"THE BROKEN SWORD"

Col. Worthington's Book Is in Great Demand.

IT IS HIGHLY PRAISED

Kinsey Seminary Placed on a Solid Basis—The First National Bank Will Increase Its Capital.

Correspondence of The Morning Post.

Wilson, N. C., Nov. 1.

Col. Worthington's masterly production "The Broken Sword" is in great demand, and every mail brings many orders for it. As we said in a former communication it is one of the ablest, strongest, most powerful books that we have ever seen, and it is not only a book of real ability and power, but it is a true and graphic and faithful picture of the reconstruction era, bringing out a life like vividness the scenes and incidents of that black and iniquitous page in our country's history. It is couched in chaste and ornate language, many of his sentences blossoming out with rarest flowers of poetic beauty and emitting a fragrance of sweetest felicity. It is indeed the work of a master, and a gem of beauty, for in ability and felicity of expression and graphicness of portrayal it can not be surpassed. We heard one of the ablest lawyers and finest literary men in the state say that "it far surpasses in merit and beauty any book yet written on this subject."

We have just seen a telegram from Kinston, stating that the Christian Missionary convention, which is now in session in that place, had accepted the proposition made by the trustees of the Kinsey Seminary, and immediately raised upon the spot five thousand dollars towards its payment. This movement promises much for Wilson, for the Christian church, zealous in good works and full of burning enthusiasm, will now put this institution of learning upon that sound, solid financial basis which will insure its permanence, and bring it the insight of brightest prosperity.

A surveying party is out, taking the width and length and elevation of certain streets in Wilson as a preliminary step for their pavement, a thing most eagerly looked for by our whole community.

The new hotel, which is being erected by Solicitor Daniels, will soon be completed and ready for occupancy. It is commodious and well arranged building, and is most desirably situated, being in the heart of the town and in an excellent neighborhood. It will be an elegant addition to our beautiful town. The enterprising and liberal minded J. J. Privett, the excellent manager of the opera house, is having new scenery placed therein. F. A. Gordon of Savannah, Ga., is doing the artistic work. It is a much needed improvement and will be hailed with real delight by his patrons.

Mr. Richard Blount, formerly of this place but now a resident of Paris in France, having established in that city and fashionable city a most prosperous business where he is rapidly accumulating the ducaats, has been spending the past week in this place with his sister, Mrs. Vene Davis. "Dick" met with a most cordial welcome from his hosts of friends, for he holds a warm place in many hearts.

We heard a house contractor say this morning that there were more buildings now going up in Wilson than ever before in its history, and some of them are real elegant and handsome residences.

The stockholders of the First National Bank of Wilson have voted to increase the capital stock to one hundred thousand dollars, an eloquent evidence of its prosperity and strong hold upon the confidence of the people. This bank is admirably managed, for its accomplished president, Col. John F. Bruton is not only a most excellent lawyer but he is an able financier, being a man of most common sense and endowed with those polished manners which make him so agreeable. And he is most efficiently assisted by the very polite and capable cashier, Mr. W. E. Warren, a most accommodating official. Its directorate is composed of some of our most prominent and successful citizens: John F. Bruton, George Hackney, W. E. Warren, Jonas Oettinger, Jas. E. Woodard, F. W. Farnes and W. J. Davis. The surplus and undivided profits of the bank at present are over $20,000.

ALARM AT MIDNIGHT

Goldsboro Startled by an Insignificant Fire.

OLD TREES MUST GO

Two Locomotives Run in for Repairs—All the Town Celebrated Park Day—Elegant Social Function.

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 1.—Special.—The alarm of fire last night about 11:30 o'clock first came from the big whistle at the Borden Cotton Mill. The deep, gross, mournful tones of which disturbed the midnight quiet of the city and filled the minds of the awakened citizens with a feeling of awe; then came the loud clanging of the fire bell in the tower, the peculiar and piercing strokes of which denoted the number from which the alarm was turned in and soon the horses' hoofs could be heard on the pavement and the sharp rattling sound of the gongs on the hose wagons. With the fire department the crowd of curiosity seekers, was surging toward the cotton mills, expecting soon to see the flames leaping toward the skies, but who were doomed to disappointment, as the fire had long been extinguished. The cause for all this commotion at such an unseasonable hour of the night was the lighting of a pile of ashes and old coal near the cotton mill, which at first looked as if it might assume serious proportions and led to the alarm to be turned in.

The injunction of the post, "Woodman spare that tree," is not being heeded by our city authorities to-day. They are taking down the old elm trees in Walnut street in front of the mayor's office. The trees are partly decayed and have no value as makers of shade. They are "old and ugly and only in the way," and the city is doing the proper thing in removing such unsightly objects from the street.

The Acme Machine Works received two more locomotives this morning for repair. One came from the Cape Fear and Northern Railroad over the Southern Railway last night with its engineer, Capt. W. J. Angier, at the throttle. The engine came in under its own steam and has been lodged in a booth in the round house of the Acme Machine Works, where extensive repairs will be made. The engine has six driving wheels, weighs 50 tons and cost $10,000. Capt. Angier's brother, Mr. G. W. Angier, is general manager, secretary and treasurer of the road, and Mr. B. N. Duke is president. The road starts from Apex on the S. A. L. and will eventually reach Fayetteville.

The other locomotive which came in this morning was from the Aberdeen and Rockfish Railroad, for which the Acme Machine Works repaired an engine some weeks ago.

The Park Day celebration was a great success this afternoon. All the military and civic organizations were in the parade, which was witnessed by several thousand people at the park, where the following programme was observed in detail:

- 3 p. m.—Exercises opened by music by K. of P. Band. Prayer by Rev. F. W. Faries. Music. Address of welcome, by Mayor Hood. Ten minutes talk by Col. Jos. E. Robinson. Music. Ten minutes talk by Lionel Weil. Music. Ten minutes talk by Col. A. C. Davis. Music. Benediction by Rev. J. J. Barker. The military and fire department, preceded by the K. of P. Band, passed in review before the mayor and board of aldermen.

In the death of their infant son Newton, who died at 2 o'clock this morning, Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Daughtry, who reside in the Webtown suburb of Goldsboro, have the sympathy of their hosts of friends. The funeral was held from the home this afternoon.

The death of Mr. Tom Johnson occurred at his home five miles in the country last night. He was 29 years of age. He leaves a young and devoted wife.

One of the most delightful social functions of the season took place last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Weil, when that popular host and hostess entertained a number of friends complimentary to their niece, Miss Gertrude Weil, who made her debut. Their hospitable home was a scene of luxury and elegance and was a veritable dream of beauty. The music was furnished by the Hollowbush orchestra. Tempting viands were served to regale the joyous company.

LITTLETON FEMALE COLLEGE

Hallowe'en Party Given Thursday Night—Concert Monday Night

Littleton, N. C., Nov. 1. Correspondence of The Morning Post. Next Monday evening the alumnae of Littleton Female College, assisted by the elocution and music faculty, will give a concert in the college chapel. An especially fine programme has been prepared for the occasion and all who attend are promised a rare treat in music—both vocal and instrumental—and in elocution.

Last evening the young ladies of the college enjoyed a delightful Hallowe'en party. Fairies, Gypsies, hobgoblins, dwarfs and giants were present, revealing the past, present and future. Old-fashioned games and that indispensable feature—refreshments—had an important part and played it well. All too soon came the hour for dispersing and more than one girl was heard to remark: "I wish every night were Hallowe'en."

The work of the college is moving along very nicely. Several new students have recently arrived, making a total enrollment of about 150.

Hobbed the Grave

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia was the subject, is narrated by him, as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying Electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts., guaranteed, at all drug stores.

HARRELL-M'ULLEN

Popular Young Couple of Mt. Olive Married Wednesday

Mt. Olive, N. C., Nov. 1. Correspondence of The Morning Post. Mr. Z. Vance Harrell and Miss Euphemia M'ullen were happily married at the home of the bride's parents Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. The ceremony was very impressively performed by Rev. J. M. Curaway. The wedding was a quiet affair, as only a small number of close relatives were present at the marriage. The groom is a gentleman of sterling character, and the bride is a beautiful and lovely young lady.

SONDLEY FOR ASSOCIATE JUSTICE

Asheville Lawyers Give Him an Unsolicited Testimonial

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 1.—Special.—The name of F. A. Sondley, Esq., one of the most talented and able lawyers in the United States, was suggested some time past for the position of associate justice of the Supreme Court of the State. Today the following statement was signed by members of the Asheville bar: "We, the undersigned members of the Asheville bar, state: "1st. That we have known Mr. F. A. Sondley, of Asheville, for years—some of us for many years past. "2d. That he has the highest character for honesty and integrity, and justly merits it. "3d. That we do not believe any man in the State is better fitted to be associate justice of the Supreme Court than he. "4th. That the nomination of Mr. Sondley for that position will be urged by his friends. "5th. That he has not been consulted in reference to this statement, and does not know that any such was ever contemplated. Mr. Sondley is a man of middle age, whose exceptional talents have been recognized by clients and cases of the highest class. There is no man here in whom the people have more implicit confidence."

Bryan on White House Dinner

(Special to The Washington Post.) Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 31.—In his Commencement address tomorrow W. J. Bryan devoted a page and a half to the Roosevelt-White House dinner incident. He says, in part: "The action of President Roosevelt in inviting Prof. Booker T. Washington to dine at the White House was unfortunate, to say the least. It will excite a question among the people of a race feeling already strained to the utmost. The race question, so far as it concerns our colored population, presents itself in four phases: First, the legal right of the black man; second, his educational opportunities; third, his political privileges, and fourth, his social status. Mr. Bryan argues that the negro enjoys all these privileges except political, which is partially curtailed, and social. He concludes by saying: "The President may have invited Mr. Washington without considering the question that it raises, and Mr. Washington may have accepted from a feeling that an invitation from the President was equivalent to a command. It is to be hoped that both of them will, upon reflection, realize the wisdom of abandoning their purpose to wipe out race lines if they entertain such a purpose. "Professor Washington's work as an educator will be greatly impaired if he allows it to be understood that his object is to initiate the members of his race into the social clubs of the whites, and he will do injustice to those of his own color if he turns their thoughts away from intellectual and moral developments to the less substantial advantages."

Hon. H. G. Connor

(Elder P. D. Gold in Wilson Times.) A pure legal standard, the laws expounded in the enlightened, righteous spirit of justice and equity, relieving every unjust oppression, strengthening every weakness of the body politic, and distributing the principles of justice equally to every channel of useful business, should be sought and aimed at by our voters. The highest function of office to accomplish this is our Supreme Court. Therefore to all this excellent position with the fullest measure of legal learning, hedged with uprightness of character and integrity of purpose, calls for our wisest and purest men. Among these the Hon. H. G. Connor is reckoned. Hence his name is justice of our Supreme Court. Having known him for thirty years, residing in the same town, acquainted well with his family, his habits of life, his legal learning and his integrity of character, I want to state that there are none within my knowledge better fitted to grace this honored position than he is. P. D. GOLD.

"How Is This for High?"

(Oxford Ledger.) Friday proved the most exciting day of the season on account of the sharp competition and increased demands for all grades of tobacco, and bidding was quick and strong. The sale at the Owen Warehouse was an exciting one, and buyers and farmers crowded around the prettiest row of cutters that has been on the market this season and some 2,000 pounds sold for $24 per hundred up. How is that for high? They were raised by farmers of Vance county.

Crop Short, Prices High

(Wilson Times.) The tobacco crop is short and is bringing good prices. Those who expected at first that prices were too high have seen them continue on the ascending scale with scarcely a cessation.

WM. E. FOUNTAIN DIES AT TARBORO

Tarboro, N. C., Nov. 1.—Special.—Wm. E. Fountain, one of the most prominent and popular citizens of this place, died early this morning of Bright's disease, aged fifty years. In every industrial enterprise of recent years he was a leading spirit, being the founder of a bank and cotton mills, the latter bearing his name. He was mayor eight years and county treasurer two years. The funeral took place this afternoon from the Methodist church, of which he was a member. After services at the church the remains were taken on a special train to Rocky Mount for interment. His death is deeply and generally deplored. He was regarded by all classes as a most valuable citizen.

Some Are Better Than Last Year

(Tarboro Southerner.) Some farms are making better yields of cotton than last year. Judge Howard's Paola farm has already sold house receipts 35 per cent in excess of last year's total. His neighbors say that W. M. Edmondson is making a record breaker, and this is saying much.

Editor's Awful Plight

F. M. Higgins, Editor Seneca (Ill.) News, was afflicted for years with Piles that no doctor remedy helped until he tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes two boxes wholly cured him. It's the surest Pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25 cents. Sold by all druggists.
