern limits of the city, and sentenced to a term in the penitentiary. Having served his term he returns to the community.

Harry Dobson left today on an extended visit to Augusta, Ga. Will Arrington, colored, was up before the court on the great dispenser this morning on the charge of being disorderly and using profane language on the Sabbath day. Arrington hails from the county of Nash and under the persuasive influence of John Barbeyron seemed more bent on having a little fun than he was to create a disturbance. Having secured an empty barrel he placed it in the yard of one Annie Adams and offered to wager money he could leap into and out of the barrel—quite a crowd gathered. Arrington failed to get up a bet, but did create considerable laughter. One witness said that Arrington was playing monkey for them. He was ordered away, but before going Arrington gave them a few lessons in the dancing art. The great dispenser listened carefully to the evidence and thought soberly all the while. At the conclusion he put on that stern look and said to Arrington "The next time you want to run a circus you had best take out a license and be careful to exhibit on week days. This being the first time you have appeared before this court as an offender, I suspend judgment on payment of costs. $2.85, Chief" and Arrington looked as blank as an exploded cartridge. "Next!" shouted the dispenser. Aias; there was no next and the temple was soon deserted.

Robert B. Shaw went to Raleigh today. To whom it may concern: I wish to say that "My Daughter-in-Law" will be in the city on Thursday evening next, 10th inst. "My Daughter-in-Law" is making a tour of the State and is being greeted by large, appreciative audiences.

Senator B. F. Aycock will soon be a resident of our city. Theo. Herkert of the New York World was in town today. Miss Letitia Evans, a former ward of the Orphans' Home, but now a pupil of the Greensboro Female College, after a pleasant visit here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Harrison, during the holidays, left today for Greensboro to resume her studies.

Rev. M. Bradshaw conducts the services at the Second Baptist church Tuesday evening, subject, "The Gospel for the Church of the Twentieth Century." The meeting tonight at St. John's church was a pleasant beginning of the week of prayer.

Charles Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Zachary of Raleigh were at the Kennon today. Fred and Charles Swindell have returned to Trinity College.

Members of the North Carolina Society of Colonial Dames met at the Exchange Hotel on the afternoon of Thursday, the 3d instant, with a view to forming a Local Circle, or sub-division of the State society. An adjourned meeting will be held at the same place on Friday next, at 11 a. m., when all Raleigh members of the society are requested and those of the vicinity are invited to attend. Ladies expecting to join the society at an early date and those intending to transfer their membership to it are also invited.

Cold Steel or Death. "There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation. Mrs. I. B. Hun, of Lime Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvellous power of Electric Bitters to cure Stomach and Liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, took seven bottles, now weighs more than she has ever. It's more and still better than ever. It's positive guarantee to cure Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c at all drug stores.
