

THE TRIAL OF MANGUM

The Case for Prosecution Closed Yesterday Morning.

ONE NEW WITNESS

Rowland O'Neal Said Mangum Spoke of Dead Man as "Fresh Meat" - Defendant Testifies.

Very good progress is being made by the Wake County Superior Court in the trial of Samuel Mangum for the killing of Pete Griffin.

The evidence hearing upon the case was published in detail during the progress of the preliminary hearing before Squire Marcom in December last.

Briefly stated, the history of the case is that the killing occurred not far from Mangum's residence in the Falls of the Neuse neighborhood, on Sunday night, October 7, the general trend of the evidence being that Griffin and a companion came to Mangum's house, drinking, and abused his wife and acted in a very disorderly way.

The next day after the killing, Dr. Moore of Apex, the county coroner, held an inquest, the result of which was a verdict to the effect that Pete Griffin came to his death at the hands of Samuel Mangum, who shot him in self-defense.

The preliminary hearing was before Squire Marcom, and resulted in the commitment of Mangum to jail without bond.

Oscar O'Neal, who was also charged with being an accomplice, was held without bail. Later habeas corpus proceedings before Justice Montgomery resulted in the affirmation of the magistrate's judgment in refusing bail for Mangum.

Other witnesses for the prosecution were Jeff Tilley, Noah Harris, Will Jackson and Will O'Neal.

The Martin Embezzlement - The case of W. H. Martin, for embezzling State funds, is set for trial Monday, but will have to go over until the Mangum trial is settled.

WAKE FOREST MONDAY

Senators Cross Bats with Baptist Boys Again

Monday the Raleigh and Wake Forest ball nine try conclusions again at the fair grounds. The game will be called at 4 p. m. The Baptist Female University girls will be out in force.

Tuesday the Senators go to Chapel Hill, where they play the Varsity nine. Later the Varsity team will play the local team here.

Eddie Person, who was injured in the eye last week by a "bucking" ball, is improving. He will not be able to play for several days.

Phil Meade, who will cover short, will not join the Senators until they go to Chapel Hill Tuesday.

Those who have made subscriptions to the Athletic Associations are requested to make payment at once. The management has gone to great expense to equip and get the team together.

REGISTER OF DEEDS OFFICE

Capt. Bernard and His Assistants Making Desirable Improvement.
Capt. J. J. Bernard, the popular and capable Register of Deeds, is making some very acceptable improvements in the equipment of the vault of the register's office.

THOSE WILD OPTICS

Is it not time our "city fathers" should harvest the large and odoriferous crop of wild onions now ready for the reaper on Nash square? A farmer in passing the square noted that several good grasses, including Kentucky blue, and Japan and red clover are springing up and may destroy this valuable crop, before any of the city's $1.25 per day hands can get the onions out.

IT IS WARMING UP

Municipal Contest Absorbing Question.

WYNNE WITHDRAWS

Powell and Pogue are Candidates Now - Plenty of Candidates for the City Offices - Primary Tuesday.

Local politics have reached the simmering stage. There is a wealth of candidates for the various municipal offices and the politicians are as active as bees in behalf of their favorites.

The majority contest has narrowed down to two candidates as the result of the withdrawal of Mr. J. Stan. Wynne. The race is between Mayor A. M. Powell and Mr. Joseph E. Pogue.

While interest centers largely in the race for mayor there are lively contests for the other city offices and the aldermanic nominations in the various wards. The primary is to be held Tuesday when the Democratic voters will name the new administration.

For city tax collector there are only two candidates. They are Mr. C. F. Lamsden and Mr. George T. Norwood. For city clerk, Mr. Ham F. Smith, the present officer has as his opponent Rev. J. L. Foster.

The candidates for aldermen are numerous and the contests in most of the precincts are growing warm. Cards and announcements are the order of the day. In the first division of the first ward, the candidates are Mr. W. E. Jones, Mr. C. D. Arthur and Mr. J. P. Wyatt.

The second division of the first furnishes as candidates Mr. L. B. Peggam, Mr. C. C. McDonald and Mr. Andrew Jack. Mr. Lynn Wilder, Mr. W. W. Parish and Mr. Henry T. Hicks are the candidates in the first division of the second ward.

The candidates in the second division of the second ward are Mr. J. C. Drevier, Mr. A. B. Andrews, Jr., and Mr. F. P. Harding. In the first division of the third ward H. H. Crocker, C. F. Cooke, P. B. Griffin, G. G. Forsyth and J. E. Potter constitute the declared aldermanic timber.

The second division of the third ward is always the scene of a lively contest. The candidates are Jos. S. Correll, J. S. Upehurch, W. A. Fulcher, L. C. Bagwell. The first division of the fourth ward furnishes R. C. Redford, D. S. Hamilton, L. G. Rogers, J. A. Mills.

In the second division of the fourth ward there are only two candidates, Messrs. Maxwell Gorman and C. B. Barbee. Mr. Wynne's card withdrawing from mayoralty contest is given herewith: On Friday morning I published the following card:

"The action of the Executive Committee on the eve of the primary, in adopting a rule that the candidate for mayor receiving the highest vote should have the nomination, makes it very hard for me to decide just what I should do. I think this rule a very unfortunate one, to say the least. If I should receive six hundred votes, Mr. Powell 500 and Mr. Pogue 500, there would be 1,100 votes against me, and yet I would be declared the nominee. The 1,100 voters would feel that I was not rightly entitled to the nomination. In my opinion a candidate has no right to the nomination until he receives a majority of the votes cast at a primary or a majority of the delegates in a convention. Should the nomination come to me under the above circumstances I should feel that the majority, whose will the primary was intended to secure, was not represented. The rule should be such as will secure to the nominee a majority of the votes cast.

"I am not criticizing the action of the committee, but am solicited only for such policy as will promote and not tend to disturb party harmony. I think the plurality rule will drive rather than harmonize the party.

"In Wilmington the lowest man was dropped and the second primary was held, which is the fair way. "According to the above figures, the 600 voters would name the mayor and the 1,100 would have no voice therein. "Gentlemen of the committee, this ought not to be so. "I am not afraid of the result, but I do not care to have the friends of the other candidates saying that I received the nomination, but ought not to have had it."

The Democrats of Raleigh have been getting along with their primaries for many years, without this "legalized," "swearing," "plurality" business, and I can see no good reason for it now. It is going to bring about trouble and dissatisfaction. It is undemocratic, unjust, unfair and unequal for.

7/0f the scores and hundreds of men who expressed themselves yesterday and today, only one was heard to approve the new plan. I am also inclined to the opinion that the oath and penalty connected with the legalized primary is odious to a large number of Democratic voters, and from approbation of the same, I fear that a full expression of their choice will not be made.

"Having made up my mind that I would not accept the nomination unless I received a majority, either at the primary or in a convention, I have decided to withdraw from the race under the present rules. "I desire to return my most sincere thanks to those who have been giving me their support, and assure them of my grateful appreciation of their confidence.

The Evolution of the Fountain Pen.
The Fountain Pen has, at last, passed its tadpole stage and shed its appendage the inconvenient and unnecessary glass filler.

The Crocker Pen is unquestionably the most satisfactory Fountain Pen now in existence. The self-filling arrangement allowing a renewal of ink supply from any ink bottle easily and quickly without the use of the glass-filler.

To fill the Crocker expel the air from the rubber tube, insert the pen section in ink bottle and the ink flows in by suction. No time is wasted, nor are the fingers soiled with ink. Insulated by the air space between the hard rubber barrel and the soft rubber tube, there is no air expansion nor ink expulsion; no blotting, nor overflowing ("sweating") in the pocket.

The Crocker Pen is simplicity itself - Clean, Convenient, Comfortable. The soft rubber tube is made of the purest gum and will last for years and can be easily renewed.

Inquire of your newsdealer, stationer, jeweller or druggist, or call on Mr. Crocker at the Branson House. A few good salesmen wanted.

History of the Impeachment Trial.
We are glad to learn that Mr. Alex. J. Field, of the Raleigh bar, will publish a complete history of the great impeachment trial if he can see that the demand for the book will justify its publication. It should be done by all means. The law does not provide for the publication of all the arguments in the official report, and unless it is done by private enterprise we will soon lose some of the ablest arguments ever made upon our Constitution.

Mr. Field proposes to publish all the speeches together with a history of the trial, a table of cases cited in a complete index. The work will also contain all the tone cuts of the court of impeachment and the principal actors in the great trial. In the undertaking he will have the aid and co-operation of the managers and their counsel and the counsel for the respondents. The work will have all the accuracy and authority of an official report besides many other features, which will greatly increase its completeness and usefulness.

Mr. Field is admirably suited to the work. He is a lawyer of ability and has been a close observer of the whole proceeding from the introduction of the resolution in the House to the verdict and judgment of the Court of impeachment. He is secretary of the State Literary and Historical Association, and is in close touch with the literary and historical spirit of the State.

He requests us to ask all who will likely purchase the work at a reasonable price to address him at Raleigh, N. C., at once, as the work cannot be done unless the demand is sufficient to cover the cost of publication.
